PORT. Serious Revelations.

THE WAR COMMITTEE'S RE-

The War Committee, in their anxiety to annihilate Gen. McClellan, incantional told some telling truths upon the conduct and failures of the Administration. This, the committee, with all their time and ingenuity, could not very well avoid. If McClellan was the slow coach they If McClellan was the slow country on in These patriots are intensely attached the Administration; and are quite liberally the Administration; and are quite liberally he was relieved of his command, the committee in exposing his alleged procrasti: nation, could not, in reason, be very complimentary to the powers which directed his movements. So in alluding to the means, and commenting upon our failures, the committee, apparently without knowing it, administers to their own Adminisargue:

HON. THOS. M. HOWE. This highly esteemed citizen, in a wel nunication, in yesterday's Gazette, with draws from the contest for the next Re publican nomination for Governor of our State. We have been auticipating this for some time, because we felt confident that a gentleman of his high sense of honor and his sensibility could not be induced to enter into competition with such an individual as John Covode. As soon as the Gazette spoke in commendation o that wretched bush whacker in connection with the gubernatorial chair of Pennsylvania, we felt at once that Mr. How would decline being considered a candi didate for nomination.

ALL THE GUILTY.

The Gazette has an "esteemed corres pondent'' in Philadelphia, who, among other things informs us that the Union League house, on Chestuut street, is one of our institutions. It is the resort of men of wealth and refinement, and presents a marked contrast to the den on Walnut street, where; every Saturday night, a mixed assemblage is doomed to isten to dreary distribes against the Union, by the magnates of the Democratic party. These gentlemen of wealth and refinement are the contractors and office-holders under the Administration; such nice, smooth and well bred chaps as have been doing such clever things for so long a time in the New York Custom House .disposed to every Democrat who is green enough to join their Union League .-Those who will not, are, of course, copperheads and traitors.

The Philadelphia League must presen magnitude of our resources in men and a "marked contrast" to the gatherings of the Democracy in that city; the one composed of bloated and pompous contractors, assessors, collectors and army stitration the following mortal stabs. No local bills were passed in the Senate to day, and I hear of none in the House. Respectfully.

From this dignifying and ennobling influence Irish character is to some extent bereft. Irish nationality has passed away. No Irish flag floats over Irish soil. Doomed to battle against a stronger and more populous land—to engage in a sterile contest, with little hope of final deliverance, yet though often vanquished it has never been wholly subdued. This fact should teach the lesson that there are among men certain differences to that in which the Committee endeavor to involve Gen. McClellan. One of the three, according to Gen. Burnside, was guilty of be traying to the enemy the secrets of the Government. This is the conclusion of the War Committee, not ours.
