Serenade to Col. Hambright--. Speech of Mayor Sanderson, &c. Last evening a number of the persona. friends and admirers of Col. Hambright of the gallant 79th Regiment, now on a brief visit to his home in this city, complimented him with a flattering serenade, having secured the services of the Fenci bles' Band, which was formerly attached to the regiment. The notice of the seren ade was not made general, elsethere would have been a very large turn out of citizens to do honor to the leader of our heroic 79th, regardless of the unfavorable state the weather. The band reached the Colonel's residence about half past nine o'clock in the midst of a heavy shower, and began with the beautiful and appropriate air of "Home again from a foreign priate air of "Home again from a foreign shore," which was followed by several actional pirs. The company then entered the house, when Mayor Sanderson spoke an address of welcome, in substance as

Col. Hambright : Your fellow citizens of Lancaster have done me the honor to constitute me the medium through which to express the gratification at again meeting you at your own home and fireside after an absence of more than eighteen months in the military service of the country. Rest assured, sir, we are all glad to see you, and bid you a heartfelt welcome

Inquest Held.

We have not been disappointed in the We have not been disappointed in the gallant Seventy Ninth Regiment, nor in you, Sir, their brave and accomplished commander. In your long and weary marches through Lentucky and Tennesse—in your exposure to the summer's heat, and winter's cold, as well as in the gallant bearing of yourself and men on the bloody field of Chaplin Hills, and at Murbleschoro, you nobly sustained your reputation and added new lustre to the undying fame which will ever be attached to ing fame which will ever be attached to the Lancaster County Regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers. In the battle of Chap-lin Hills, when other regiments became lin Hills, when other regiments became panic stricken and ignominiously fled from the field, thus endangering the whole army, you, Sir, held the Seventy-Ninth to tis work in the midst of carnage and death, without flinching or wavering, and turned. the work in the midst of carnege and death, without flinching or wavering, and turned the fortune of the day in our favor. Had it not been for the heroic bravery and unflinching determination of yourself and men in that terrible conflict, in all human probability a disastrous defeat, instead of a splendid victory, would have been the fate of the Union army. All honor, then, to the brave Seventy Ninth and its heroic commander. And the people of Lancas. ommander. And the people of Lancas-

In future this will become quite a business, giving an article of ice from a region where it does not often get over warm, and paying under your command, and may you, one and all, at the close of this terrible and unnatural war; he restored to families and friends—to the sweet and endearing asso-ciations of home. God bless you. Col. Hambright, who had not been made aware of the proposed visit of his friends, gracefully acknowledged the coupliment paid to him; remarked that he was not in the habit of making speeches, and that i he were, his heart was too full for utter ance on this occasion. His friends had taken him altogether by surprise, and he could only thank them again for this kind expression of regard for himself and the brave men under his commaud. At the conclusion of these ceremonies many came forward and shook the Colone by the hand, while the band performed a number of saultful airs. -Lancaster Ex-

Lady Jackson, after being absent for a long while, will arrive at Cincinnati on Monday night or Tuesday morning. We brought the remains of Major C. S. Hays, in charge of Lieutenant Wm. Jessup, from Memphis to Cairo, to be taken from there to Elizabethtown for interment. We took on board at Columbus the prisoner (23) taken at Jonesboro, Illinois for resisting the arrest of deserters. They will be brought to Cheinnati and handed over to General Burn side,

The river continues to rise, with 8 feet 2½ inches in the canal, and six feet two inches on the falls. The weather is warm and plessant. There is now sufficient water on the falls for the largest boats. A large concourse of people witnessed the descent of a flatbat over the falls yesterday, with two women at the oar and a man steering. When the boat got in the rapid the "fail ones" took to the roof of the irail bark, apparently alarmed, but their fears were soon bani-hed, and the little craft floated gallantly down the stream with two "petticouts" at the mas, representing, we suppose, a flag of distress. The crowd on the levee enjoyed the scene hugely. Lenisville.

Dear Sir-I would state that I was induced to use BRANDRETH'S PILLS, through the recommendation of John R, Swift, of Croton, Westohester county, who was entirely restored to health by their use, He was nek for some two years, vary costive and dyspoptic, and he tried everything but was not relieved. Finally, he took one Brandreth's Pill every day for a week, and a dose of six Pills every day for three days, and then took one Pill every day, with an occasional dose of six. In one month he was able to go to work, and in three months he well gaining 40 pounds in weight.
