home use. The stock in Grat hands is ample for all necessary purposes. Dried Fruit—The roceipts were about equal to the demand, and in some instances a slight advance was asked. The market was fairly supplied. Grain—The market seems to have come to a stand-still. Certain descriptions are beginning to be less inquired for. The fact was that the rates were too high. Although there was no decline, dealers refused to take hold at the asking rates. Flour—It is now evident that holders must concede before sales; to any extent can be made, as buyers have made up their minds to refrain from purchasing at the gr sent figures.

Flour—The market was very quiet, the sales being limited to small lots to meet the wants of the local trade. The stock in first hands is not the local trade trade.
