Stepleton, the Murderer of Mary Burke.

We yesterday visited this unfortunate man in his cell in the jail. He is rather a fine looking man, and is the last person we should judge from his looks that would be guilty of such a fiendish murder as the one just perpetrated. From him we learn ed that his name is Stepleton, and not Stapleton as arroneously printed in the other notices. He informed others that he was totally ignorant of having committed the offense, and had not the slightest rec-ollection of any difficulty. It has been Many persons when crazed with liquor Many persons when crazed with inductivally perfectly straight, and to a casual observer would not appear drunk so long as they remain on their feet and are in motion, and this was probably his case, for we are informed that when the officers went to his bed and attempted to arouse

Our streets are infested with a species of beggars, for whom some provision should be made. A girl about thirteen years of age accosted us in the street, and begged in the most biteous tones for money to buy bread. Upon questioning her she said her father was a soldier, and that her mother lived in Bayardstown and made a scanty living by sewing and washing.—

In advance of $200 on the old salary.—

They then adjourned.

Still Another.

Mr. Isaac Gallett, boat builder of Allegency city, was injured while on his way from Columbus, Ohio, to this city. The train that Mr. Gullett was on came in contact with a wood train, and as he was her mother lived in Bayardstown and made a scanty living by sewing and washing.—
Think of it; a soldier's wife wearing the life out of her to support a family, and the children begging charity in the streets, insulted by the rude, thoughtless or vicious, while the husband and father is absent fighting the battles of his country. Can anything be more humiliating! But suppose her story was a fabrication, and that ther father was not a soldier, or her mother her father was not a soldier, or her mother a seamstress and washerwoman but a couple of drunken vagabonds who send their child forth in order that they may obtain the means to buy liquor. Ought there not to be some measures taken to re-lieve these children from a life of infamy lieve these children from a life of infamy and crime? Suppose there were stringent laws that made it incumbent upon the police to take charger of all of these little beggars, and place them in a house of reformation, or the house of refuge, how many might be reclaimed, and become useful members of society. We noticed a little girl, apparently not more than six years of age, haunting the corner of Smithfield and Fifth streets. What a fearful future lies before that child. The children field and Fifth streets. What a fearful future lies before that child. The children are not to blame; the parents are responsible, and they should be made to feel the penalty of thus exposing their innocent offspring to the wiles and snares of this wicked world. We do not intend to write a homily, but merely make these remarks in order that some philanthropist may act in the premises, and suggest something for the relief of these little unfortunates.

ap 14:dawswc Pacts about Brandreth's Pills. Westchester Co., N. Y., Oct. 23, 1872.]
Mr. G. Tes Evok Sheldon, Editor Sing Mang Mr. G. The Bruk Sheldon, Editor Sing Sing Beyellicins:

Dear Sir—I would state that I was induced to use BRANDRETH'S PILLS, through the recommendation of John R. Swift, of Groton, Westakester county, who was entirely restored to health by their use. He was sink for some two years, very costive and dyspeptic, and he tried everything but was not relieved. Finally, he took one Brandreth's Pill every day for a week, and a dose of six Pills every day, with an occasional dose of six. In one month he was able to go to work, and in three months he well, gaining 40 pounds in weight.

Yours truly,

ED WARD PURDY.

Westohester Coury, 83:

Edward Purdy being duly sworn, says that he resides in the town of New Castle; that come years ago he was very sick with a sore on his leg, which had been running for over five years; that he was also much distressed by a pain in his chest, and besides very costive and dyspeptic; that after trying various remedies and many physicians, he commenced using Brandreth's Pills, six to eight three times a week, and at the end of one month, the sore on his leg healed, and at the end of two months he was suincipy cure of costiveness, dyspepsia and pain, and has remained well ever since.

BWARD PURDY

Sworn to before me, this light day of Oct. 1862.
