Gun Testing. We yesterday afternoon went down to Economy to witness the testing of a new breech loading rifled gun, the invention of Mr. W. B. Smith, of this city. The testing took place a short distance out of Economy under the superintence of Lieut. Babbitt; Capt. W. J. Moorhead, Mr. Rick et and and other gentlemen hairs present etson and other gentlemen being presen The gun was a six pounder, the ball thrown being a 15 pound conical shot. The target, which was nothing but a mere flag or strip-of muslin fastened to a pole, was placed on the south side of the river, distant about two miles, the ground sloping at an angle of about ten degrees. The first shot fired fell about ten feet short in a direct line with the staff. The succeeding five short full ceeding five shots fell within a space of enfect. The amount of powder used was one and a half pounds, and the elevation the gun the first shot five degrees, after which the elevation was slightly increased. The first shot, had this elevation been given, would have cut the target down. At the seventh shot it was ascertained that At the seventh shot it was ascertained that the balls were too large, and the firing was discontinued until some future time, when other balls could be procured. At the next test, shell will also be used, and long and short range thoroughly tested. Thus far the test has proved highly satisfactory. In this gun Mr. Smith claim

In the latter guns the screw has to be the entire size of the outscrew has to be the enure size of the out-side of the breach of the gun, and in a large pieze of ordinance, it is so large as to become unmanageable, while in the Smith gun, the mandril is not as large as the bore, but on its and is a copper cap which makes a loose joint, which upon firing the gun becomes tight, but loosens itself again as soon as the consussion ceases, sciing upon the same principle as the sucker of a pump. Mr. Smith first conceived the principle of his gun during the Mexican war, and has paid more or less attention to it ever since, but has never got it to work to his complete satis-

Destructive Fire.

About half past one o'clock yesterday morning a fire was discovered in the front part of the building occupied by Joseph Dorrington as a feed store, which in a chart in a start of the store which in a short time wrapped the entire building lames, and communicated to the adjo flames, and communicated to the adjoining buildings, on either side, occupied by Hostetter & Smith for the manufacture of their bitters. The fire was first discovered at the central front door of their establishment, from whence it went directly upstairs into the office occupied by McGrew & Stone, and McGrew & Blackmore. The building was pratty wall filled with grain building was pretty well filled with grain, flour and feed, the third story being filled flour and freed, the third story being miles with ear corn in tacks.

The building to the west of Dorring ton's was slightly damaged, while that to the east was, with Dorrington's, completely destroyed. The buildings were owned as follows: The western building by Hostetter & Smith; that occupied by Dorrington to John Irwin, Esg.; and the Dorrington, to John Irwin, Esq.; and the eastern building to Porter R. Friend. Hostetter & Smith's loss is between $5,000 and $6,000, no insurance, the loss being principally paper. Porter R. Friend's building was insured in the Pittsburgh Insurance Co. for $3,500, and Mr. Irwin's onilding was insured for $3,000 in the North American. The loss of McGrews & Stone, and McGrews & Blackburn, 18 but trifling, amounting to about $60 worth of furniture, unless the books in the sate are destroyed, in which case it is impossible to tell the loss. The fire was without doubt the work of a villainous incendiary, Dead. Major James Burns, sr., of Juniata tp., Bedford county, died on the 17th inst., at the advanced age of 103 years. He voted for General Washington for President, and or every Democratic candidate for the Presidency since. He was with Washington at Valley Forge, and participated in the battle of Brandywine. In private life Major Burns was greatly beloved and repected by all who knew him.

Fire Alarm. The alarm of fire at eleven o'clock last night was occasioned by the flames breaking out anew in the buildings that were consumed night before last on Water st. They were extinguished by the aid of a section of hose to a fire plug, without any assistance from the engines. Public Documents. We are indebted to Hon. Phillip John

He crossed the country between York and Happahannuck rivers, making an extensive circuit through the garden spot of Virginia, a section where our troops had never before been. At Urbana he was taken across the Rappahannock by our gunboats, and thence proceeded on to our boats, and thence proceeded on to our lines.
