A vigorous cannonade from Sherman's casemated batteries opened the Mississippi near Warrenton, and after a severe engagement, drove the enemy and occupied the heights above Warrenton and below Vicksburg. Col. Dollins of the 81st Illinois, was Sherman, at mid-day on the 30th of April Cantain of an independent cavalry compa. Sherman's casemated batteries opened the next morning on the town. General Sherman, at mid-day on the 30th of April moved up the Yazoo on a large fleet of transports preceded by seven gunboats.—Early on the morning he opened a fierce attack upon Haines's and Snyder's Bluffast The same day Porter attacked the batteries at Grand Gulf The rebels were concentrated at Vickburg and Haines Bluff. Grand Gulf was left with a garrison of about seven thousand. On Haines Bluff. Grand Gulf was left with a garrison of about seven thousand. On the 24th of May, Sherman renewed the attack on Haine's Bluff, and Porter on Grand Gulf. Grand: Gulf was 'evacuated, and Grant had a foothold on the rebel side of the Mississippi. In the night time, Sherman returned to Young's Point, and the next day moved his corps (the 15th) to Grand Gulf, and joined Grant. In the meantime, Granthad, with Osterhaus' and Logan's divisions, overtaken the rebel Bowen's force at Wilson's Hill, complete ly routing them and taking about six or seven hundred prisoners. Pushing rapidly up the line of the Big Black river near Raymond, he met the enemy under Gregg, and at once attacked and defeated him, with Logan's division of McPherson's and Tuttle's of Shermen's corps, capturing some two thousand prisoners. McClernand's Corps, the head of whose col.

and Tuttle's of Shermen's corps, capturing some two thousand prisoners. McClernand's Corps, the head of whose column was eight miles in the rear, was at once ordered to move by Edward's Station towards the Big Black river Bridge. Crocker's and Hovey's divisions attacked them in front, and a very severe battle took place. Our field was fought over three times. The rebels finally gave way as Logan was moving in upon their flank, Gen. Tilghman was killed and his army utterly routed. Several thousand prisoners and thirty-three pieces of artillery were captured. The army crossed the Big Black by three columns the next morning, and moved at once upon the earthwork in the rear of Vicksburg, Sherman, on the right, McPherson in the centre, and McClernand on the left. The enemy retreated to the entrenchments in continuous in a dead were all removed, the rebels. Every rebel that essaying to got near them was winged by one of our sharpshooters. Around her form her children ffend
And weep not to behold her there!
The sad brow shouldeth now no hight.
And yet her children feel no bright.
And some not even think her fair.

Have you no tears for her to shed?
No grief for such a mother dead?
Or feel you not that she is gone?
You see—she moves not—speakt not now—
No indignant flush is on her brow—
And from her voice there cames no tone! Yet still earth listens for the cry Uf poignant wailing agony.

As bursts the grief of children forth It comes not—for you weep her not— And coldly trample on the spot. Where with strong pain she gave you birth-

Ingrateful children! dead to all
