whose use of wealth illustrates the value knew the country would not be satisfied, and so he tried it again. This time a column twelve miles in length, and numbering thousands by the score was precipitated against the Gibraltar defences in front of them. As was expected, it met with a bloody and overwhelming repulse, and—the country after hearing this and learning that in the experiment we lost from three to five thousand men, without in a single instance having made the slightest impression upon the rebel works, will be likely to allow the commander in Chief to reduce Vicksburg in his own way. Our heavy loss after two unsuccessful attempts to carry the rebel works by storm, will convince the people that, if Vicksburg is very weak in front, it does not have that defect in the rear; and that the rebel garrison is neither weak, demoralized nor starved, and that its gune, integrity, directed almost entirely by in ellige c:

Mr. Drexel was born in Tyrol, an Austria sulject, in 1792. He was educated in Milan, and exhibiting early talentas an artiet, adopted the profession of a portrait painter. O wing to political toubles he removed in his youth to Paris, and shortly afterwards, in 1818, to this country.—Having married and made his home in this city, he visited Peru, Chili and other the trougle for Spanish American indeprendence and resident in the walve like value to a community of its occasionally large accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in indexidual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in individual hands, and who exemplified in the mode of its accumulation in indexidual hands, and have that defect in the rear; and that the rebel garrison is neither weak, demoralized nor starved, and that its guns, instead of being "Quakers," are veritable Parrots and Columbiads, at once commanding in position and numerous as to quantity; and which at any moment are able to fill the air with a tempest of death into which no storming party can enter and which no storming party can enter and live. From this time onward the people tablished the banking house in Third street, which he rapidly advanced to a great patience the slow process of reducing this place.

GALWAY.

The particulars of an accident, yester day, to Mr. F. M. Drexel, causing his HUGUS&HACKE, Grant took the only possible course of a few hours, are left him to forestall this senseless clamur. He moved at once upon the enemy and was repulsed; but as only a portion of his force had participated in the attack, he knew the country would not be satisfied, and so he tried it again. This time a ing this place.

The wounded or many of them, and the killed of last Thursday, were not brought off the field till the afternoon of the succeeding Monday. It is scarcely necessary to add that when our parties went over the field, the proportion of living to dead was terribly small. In this hot climate, few men will lie under a scorching sun, without food, water and medical attendance, and survive a wound three days for this reason, very few of those found were alive, and of those brought off alive but few, if any, will recover. Why they were not brought away sconer, I cannot lell. After the first assault, the rebels not only alllowed our men to come upon the ground and carry off the wounded but they assisted us by rendering manyattentions to those who fell close to their works. After the ascend assault, however, they refused to allow any one to come upon the field. The rabels cannot be blamed for this, nor for firing upon the fulled. The rabels cannot be blamed for this, nor for firing upon the flux reason—that during these times our line sid not cease their beligarent operations, but kept up constantly a fire from all the batteries and the sharpshoot.

Finally it was determined to ask for the privilege of curing for our men, which, forces on the right by opening upon them with two new guns—one a smooth eixty four and the other a rifled thirty-two pounder. In fact, from all appearances, they are as busy digging within as we are without; the morning roar of a new gun from our side is usually answered with defiance by some night grown battery on theirs; and in dust, when we more, they counter niove—we mine; and they counter niove—we mine; and they succeed in blowing up or carrying their first line of works, we shall probably find another one immediately in

DAILY POST

The only thing which threatens to interdevent to the place is a movement upon our rear. That forces are being noncentrated with a view to such an operation, it is a well known fact, but to how great an extent is not yet fully understoom. The Fourth lows cavalry, on Monday, met the advance of a rehel column, at a point only some ten miles distant, on this side of Big Black River. Yesterday a force was detached from our army, to meet, this advancing column, and either day, met the advance of a force was detached from our army, to meet, this advancing column, and either day, met the following one of its most important provisions. The negligence of the Government to execute the as the rebels may elect.

and Counterming—Caring for the Wounded Aspect of Affairs.

In the Rear of Vicksburg.

A siege is not as fall of interest as a march or an assault, and hence at present matters around Vicksburg are dull, particularly when compared with the events which accompanied our march to the point, and which occurred within the first three days after our arrival. In general things seem to have settled down into quietness which distinguished them while our army lay in front of Vicksburg; now, now as ten, we are waiting and digging, with the difference, however, that the digging around the rebel works; now we are digging into them; for canals we have substituted parallels and trenches; instead o onening mines and covered roadwave; in settled. The Secretary names in tardiness were an inherent vice of this Administration. We need more seem to fish at the field mortar loosts. Vicksburg and the rebels may elect.

WEDNESDAY, June 10th, 1863. The market was not very active, for the best o reasons, there was but little to operate with The stock in first hands is rapidly disappearing whilst the receipts have fallen off, on account o low water. The reported rain up the river so fa has had no effect upon the Allegheny. Whilst holders continue firm, prices have undergone no change. We still quote Crude in bulk 15@16c; in bbls, packages included, 21@22c. Of course there were instances where higher figures were asked, but as there were no opera

PITTSBURGH PRODUCE MARKET. Office of the Daily Post. Wednesday, June 10th, 1863.

Remarks-The weather continues pleasant but is very dry. The rain that we have been expecting for some time past is still lingering. Although we have had rain pretty much all round us we have not yet been visited. Our time will goon come. The demand for the leading articles continue limited to the wants of the home trade The market for produce of all descriptions is very dull. In fact the dull season has fairly opened. Our large dealers will soon commence settling up their accounts, the first of July being the semi-annual settlement. We look for no improve-ment in trade for some weeks to come-not until our dealers begin to get ready for the Fall Taking the past five months as a criterion, the trade this season has been remarkably good, probably the best our manufacturers have experienced for many years. They are all making extensive arrangements for increasing their fa-cilities in all the different branches. Some o cilities in all the different branches. Some of our Iron and Steel manufacturers are doubling their former capacities for the fall trade.

Figur—The market continues dull, there being no change worthy of notice. The sales were small and confined altogether to small lots to meet the wants of the home market. The receipts were light, which tends to stiffen the market. Buyers continue shy. Among the sales were 200 bils from store at Extra, $5 5005 60; 100 do Extra Family, $5.6.2506 50; 70 bils prime, $6.75; there is nothing doing in superfine. Sales of wagon flour were made at a decline from these rates. rates.

Butter—The demand for this article has improved under light receipts. Our dealers, how over, take hold very sparingly. We quote non inally, with sales of good roll at from 13@14c personnel. pound.

Polatoes—The market was dull. Sales of 150 hush assorted were made at 40@500 per bush.

Prices tend downward. The stock on hand is large.

Eggs—The receipts having largely fallen off, prices have stiffened. We note sales at 15c per Grain—We have nothing new to note in re-gard to this product. Every description was dull the e being no demand. There is very littly coming in.

Groceries Market steady, but prices were unchanged.
Hay—The late advance was well maintained.
Sales 18 loads at $19@21.
Whisky—Unchanged; sales 40 bbls City Rectified at 42@44c.
Cheese—Sales of 75 boxes new W R, 9@9½c.
25 boxes Hamburg, 11c. It was in moderate request. quest.

Dried Fruit—This market was inactive.
There is a good supply on hand: sales not large.
Sales 70 bush Peaches at $2 75@3 00 per bush.
100 bush Apples, $1 15@1 25; 50 bush do, $1 31 $1

100 bush Appies, $1 10@1 &; 50 bush do, $1 of $1 bush.

Bacon—The demand was moderate Some holders seem more anxious to realize than others. This causes a slight difference in prices. We note a fair amount of transactions in lots to meet the wants of consumers. Among the sales we note as follows: $,000 bs. Shoulders, $1,465%c; 6,000 bs. Bides, 74,607%c; 10,000 bs. Plain Hams, 8%, 68%c; 4,000 bs. S C Hams, 9%, 10c. There were sales of lots of country cured meat made at lower figures.

Baltimors Coffee Market. With very little inquiry the market rules dull and prices of all descriptions are nominal, viz: 310. 300311/c; Laguayra, 320321/c, and Java, 370 PROVISION MARKET.

Cincinnati. Cincinnati.

Linseed Oil meets with more attention since the extreme decline. Holders now sak $1 10 firmly and about all that can be had at a less figure has been taken.

Further sales of city lard at 6%c have been made, though holders are asking 10c quite firmly. A couple of bundred bbis new city-packed mess pork were sold at $13 50; old would sell at $9 50, but that figure is not accepted for the best brands. In bulk meats and bacen there is nothing doing. Quotations remain as they were. Bosten Cottou Goods Market

The market, the Shipping List says, continues very unsettled, and prices are as irregular as at any previous time for some weeks. Some considerable purchases were made by our jobbers at the late large auction sale in New York at what they thought very low prices. The future price of goods must depend on the ruling prices of cotton.
