Dr. Hoofland's GERMAN BITTERS

PREPARED BY

DR. C. M. JACKSON, Philadelphia, Penna.,

Will effectually cure

Liver Complaint, DYSPEPSIA, JAUNDICE, Chronic, or Nervous Debility, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases Arising from a Disordered Liver or Stomach, such as Constipation, Inward Piles, Fullness or Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fullness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried and Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the sight, Fever and Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, &c. Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant imaginings of Evil, and great depression of spirits.

And will positively prevent Yellow Fever, Bilious Fever, &c.

THEY CONTAIN

NO ALCOHOL OR BAD WHISKY

They will cure the above diseases in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big-bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which, instead of curing only aggravates diseases and leave the disappointed sufferers in despair.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale, are unrivaled by any similar preparation.

The proprietor has thousands of Letters from the most eminent

Clergymen, Lawyers, Physicians and Citizens,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

DO YOU WANT SOMETHING to STRENGTHEN YOU?

DO YOU WANT A GOOD APPETITE?

DO YOU WANT TO BUILD UP YOUR CONSTITUTION?

DO YOU WANT TO FEEL WELL?

DO YOU WANT TO GET RID OF NERVOUSNESS?

DO YOU WANT TO GET OUT of the blues, want to sleep well?

Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If you do, use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 25 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is a drunkard's life and a drunkard's death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters, and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS,

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privation incident to camp life. In the list, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers hundreds of lives might be saved, that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, it may be truly said, has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflamation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of Dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 26th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swa low anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working fai fhully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Anchor, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbrop, of 5th below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the shadow of death receded, and I can now, thank God, for it, be getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained 10 pounds, and feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly, yours,

ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

DAILY POST.

Instructions of the Confederate Government to its Agents Abroad.

WASHINGTON, June 24, 1863.

The information I gave you last week concerning a conference between the representatives of the Confederate Government abroad, and the Ministers of Foreign Affairs in England and France has been fully confirmed by late mails. The correspondences just received states that Messrs. Mason and Slidell, having exhausted all argument for the recognition of the Southern Confederacy without success, have determined to assert its independence as regards its relations with other countries in such a way as to make that recognition necessary to the interests of foreign powers, without alienating their good will.

A note has been forwarded by Mr. Benjamin, the Rebel Secretary of State at Richmond, to the agents of the Confederacy abroad, with instructions to communicate it to the principal Powers of Europe. The contents of this note are substantially these: The interests and the wishes of the Confederate Government, it is said, are to cultivate amicable relations with all the Powers of the Continent, and to offer them a generous participation in all the benefits of a free commercial, industrial, and social intercourse with the South.—But while this Government entertains the warmest sympathy with the nations of the Old World, and desires to invite it to a share in the wealth of the New, it must not forget that there are certain duties intimately connected with its safety and dignity which it would be wrong to ignore or overlook. Such are, for instance, the duties imposed upon it by the presence of the European Consuls, all over the Southern Confederacy. These gentlemen, have been, since the beginning of the war, placed in a position which by the very nature of things, conflicted with the rights, if not with the existence of the Confederacy; and although, in the generality of cases, they have acted with prudence and wisdom, it has been impossible for them to avoid obeying instructions, proceeding from a country with which we are at war, and bearing sometimes traces of an influence hostile to us and to our independence.

In order to put an end to this anomalous state of things, says the note, and to regulate a very irregular position, the Confederate Government has decided that henceforward Foreign Consuls would only be recognized in the capacity of naval agents, whose duties should be simply confined to the transactions resulting from the arrival and clearance of vessels, and of their crews. It will be seen that in doing this, the Confederate Government does not divest the Foreign Consuls of any of their legitimate duties, but prevents them only from exercising certain other assumed diplomatic functions which the new condition in which they were placed had rendered necessary.

The note concludes by stating that foreign cabinets must not look upon this measure as indicating an intention on the part of the Confederate Government to resent in any way the refusal of its recognition by them, but simply as a step dictated by prudence. Foreign consuls in the South receiving their instructions from a country where they are submitted to influence adverse to the maintenance of the independence of the Confederacy, it has been deemed altogether wise and politic to put an end to these influences by limiting the functions of the office through which it was exercised, and to assert thereby the right and power of the Confederacy to decide her own affairs. It has also been decided, says the note, that the right of protection of foreign residents will be exercised by the Confederate Government and its agents through the Confederacy, until foreign powers put an end to this anomalous state of things by receiving it in the councils of nations.

This note, I am informed, has been sent to Messrs. Mason and Slidell, with instructions to communicate it to all the European Cabinets.—Tribune.

A. T. Stewart and the Relief of Ireland.

Some time ago it was announced in nearly all the papers that Mr. A. T. Stewart, the well-known merchant on Broadway, was about to dispatch to the relief of the Irish sufferers the brig Jessie Banfield loaded with corn and provisions. The announcement has already been verified partially. Mr. Stewart has sent off a large cargo of provisions, not, however, in the Jessie Banfield, but in the ship Mary Edson which left this port some weeks ago. The parties to whom he committed the task of making the necessary preparations have worked so quietly and yet so diligently that the vessel is off, and perhaps at her destination, before the public are aware even that the process of loading her was commenced. The Mary Edson was chartered by Mr. Stewart for the sum of six thousand dollars, and sailed on the 27th of last month, under the command of Captain Nickerson. Her cargo consisted of twenty thousand dollars worth of corn and other articles of food, which will be distributed, no doubt, with judgment among the suffering people. On her return trip Captain Nickerson will bring back with him, free of charge, two hundred emigrants, between the ages of eighteen and thirty—who may desire a home in the new world. This noble action on the part of Mr. Stewart, performed in so quiet and unostentatious a manner, is only one instance of that gentleman's munificent disposition.—Herald.

Massacre at Westport, Mo.

On Wednesday last part of two companies (of the Kansas Ninth, seventy-one men in all, were attacked near Westport, Mo. The attacking party was a band of guerrillas, about two hundred in number, supposed to be commanded by Quantrell and Parker, who, when the Kansas troops reached the brow of a hill, suddenly advanced upon them and fired into their ranks a murderous volley. A desperate hand to hand conflict ensued, and a running fight was kept up for a mile or two, the handful of federals struggling bravely against the tremendous odds. One of the companies had twenty killed out of forty-nine, and the other six killed and six wounded.

News of the fight reached headquarters at Kansas City, portions of two companies under Major Thacher, were immediately ordered to Westport, and promptly followed up the track of the guerrillas, who had separated into squads, taking different routes through the brush. Presently the scouting party came upon a camp of the enemy and killed three, wounded one, and captured fourteen, recovering also several carbines and other property. At last accounts the pursuit of them was still going on.

The Difference between the Militia Laws of New York and Pennsylvania, and How it is Exemplified.

New York, although no border State has now twelve well drilled, well equipped and in every way effective fighting regiments within our borders, while all we can show in the way of defense is thirty of forty thousand men, hurriedly thrown into companies, mostly without drill, uniform or effectiveness, relying on State, Government, private liberality and what not for their accouterments, arms and everything necessary to take the field. By having no regimental or brigade organization, we are, of course, without those attractive nuclei around which a military force may be reared with facility and convenience. There is, consequently, great waste of effort and great loss of invaluable time, for every one is working without system, and of course to the worst disadvantage. There can be no more striking exemplification of the evil effects of obsolete militia laws than the scenes now observable in this State, where twenty to thirty thousand men are ready for battle to day, but are delayed for want of the forms of regimental organization.

British Crop Prospects.

The London Mark Lane Express remarks on the crops and markets on June 1st:

We have had another dry week, with a highly increased temperature on Wednesday, which reached to summer heat.—The wheat in deep alluvial soils, well wrought, will rapidly improve, and, indeed, already shows a vigorous green, but in light soils there has not yet been time for recovery from its unhealthy aspect, brought on by successive frosts at night and insufficient rain. It would appear that, generally, we have not had enough and very many counties not many—as Suffolk, Norfolk, Essex, Cambridge, and elsewhere,—so that spring corn will now be farther tried by a hot sun, should it last—barley and oats especially. Warm showers, however, might set matters right, and give us an average, if the blooming time be generally propitious, but some forward wheat is said already to be very much injured.

More complaints come as respects the prospects of a hay crop, as the wind which blew with the last rain nearly absorbed all the supply that it brought, and cold nights only nipped the young growth more severely. The weather, too, has not been general in France; its late severity, with sudden changes of temperature, having brought much rust in some departments. Europe, however, does not generally complain; the late rains, though partial here, appearing to have had a very general distribution. As to wheat, prices at the commencement of the week were hardening, from the ungeniality of the season, and many markets were up 1s per quarter, but subsequently there was less of this tendency. Rates in Europe have been hardening in most places; but the exchanges of New York were unfavorable to prices.

A Curious Case of Poisoning.

In Chicago, a few days since, a physician was called to see a lady who had evidently been poisoned under the following peculiar circumstances: She is employed in the manufacture of millinery goods, and is frequently in the habit of biting off the thread while sewing, not knowing that all articles of the kind are saturated with arsenic, as a portion of the coloring mat ter. She had absorbed into the system a sufficient quantity of the poison to have proved fatal had it not been for the timely interference of medical aid. This should be a sufficient warning to all persons engaged in the millinery business against the dangerous practice.

Keep the Soldiers' Letters.

Mother, father, brother, sister, wife and sweet-heart, keep that bundle sacredly!—Each word will be historic, each line invaluable. When peace has restored the ravages of war, and our Nation's grandeur has made this struggle the most memorable of those great conflicts by which ideas are rooted into society, these pen-pictures of the humblest events, the merest routine details of the life led in winning National unity and freedom, will be priceless. Not for the historian's sake alone, do I say, keep those letters, but for your sakes who receive them, and ours who writes them. The next skirmish may stop our pulses forever, and our letters, full of love to you, will be our own legacy besides that of having died in a noble cause. And should we survive the war, with health and limb unmaimed, or bowed with sickness or crippled with wounds, those letters will be dear momentoes to us of dangers past, of trials borne, of privations suffered, of comrades beloved. Keep our letters then and write to us all the home news and "gossip" you can. Bid us God-speed—speak kindly, loving, courageous words to us.—If you can't be Spartans—and we don't want you to be—be Athenians, countrymen and friends. So shall our feet fall lighter and our sabers heavier!

Rear Admiral Foote

The disease which Rear Admiral Foote is suffering and from which he is not expected to recover, is an affection of the kidneys and a deposit of a large quantity of water on one of his lungs. The last report from him was that his condition was not any better.

THE SOLDIER'S SWEETHEART.

BY GEO. W. BUNGAY.

I go down to the sea,
Where the waves speak to me
Of my dar ing, the soul of my soul:
But her footprints no more
Mark the desolate shore
Where she tempted the billows to roll.

There the sail billows break,
Like my heart for her sake,
On the lonely and desolate shore;
For the waves of the sea
Are sighing with me
For a mortal now mortal no more.

With my heart filled with tears,
And my hopes chilled with fears,
By the grave of my darling I knelt;
And I uttered a prayer
On the listening air,
Whose dew wept the sorrow I felt.

There the wind wove a shroud
Of a dim passing cloud,
Betwixt me and the bright stars above,
And the form in its fold,
Like the shape under mould,
Was the form of the angel I love.

Would that I were a flower,
Born of sunshine and shower:
I would grow on the grave of the dead.
I would sweeten the air
With the perfume of prayer,
Till my soul on its incense had fled.

And I never would fade
In the delicate shade
Of the tree in whose shadow she lits.
There my petals should bloom
By her white rural tomb,
When the stars closed their beautiful eyes.

Now I see her in dreams
On the banks of the streams
In the dear land of exquisite bliss,
Where the sweep of her wings
And the song that she sings
Oft awakes me to sadness in this.

The Philosophic Burner.

HAYDEN'S NEW DOUBLE-ACTING Philosophic Burner for Carbon Oil is now ready. It possesses many advantages over the Common Burner, viz:

1. It makes a large or small light with perfect combustion.
2. It will burn any quantity of oil with safety.
3. It can be used with a long or short chimney.
4. It can be used as a taper night-lamp.
5. It can always be made to burn economically.
6. It is more easily wicked than any other burner.
7. It can be trimmed and lighted without removing the cone.
8. It throws all the white light above the cone.
9. The chimney can be removed or inserted without touching the glass.

These burners are the common No. 1 size, and can be put on any lamp now in use. Every person using Carbon Oil should have a Philosophic Burner. Price 25 cents per set or $2. Sold at No. 82 FOURTH street, Pittsburgh.
