They will cure the above diseases in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred.

Induced by the extensive sale and universal accuracy of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant quacks and unscrupulous advertisers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of alcoholic preparations in platforms bottles, and big-bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which, instead of curing only aggravates diseases, and leave the disappointed sufferers in despair.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of Letters from the most eminent

Clergymen, Lawyers, Physicians and Citizens,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

DO YOU WANT SOMETHING TO STRENGTHEN YOU!

DO YOU WANT A GOOD APPETITE!

DO YOU WANT TO BUILD UP YOUR CONSTITUTION!

DO YOU WANT TO FEEL WELL!

DO YOU WANT TO GET RID OF NER VOUS DEBILITY!

DO YOU WANT ENERGY!

Do you want to sleep well?

If you do, use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the results as the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters, and six with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellency any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS,

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the long publish- of almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers hundreds of lives might be saved, that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of he nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own ang uage" has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Cheseborough's celebrated battery, under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflamation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board of the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swa low anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly the physicians who had been working fai fhally, though mascacefully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of 6th below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained 19 pounds, and feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentleman I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly, yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

DAILY POST.

Jackson and Calhoun.

A scene at the White House in 1833, at the lodgings of Mr. Calhoun the same night, and a death bed scene at the Hermitage, were thus graphically portrayed by Senator Cowan, in the debate on the Confiscation Bill. It is a very striking picture:

Mr. President—If Calhoun had been executed for his treason in 1833, there would have been no rebellion now; and perhaps he came nearer his execution than most people are aware. You will know the conspirators in South Carolina proceeded to the commission of the overt act.

Calhoun was the chief adviser. General Jackson knew it well, and determined that the law should be put in execution against him; not against the poor, misguided men that followed, but against the chief conspirator. He had resolved on his prosecution and trial, and if convicted, his execution for treason. He said that if he had an Attorney General that would not draw an indictment, he would find one that would. Things were approaching the crisis.

Calhoun became aware of Jackson's determination, and sent Letcher, of Kentucky, to confer with him on the subject, and to learn his real intentions. He went to the President's house. It was already late at night. The President received him with his usual courtsey, but, sir, that eye, which would fill with tears and overflow like that of a woman, was kindled up that night with an unwonted fire. He reasoned with him for a while, then paced the floor. At times he stormed in passion towering and sublime, till his frame dilatain and quivering, with that oath which in him never seemed profane, he declared to Letcher that if another step was taken, 'by the the Eternal,' he would try Calhoun for treason, and if he was convicted, he would hang him on a gallows as high as Haman's.

Letcher could not misunderstand his purpose. He saw that he was terribly in earnest. From that interview he hastened to the lodgings of Calhoun. He had retired to his bed. He knocked at his bed chamber and was admitted. Calhoun received him sitting up in bed, with his cloak around him. Letcher detailed all that had occurred, giving the entire conversation between him and Jackson, and he described the old hero as he took that oath.

There sat Calhoun, drinking in eagerly every word, and as Letcher proceeded, he became pale as death, and trembled like an aspen leaf. Yes, sir, Calhoun, great as he was in intellect, quaked in his bed! And for what? Was it from fear or cowardice? Ah, no! It was the consciousness of guilt. He was the arch traitor, who like Satan in Paradise, "brought death into the world and all our woe."—Within one week he came into the Senate, and voted for every section of Mr. Clay's bill, and Gen. Jackson was prevailed upon not to prosecute him for his crime.

I have been told, upon authority upon which I rely, that during the last days of Gen. Jackson at the Hermitage, while he was slowly sinking under the ravages of consumption—that mysterious disease which, while it wastes the body, leaves, if possible, the mind more clear, and nearer to inspiration—he had a conversation with his family physician and friend.

While lying upon his bed one day, and speaking of his past Administration, he inquired:

"What act in my Administration, in your opinion, will posterity condemn with the greatest severity?"

The physician replied that he was unable to answer—that it might be the removal of the deposits.

"Oh, no!" said the General.

"Then it may be the specie circular?"

"Not at all!"

"What is it then?"

"I can tell you," said he, rising up in his bed, his eyes kindling up: "I can tell you. Posterity will condemn me more because I was persuaded not to hang John C. Calhoun as a traitor than for any other act of my life."

Sir, does not this seem inspiration now? If Calhoun, the originator of this conspiracy to dissolve the Union, and to build up the Southern Confederacy, had been executed for his treason, we would have had no rebellion now.

A Fighting Friend.

Captain Nicholas Halleck Mann, of Ulster county, N. Y., is a Quaker, over six feet high, and 'in for the war.' He commanded a squadron of cavalry at the Aldie fight. When the Federal forces were over-borne by superior numbers, and left Gen. Kilpatrick in the hands of the enemy, Capt. Mann rallied, with noble words his flying troopers, placed himself at their head and dashed through and over and down the rebel ranks, his sabre flashing to the right and left, until the general was released, and the gallant captain lay bleeding and helpless by the side of his dead horse, within the rebel lines. By a miracle he escaped death, and is now in the Emory Hospital, counting the days that must elapse before he is again in the saddle. Two cousins, of the same persuasion, are in the same troop, and it is said their gentle 'thee and thou' language gives little indication of the fire that lives within.

Reinforcements for Gen. Meade.

The Baltimore American of last even ing says that every available man is going to the front to reinforce General Meade and aid him in the pursuit of the retreating rebel army. On Monday a number of the regiments finished in that vicinity broke camp and left for the Army of the Potomac.

The Wheat Crops in Europe.

The past week has been showery and of variable temperature. We have now had our compliment of moisture, and some fears are beginning to be entertained that we shall get too much, especially should the rain be heavy upon the wheat, now, in many places coming into bloom, but immense good to the crops generally has ensued, though the beneficial rainfall was too late for the crop of grass on early lands, and the first cut of clover is said to be scarcely worth the labor of gathering. For the second, however, there is now a good chance for both fodder and seed, and the late grass-lands are likely to yield abundantly. The weather on the continent has not lately been propitious; and it is the more confirmed that Hungary has suffered from the drouth. There have also been recent frosts in Northern Germany, which have blackened the potato haulm, and injured the Rye. In France the storms have done local hurt, and in Algeria, where they are in full harvest, with fine crops, there are apprehensions of too much rain. Prices on the continent have therefore hardened in many places. France is 1s to 3s 6d per quarter dearer for wheat, and orders coming thence to London have stopped the tendency to decline here. Belgium and Holland are getting dearer, from the exhaustion of stocks; and there also, more genial weather is much desired. Our own markets, though not overdone with samples, show greatly increased sales over last year, and prices have been sustained with difficulty, there still being no disposition whatever to speculate.—Mark Lane Express.

The Steam Frigate Niagara Ordered to Sea.

The Secretary of the Navy has ordered the commander of the Boston Navy-yard to complete the preparations for the steam frigate Niagara, and get her ready for instant sea service. She is completely altered, and is reported to be far more useful for general service than formerly. The ordnance authorities of the navy-yard have been ordered to prepare a battery of heavy guns for her. Captain Fillebrown has been ordered to command her and it is rumored that she will be sent to Europe.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

SATURDAY July 11th, 1863.

The market during the past two days has exhibited quite an improvement, more especially in the demand. The market for crude rules higher.

From Oil City we have received no dispatches for two days past. The market there seems to be unsettled.

From New York our latest report says Refined is dull and drooping, whilst Crude barely holds its own.

The following are the Expor's and Imports as we have taken them from the reports of the Oil Exchange:

Exports—To New York—Refined, 2,917 bbls; Naptha, 160 bbls; Benzole, 42 bbls. Grease, 100 bbls To Philadelphia—Refined, 1,507 bbls; Crude, 557 bbls; Benzole, 78 bbls.

Imports: Per Allegheny Valley Railroad—Refined: 1,599 bbls; Crude, 920 bbls. Per Allegheny River—Refined, 431 bbls; Crude, 353 bb's.

Crude—The improved demand of the previous day was continued and a moderate amount was disposed of in small lots, viz: 23 bbls, packages returned, 18c; 150 bb's. including packages, 22c; 30 bbls common from the bottom of tan's at 10c; 102 bbls at 18¼c, packages returned; 252 bbls do. 18¼c; 140 bbls 36 gravity at 17c, bbls returned; 100 bbls 18¼c, without packages; sale 600 bbls in lots at 18@18¼c, packages to be returned.

Refined—Sales 51 bb's free, 51c; 256 bbls in bond, 45c; other sales made at about the same range of prices.

Lubricating—Little doing. We note two sales, amounting to 72 bbls at $7 50 per bbl.

WOOL IN CLEVELAND.

The agricultural editor of the Ohio Farmer has recently made a tour of observation among the wool-growers and wool-buyers of Harrison and Jefferson counties, and writes that there are great stirrings of spirit among the latter class and great stiffness of paper up among the former. 70c is the low st figure that will move them in any region, while many extensive growers will not listen to any offer below 80c. No respectable clips are known to have changed hands in those counties.—Herald.
