Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant quacks and unprincipled adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big-bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which, instead of curing only aggravates diseases and leaves the disappointed sufferers in despair;

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale, are not rivaled by any similar preparation.

The proprietor has by thousands of Letters from the most eminent

Clergymen, Lawyers, Physicians and Citizens,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

DO YOU WANT SOMETHING to STRENGTHEN YOU?

DO YOU WANT A GOOD APPETITE?

DO YOU WANT TO BUILD UP YOUR CONSTITUTION?

DO YOU WANT TO FEEL WELL?

DO YOU WANT TO GET RID OF NERVOUS MESS?

DO YOU WANT ENJOY?

Do you want to sleep well?

Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If you do, use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters; put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed,

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the whole system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the results are the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters, and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true tonic clean any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS,

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine tenths of the sickness incident to camp life. In the lists, published daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are daily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers hundreds of lives might be saved, that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs, Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflamation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. The was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if it did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances long, accordingly the physicians who had been working in vain, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Arch-or, frankly tell me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of 6th below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained 30 pounds, and feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months, for gentlemen I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly, yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

DAILY POST.

The Death of General Barksdale.

A correspondent of the Tribune, writing from the battle-field of Gettysburg, July 6th, says:

The following particulars of the death of the noted rebel General William Barksdale have just been communicated to me. Lieut. Col. Charles E. Livingston, of New York, A. A. G. on Major Gen. Doubleday's staff, on the night of Thursday, July 3d, went out in the extreme front to discover if possible the body, he having been informed by a prisoner of the locality where Barksdale was shot. The spot was about a quarter of a mile in advance of our pickets, and Colonel Livingston, with his small party of stretcher-bearers, was once driven in by rebel scouts, but on a second attempt was so fortunate as to be successful.

The body of the General was found; life was not yet extinct, but his wound was a mortal one. He was lifted upon the stretcher, and being a very heavy person, eight men were required to bear his weight. He declared, with his last breath that he was proud of the cause he died in fighting for; proud of the manner in which he received his death wound; that the rebels were invincible, and although repulsed to-day, they were sure of victory on the morrow. He left with Col. Livingston his watch, pocket-book, and a few other trinkets, to be sent to his friends in Mississippi.

Humors of the Draft.

The draft is attended by some curious results. In Boston several members of the Board of Brokers have been drawn.—One gentleman who had secured a passage to Calcutta, while on his way to the vessel in which he was to sail, purchased a paper containing a list of the drafted men. He soon perceived his own name among them, whereupon he gave up his contemplated journey and returned home. Ten men are taken from the Boston Custom House, and ten from the Boston Navy Yard.

In Chelsea, Massachusetts, the Methodist minister was taken; in Charlestown two Protestant ministers are taken, and in Cambridge Rev. Mr. Murray, the Congregational minister.

From one store in Beverly all the men are taken—the owner, book-keeper and clerks.

In Charlestown, two brothers, twins, are taken.

A lady residing in Cambridge has sent three sons to the war, two of whom have been killed in battle, and the third died of sickness. A fourth son was drafted on Friday morning.

In one or two cases it was discovered that a man had been enrolled in two different sub-districts, and one man who had been drafted in Boston belonged in Chelsea, and his name was thrown out. This did not save him, for he was drafted with the Chelsea quota.

The Lowell Courier states that at Concord on Thursday, thirty-six men were drafted from the town of Acton. A gentleman of that town belonging in the first class thought he would rather enlist than stand the draft. He declared his belief that he should be "elected," and taking an early train for Boston he enlisted and secured his bounty. His forethought in so doing was made apparent, as his name was the first one drawn.

James Hamill, the champion oarsman, was drafted at Pittsburgh on last Wednesday.

Sliddell's Interview with Napoleon —French Diplomacy for the Rebels from Mexico.

[Paris correspondence of the London Post.]

PARIS, June 28th.

There seems to be no doubt about the Emperor having lately received the Southern envoy, Mr. Slidell. That his Majesty should have done this so soon after the fall of Puebla gives rise to speculation, and to many false conclusions.—France has probably, since the occupation of Mexico, international reasons to watch the American war. If a French army is to remain at Mexico until a new and regular form of government is organized, North and South may meanwhile make up their quarrels, and become very patriotic about France possessing so rich a district of transatlantic continent. On the other hand, if the American war ends in the separation of the North and South, the natural ally of France, as long foreseen, will be the latter States. No one in all likelihood knows the emperor's real intentions about Mexico, and perhaps his future policy may be entirely guided by events. I know, however, that a majority of his Cabinet are for withdrawing the expedition as early as possible. M. Drouyn de Lhuys is for again calling in England and Spain, and, I presume, making those two Powers in some way participate in the foundation of a better government than that which has hitherto been applied to a wild and ungovernable race. In consulting with Mr. Slidell the Emperor said he desired to see peace restored in America, but that it was for political as well as humanitarian reasons, is beyond a doubt; that his Majesty would recognize the South if England did so there can be no question. The isolated efforts of French diplomacy have failed. The question asked here is: "Has not the situation changed? Would not the united action of England and France for peace be now listened to at Washington?" This is the language of Mr. Dayton, the American Minister, of Mr. Bigelow, the American Consul, and the majority of other Americans likely to hold correct views on the subject.

Valuable Receipts.

New Chrome Green.

The London Chemical News gives the following receipt for manufacturing a beautiful new chrome green color adapted for painting and topical printing: Take 10 ounces of boiling water and dissolve it in one ounce of the bichromate of potash, and to this and 6 pints of the biphosphate of lime and three ounces of brown sugar. When these substances are mixed a disengagement of gas takes place and the liquid fumes. It is allowed to stand until this action ceases, then it is decanted and left to stand for about ten hours, when a beautiful green color is deposited. It is washed with cold water and dried in a warm room. The green color thus obtained is stated to be fixed on cloth in printing by mixing it with albumen. It may be used both as a water color and as an oil paint.

Cleaning Tinware.

Acids should never be employed to clean tinware, because they attack the metal and remove it from the iron of which it forms a thin coat. We refer to articles made of tin plate, which consists of iron covered with tin. Rub the article first with rotten-stone and sweet oil, the same as recommended for brass, then finish with whitening and a piece of soft leather. Articles made wholly of tin should be cleaned in the same manner. In a dry atmosphere planished tin ware will remain bright for a long period, but they soon become tarnished in moist air.

Cleaning of Silver-plated Articles.

White metal articles electro-plated with silver are now very common, and great care is required in cleaning them when tarnished. No powder must be used for this purpose which has the least grit in it, or the silver will be scratched and soon worn off. The best impalpable whitening should be employed, with a little soft water, in removing the tarnish. They are next washed with rain water, dried and polished with a piece of soft leather, some rouge powder or fine whitening, then finally rubbed down with the hand, which forms a most excellent polisher.

Cruel Treatment of Lady Prisoners by the Rebels.

Federal prisoners captured at Winchester, and recently paroled at Richmond, say the ladies captured, who were wives of officers, some twelve in number, were regarded as prisoners of war and have been subjected to the most cruel treatment.—In Winchester they were confined by the rebels in a small fort promiscuously with other prisoners, and on being released were furnished with wretched accomodations for transit to Richmond, several ladies being obliged to walk twenty or thirty miles. At every place they were hooted at, insulted, and universally looked upon as Yankee curiosities. On arriving at Richmond they were closely imprisoned and treated as most of our prisoners have been before them.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

THURSDAY, July 16th 1863.

The market was firm but inactive, for the best of all reasons, there was but little to operate with. The receipts by river and rail being very limited. We are still without any reports from Oil Creek the market there is reported to be firm, with a good demand, at full prices. Our Oil Exchange was reorganized yesterday and new officers were elected. We hope to see it prosper. we see no reason why we cannot do as other places do, let our oil dealers spend one hour per day at the Exchange, make reports of their sales or purchases. They will then know how the market stands. We wish the new officer success. The receipts yesterday by river only amounted to 6,48 bbls—all told.

Crude—We have nothing new to note in regard to this article. He'ders were very firm in their views under light supplies, in fact, the supply was not sufficient for the demand. A few sales were made in bulk at 25@25½ packages included. The news from the East continues in favor of holders. Refined—There is little doing in this article at present both parties seem careless about operating. We quote nominally at. Bonded—43c45c; free oil—53c55; Benzole—The market was dull in the absence of sales we omit quotations.

PITTSBURGH PRODUCE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY POST,
Thursday, July 16th, 1863.

Remarks—The weather continues very pleasant with occasional showers but our rivers continue low with no prospect of a rise. Business, in its various departments, was dull, sales being few and far between. As regards the leading articles we have no changes to note, prices remain as before nominally quoted. Money matters—Gold and silver is steadily receding it looks as if it would soon be down to par, loans in the street are readily obtained on good paper at easy terms. Groceries—Sugar—The demand for Sugar is fair demand, prices, however, have undergone no change, our dealers have an ample supply on hand for all ordinary purposes. Grain—The demand is improving, we note sales of red Wheat which shows an advance. Corn is also a shade higher with an increasing demand. Oats are in fair demand and there a great many changing hands principally on Government account. Fish—The demand has fallen off, prices generally were a shade lower, the market at this time is fully supplied with the various descriptions. Cheese—The demand for new cheese up fully to the ruling prices were unchanged. Bacon—The market was heavy and
