THE GUBERNATORIAL QUES-TION.

At the approaching Gubernatorial election in Pennsylvania, it is of little consequence who may be the standard bearer of the opposition: their cause is lost beyond the power of any candidate to revive it. condition of the usurping Jacobins, is in ducing them to hope against hope; but dash her to splinters against the rocks.

It was the degeneracy of Republicanism revolution last year throughout the Union. Pennsylvania, which, in 1860, gave Mr. Lincoln over eighty thousand mejority, last year wheeled into the Democratic column. Does any one believe that, if the Republican party had stood to its pledges, and prosecuted the war for the restoration of the Union, they would have been so unprecedentedly weakened in so short a time? The history of parties has no parallel for such a falling off from a new and victorious political organization. What was the cause of this popular reaction? The suspicion that the Radicals who were fast obtaining control of the Administration intended to pervert the war from its original purpose, into one for the subjugation of the Southern people and the complete emancipation of their slaves. This, we say, the Democracy of Pennsylvania suspected twelve months ago, and heat their opponents upon that impression: but now that the people are told openly and plainly by the Abolitionists, that the war shall ern Confederacy. not cease so long as there is a slave to fight for, we should like to be informed what possible chance they have of carry ing our next State election. To conclude eracy, to solicit his opinion as regards the of the Abolition party is only weakening

The rapid strides of the Abolitionist from a war for the preservation of the Union to a crusade for emancipation, have, it appears, left Gov. Cartin and his eastern friends away in the rear. He and they are too conservative for the extreme Treasury of the United States, covering Radicals, and his defeat for re-nomination has been determined on. As an evidence of his not being acceptable because of his want of fanaticism, may be seen by cent in cash, and 50 per cent in 6 per cent the course of the Gazette, the organ of intense Abolitionism in Western Pennsyl- Gen. Then we shall have the conservatives battling for a war for the Union and the rights of freemen against Union and the rights of freemen against fanaticism, with its demand for a war for negro emancipation first, and his social and political equality afterwards. The Secret Mission of Vice President Stephens-His Arrival at Richmond followed by the Sending of a Bearer of Dispatches to Slidell - Propositions made by Jeff. Davis to Louis Napoleon and Spain-The Southern Confederacy Places itself Under the Protectorate of France.

WASHINGTON, July 26, 1863. Since the return of Vice President Stephens to Richmond, several facts have been brought to light calculated to make people think that his mission was not simpl/ confined to the topics contained in Jeff. Davis's instructions, but had a far more important object in view.

A gentleman connected with the State Department tells me to-day, that independent of his public and ostensible mision. Mr. Stephens had been intrusted by the President of the Conferacy with a seeret one-that the first was only a cloak to conceal the second, and that revelations of the greatest importance were at the bottom of the diplomatic transactions in-

It is almost impossible to imagine a more infamous sen-

portion of the paragraph we have quoted If it were not that we believed it was ut tered "by authority," and simply echoed the wishes of the central despotism at Washington, we would attach no more impertance to it than is ordinarily given to the fatuous ravings of Abolitionism:-Emanating from the source it does, how ever, it is well calculated to occasion the deepest alarm and consternation in the ture.
