Induced by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable) hosts of ignorant quacks and unscrupulous adventurers, have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whisky, wisely compounded with injurious drugs and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big-bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which, instead of curing only aggravates diseases and leave the disappointed sufferers in despair.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale, are not equaled by any similar preparation.

The proprietor has thousands of Letters from the most eminent

Clergymen, Lawyers, Physicians and Citizens,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

DO YOU WANT SOMETHING to STRENGTHEN YOU?

DO YOU WANT A GOOD APPETITE?

DO YOU WANT TO BUILD UP YOUR CONSTITUTION?

DO YOU WANT TO FEEL WELL?

DO YOU WANT TO GET RID OF NERVOUSNESS?

DO YOU WANT ENERGY?

Do you want to sleep well?

Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If you do, use

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the results are the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt. Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters, and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whisky, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true worth, any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. Do not be induced by the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS,

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the lies and diseases induced by exposures and privations to camp life in the lists, publish or almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of the kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We base our recommendation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers hundreds of lives might be saved, that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language has been saved by the Bitters:

PHILADELPHIA, August 23d, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Harman's celebrated battery, under the immediate command of Capt. R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflamation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then remove from the White House and sent to this city on board the steamer "State of Maine," from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been a out as low as any one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances and, accordingly the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and I resigned to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of 6th below Arch Street, advised me as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained 10 pounds, and feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentleman I am a royal Virginian, I'm in the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to health.

DAILY POST.

Mr. Lincoln's Two Body-Guards.

WASHINGTON, July 31.

From several trustworthy sources we learn that the President of the United States has continually had two body guards since the adjournment of the last Congress. One of these guards consists of a squadron of United States cavalry, under the command of Captain ——, whose duty it is to guard the President's residence, to accompany him in his promenades and excursions, and to protect his body generally from the attacks of rebels and other outside barbarians. These men are the physical body-guards of our Republican ruler.

The other body guard consists of Chase, Stanton, Wade, Wilson, Chandler, Sumner, and a out half a score of other ultra radicals, whose duty it is to control the thoughts and opinions of the President, to see that no conservative man or journal shall have access to him, or in any way influence him, and to goad him on by every possible means to act in all matters solely with reference to the radical party, instead of the suppression of the rebellion, the restoration of the Union, and the welfare of the nation. This guard always keep from three to five of their number in Washington, who make it a point to exercise their charge daily, to keep off all Democratic and conservative citizens, and by flatteries, threats, and persistent importunities, keep Mr. Lincoln up to the maximum point of ultra abolitionism.—When these fanatical conscience-keepers fail in any special instance, as for example when the President had decided to again recall General McClellan to the command of the Army of the Potomac after Hooker's miserable defeat, this guard then send on to New York for their radical allies to visit Washington, post haste, to aid them in their partisan schemes. In this instance, Greeley, Bryant & Co. dispatched David Dudley Field, Charles Gould, and three other abolitionists to the rescue, and, thus reinforced, Abraham Lincoln was obliged to succumb to this wretched fanatical clamor, and violate his better judgment, defy the wishes of the entire army, and nine tenths of the whole population of the loyal States, by refusing to place at the head of the army our ablest general.

We make these assertions deliberately, and dare Mr Lincoln, or his No. 2 body guard to deny that they are substantially true. The last fact was derived directly from one of the co-operating parties.

Abraham Lincoln reads no papers, but derives his inspiration solely from his conscience-keepers behind the throne—body guard No. 2

Branches of this guard reside in New York and Boston, and are composed of men like Greeley, Godwin, Field, Cheever, Phillips, Garrison, Andrew and the like. On great occasions these men go to the national capital in a body, and the entire influence of the radical press, the pulpit, and the bar is brought to bear to accomplish their partisan designs.

Can there be any just hope for the salvation of our beloved country when such counsels and such influences prevail with the head of the gogernment?

Extraordinary Rifle Practice.

An official report upon the Whitworth rifle is published in the Richmond Sentinel The report says:

Observing a group of the enemy's officers in front of us distant about 750 yards, I directed one of the men under my charge to aim carefully and fire at the centre of the crowd. The effect was startling. The sudden scattering of the crowd—the bearing off a wounded man—the immediate concentration of the fire of the enemy's sharpshooters upon the spot from which the Whitworth had been fired—were gratifying proofs of the efficiency of the rifle.

Shortly after a regiment of the enemy crossed the Liberty Church road, in full view, at a distance of about thirteen hundred yards. Eight or ten men left the ranks of the regiment, entered a garden on the roadside, and began to help themselves to potatoes. While the Yankees were thus engaged, and had gathered together about some particularly productive spot, I directed Sergeant Hill to fire at them with the elevation required for thirteen hundred yards. The party left the garden precipitately, bearing off with them a wounded comrade, and in their haste forgot to carry off the potatoes.

During the afternoon thirteen shots were fired from the Whitworth guns, five of which were observed to take effect. An officer in command of a company of the enemy's skirmishers was killed or badly wounded, at a distance of six hundred and fifty yards, by Sergeant Hill.

General Bowen.

Major Gen. Bowen, of Missouri, the bearer of the flag of truce with Pemberton's proposal to surrender Vicksburg, died of pure grief and disappointment, about eight miles this side of Jackson, on the 22d. He was one of the first of the paroled officers to leave Vicksburg, and had passed out of the lines, and was proceeding to Jackson, when he was taken sick and lodged in a farm house. He was a proud, sensitive man, much esteemed personally by his acquaintances, and linked his destinies with those of the South from the first. The conviction that the Confederacy was already overpowered and lost, and that poverty and disgrace, for the part he had taken in the rebellion, were his doom, proved too much for him. He is buried in the door-yard, but a few paces from where he died. His wife was with him at the time of his death, and is said to have lost her reason from the many griefs and misfortunes crowding upon her.

The Policy in Regard to the Re-Admission of States.

There are parties here urging the adoption by the administration of diametrically different policies in reference to the readmission of the Southern States into the Union. On the one side influential gentlemen from the North, who have long been known as leaders of the anti slavery party, and some of whom have been charged with exhibiting anxiety that the war shall be conducted more for the emancipation of negroes than for the restoration of the Union, insist upon the adoption of the radical programme that no Southern State shall be allowed to resume its position and its political status in the Union until slavery shall be abolished within its borders. This faction is small, but powerful, and wields great political influence in New England and some other portions of the loyal States, particularly in the Northwest. The other policy is conciliatory, and is urged with strong arguments in its favor. It asserts that, in view of the possible contingencies of a collission with foreign Powers, it is best for the government to build up as rapidly as possible a Union party among the people of the Southern States. It assumes that there is already in all of the Southern States except South Carolina and Florida and to some extent in the latter State, a nucleus of men of social influence who have never been disloyal at heart, and are only waiting an opportunity to openly assert their devotion to the old Union and to the old flag, and make efforts to reclaim their States. In behalf of these people and of this movement, it is proposed that as fast as the government's power is extended over any of those States a military governor shall be appointed from among the Union men of the State, and that a premium shall be offered for the development of Union sentiments by the confiscation of the property of known disloyalists, and its appropriation to the payment of debts owing to and losses incurred by loyal men in consequence of the rebellion. It is also proposed that in every instance the war debt of the seceded States shall be repudiated, and as rapidly as the machinery can be put in motion to secure to Union men of those States an opportunity of elections they shall be permitted to choose representatives in Congress and State Legislatures and elect Senators. The opinion seems to be gaining ground with both of these parties that by the continuance of vigorous efforts on the part of the government the rebellion will be speedily brought to its last gasp, and the adoption of a definite policy in regard to the seceded States become an immediate necessity. The parties urging the last mentioned policy are men of high political repute and entitled to great consideration, which is accorded to them from the conviction that if denied they will be driven into opposition to the administration in the coming Presidential election.

Summary Execution for Mutiny

A letter dated at Morris Island, Charleston harbor, on the 30th ult., says:

A day or two since, in Col. Montgomery's Second South Carolina Regiment, one of the privates in Company D, a burly negro, refused to obey an order given him by his officer. The officer of the day reported his mutinous conduct to the Colonel, who instructed the officer to inform the negro that he was not trifling with him, and that if he then refused to obey the order to go to the guard house—an attempt to execute which he had before resisted—he would be at once shot down. The officer of the day approached the negro, warned him of the consequence of refusing to obey his order, and again ordered him to the guard house. The negro did not move, and the officer then informed him if he did not obey before he counted three he should fire. One, two, two, three, were slowly told off, three seconds elapsed after the word three was pronounced, and the negro not obeying, the officer shot him down mortally wounding him. This salutary example was not lost upon the rest of the regiment. It had an excellent effect, and insubordination will rarely occur in the Second South Carolina Volunteers. Col. Montgomery's style of discipline is regarded as the only efficacious one for the negro regiments, whose peculiar temperaments require that punishment to be effectual should follow close on the heels of any dereliction of duty.

MR. C. C. FULTON writes to the Baltimore American from the iron-clad fleet off Charleston:

"From the deck of the Patapsco I had a fine view of the advanced works of General Gillmore, which are bristling up almost to the base of Fort Wagner, and protected some thirty yards in front by a strong line of abatis. They extend in a direct line across the island for nearly a half mile, and are as near to Fort Sumter as it would be possible to erect them if Wagner was already in our possession.—These facts may be regarded as significant of what is about to take place here in the course of the present week."

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

Wednesday, Aug. 12th, 1863.

The market was firm; there was, however, a large falling off in transactions. Holders at present have things their own way, that is so far as the asking rates are concerned. The high rates demanded by holders have made buyers more cautious. They do not view matters just in the same light as holders and are willing to wait and take the chances of the market. The asking rates yesterday for crude were 21½ @24c. without packages, whilst some dealers talked about holding out for 25c, which they have a perfect right to do. The rates, including the packages, were 23@23½c. Taking all things together yesterday was a day of limited transactions.

The exports East amounted to only 887 bbls. West, 421 bbls Refined.

The imports per C. V. R. R., 471 bbls: per P. & W. & C. R. R., 65 bbls Refined.

Crude—In the absence of sales we must do the best we can, give the correctest feeling of the market. One lot of 500 bbls was offered at 23½; buyers offered 22c, but the seller refused to take less than 23¼c. Those parties who have faith in higher prices being maintained should purchase this lot.

Refined—Our latest news from the East is not very favorable to holders, that is the figures current there do not rule so high as was expected. One lot of 600 bbls of bonded was disposed of at 40½@40c; the latter seems to be the asking rate; free was held at 45c per gallon above these rates.

PROVISION MARKET.

Cincinnati.

Provisions quite unchanged. 500 bbls old city mess pork sold at $19, and 30 hhds bacon shoulders at 5c.

There is a fair demand for Lard at 9@9¼c for country and 9¾c for city.

A good jobbing demand for Hams at 10@12c.

The Grocery market is without change. The demand is quite light

New York Oils.

Linseed is quiet and selling slowly from cravers' hands at $1 09@1 11 in casks and bbls, but no large sales could be effected, unless at lower rates. Crude fish oils are also quiet at $1 45@1 50 for sperm, and 93@96c for whale. Petroleum is dull under the unfavorable news from Europe, but holders quite firm in standing there firm at 34@35c for crude; 51@52c for bonded refined, and 60@62c for free do, with sales of 500 bbls refined in bond at 61@61½c cash.

RIVER NEWS

We condense the following from the Cincinnati Commercial:

Capt. Wm. Metcalfe and others have purchased one-half of the new steamer Courtenay, at the rate of $35,000 for the entire boat. The Courtenay is a new stern-wheeler, with fine freight capacity and a full length cabin. She is now in the canal, and will positively depart for the Cumberland river to-morrow evening.

Memphis.

The Appeal of the 4th contains the following concerning the steamer Silver Wave:

This steamer arrived yesterday from Vicksburg and is one of the hardest to king boats which has been at any landing for weeks. Her captain, Jo. Mc illen, informs us that for months past she has been in the Government employ and has been everywhere that a steamer not on wheels could go. She has passed through all the bayous and pass expeditions along the river, and was the first and only boat of the nine not injured which first success ed in running the Vicksburg batteries. She certainly looks a if she had gone through all the storms of shot and shell as well as wind and water, that ever happened on earth. She is now on her way to the North to go into the dock for repairs and will soon come back to our wharf looking like a thing of beauty. We hope that her future may be as prosperous as her past has been unfortunate.
