Democratic Demonstration in Allegheny.

Thousands of Democrats Present Great Enthusiasm-Speeches by Andrew Burke, Esq., John R. Large Esq., and others.

The meeting of the Democracy last night in Allegheny, was, notwithstanding the inclement state of the weather, very large and enthusiastic. The Democratic of our readers have occasion to insure with Club of the Third Ward, Pittsburgh, to either of them, they will find the agents the number of several hundred, preceded most agreeable gentlemen with whom to by a fine band of music, marched over, and were greeted with hearty cheers.
Shortly after their arrival the meeting was surance companies. It is a matter of imorganized by calling Jos. R. Hunter to portance, then that the agents of the companies with whom you insure should be the chair, who, atter thanking the meeting for the honor confered upon him, intro-ing claims on a just basis. Such men are duced to the assemblage Andrew Burke.

The announcement of this gentleman's red to. name was received with the most tremendous cheering. Mr. Burke has not recently taken any part in politics, having been enjoying the comforts and quietude, the sure attendants upon a well spent life, in the quiet retreat of his country home. But, patriot that he is, he could not resist

In the brief space allotted to us, we can only give a feint outline of the eloquent gentleman's speech. He commenced by saying that he had spent forty years of his life in our midst, and that nothing but the imminent peril to which his country was exposed, could have induced him to quit the enjoyments of his rural home, to meet his fellow citizens upon the political rostrum. The same principles now guided him which he had ever cherished; and although the frosts of age were upon him, he would still raise his voice for what he houself believed to be the true interests. He discussed the President's proclamation suspending conscripts drafted were pronounced unfit the writ of habeas corpus, and denounced the writ of habeas corpus, and denounced it as unconstitutional, wrancical and unjust. That last bulwark of our liberty was now gone—the great charter of human rights no longer exists. And this had been stricken down by a President who does not represent a majority of the people. After dweiling at some length on this topic, he asserted that the people had but one right left, and that was the ballot but one right left, and that was the ballot appointing a court martial to try Surgeon box, and how long that right would last, Salisbary for alleged accepting bribes from God only knew. Ten thousand shoulder-

He next referred to the Union and asserted that it could only be saved by the Democratic party. He had been called a "copperhead" by the mushroons of Republicanism, but this should not deter him from dains him the save that the should not deter him the save that from doing his duty. He might die by the assassin, but he would die standing by the assassin, but he would die standing by the rights of the people. The Democrats were in favor of crushing the rebellion. The speaker paid a beautiful tribute to Gen. McClelland, whom he styled the nation's idol; a second Washington, and the second saviour of his country, destined to be our next President. [Prolonged theoring] After an eloquent appeal in favor of Woodward and Lowry, the speaker retired amid boisterous applause.

Louisville, Sept. 21.-1 A. M.-Our army under Rosecrans has been badly beaten and compelled to retreat to Chattanooga by Bragg, with heavy reinforcements from Lee, Beuregard and Joe Johnston. Military occupation of the wires will prevent the transmission of farther particulars to night.

Early in the action the rebels made an impetuous charge on the famous Loomis Battery, and five out of the six guns were captured. Capt. Van Pelt, commanding he battery was taken prisoner. At 2 'clock the contest was terrific. The roll of musketry was far more continuous and leafening than at Stone river.
