age, "bring coals from Newcastle," is being verified in the shipment of coal from the East to the West. The exhorbitant price which coal in this city has reached, has induced our people to seek a new channel by which to supply themselves with this indispensable article. The result is that anthracite coal is now being shipped over the Pennsylvania Railroad and delivered at our doors cheaper than coal furnished by our own dealers. At Hall to night. first view this seems to be utterly impossi bushel. This will be good news to our people, who, surrounded as it were, by an people, who, surrounded as it were, oy an amphitheatre of coal hills, are compelled to pay two prices for it, with the very comfortable assurance from those who sell the article that it will reach still higher figures. But we feel assured that this new channel of supply will not only be the means of keeping it from going up any higher, but will cause it to recede in price to something like its just value. If, then, there are any coal minera in this region who contemplate a demand for higher wages, or speculators who expect to grow rich by a rise in "black diamonds." let them make a note of these facts, and act as their better judgments shall dictate.

The Patriarchal branch of the order is also in a sound and healthy condition. In Vermont shows an unhealthy condition, and it is feared that the Grand Lodge of that State will cease to exist if relief is not soon afforded. In Rhode Island the order is in good condition, though without much increase. Southern New York shows increased vitality and greater interest during the past year, the initiations having been more than for several years past. In New well, and promises well for the future The report from Pennsylvania shows slight decrease in the membership, but larger amount of receipts, and 500, making a total membership of 6,836. There was granted for relief $7,649.11.

In Connecticut the order remains about the same condition as at the last re port. In Indiana there is an increased prosperity, the initiations having morthan doubled those of the previous year.

The report from Ohio says that at no ne riod was the order on a more solid basis. In Kentucky full reports were not received from the subordinate lodges, out there was a general prosperity. Tennessee has suffered severely and the order was on the verge of annihilation, but hopes are entertained that it will entirely recover from the shock. From Wisconsin the report is satisfactory. In Iowa the order is thought to be in a more healthy condition than it was a year ago. In California the order is still on the march of prosperity. Eigh teen new lodges were formed during the year and nearly 1,000 new members added. The report from Minnesota shows a marked improvement. The order prospers in Oregon, and the future is bright. The report from Kansas shows quite a healthy condition of the order. In Nebraska the order is prosperous, as it is also in the Sandwich Islands. The receipts from the grand lodges dur ing the year were $5.131,19, and from the rrand encempments $1,100,19 and the or ire recei ts from all sources were $14, 749.39. THE DAY OF ATONEMENT.-The He rew last of the Atonement began on Tuesday evening, with the appearance of the stars, and continued until the same hour last evening. This is one of the most sol-emn fasts observed by the Israelitish church, and is unto this day strictly re garded among that people, though many of the ceremonials are dispensed with. In the early days of the church the priest who made the sacrifice of the atonement were required to put on holy linen garments, girded with a linen girdle, and a linen mitre. The goats and bullock were then made offerings for sin, and the blood was springled on the mercy seat. In these las er days these ceremonies are not observed, but the people keep a fast for four and twenty hours, nor do they permit any servile work in their households. The observance of the day is strictly required of Scids, Cream Tartar, Reg Musterland, S all who are recognized as members of any
