DAILY POST. DAILY POST-ADVANCED BATES. THE REV. CHARLES WOLFE. The Belfast News-Letter published the

Death of Mary. If I had thought thou could'st bave died, I that thou could at mortal be;
It never through my mind had passed,
That time would e'er be o'er;
When I on thee should look my last,
And thou shouldst smile no more. And still upon that face I look,
And think 'twill smile again;
And still the thought I will not brook,
That I must look in vain;

But when I speak thou dost not say What thou ne'er left'st unsafe; And now, I feel—as well I may, Sweet May thou art dead. If thou would st stay ev'n as thou art, All cold and all serene,

I still might press thy silent heart,
And where thy smile has been:
While ev'n thy chill bleak corse I have, Thou seemest still mine own, But there—I lay thee in the grave, And now-I am alone. do not think where'er thou art,

Thou hast forgotten me; And I perhaps may soothe this heart In thinking still of thee! Yet there was round thee such a dawn Of light ne'er seen before, As Fancy never could have drawn, And never can restore.

Excitement Caused by a Mad Dog
—Four Persons Bitten. On Tuesday night great excitement was created in Charlestown, Mass. by the appearance of a large Newfoundland dog, with the hydrophobia, on the streets, having escaped from his kennel, where he had been chained for several weeks. The Boston Traveller says: His very wild condition attracted the attention of a number of persons. The dog ran up to one of them, who was standing upon the street, biting him several times in the least the street. eral times in the legs, at the same time tearing his pants badly. This man immediately proceeded to the station-house and gave information, when several officers, armed with clubs and pisto's, started off for Front street. In the meantime the dog went through the Festivation the dog went through the Fitchburg freight depot, and up the track a short distance, when he came upon the street as an arrange of the street and an arrange of the street and arrange of the street and arrange of the street are street as a succession of the street as a succession of the street are street as a succession of the street as a succession from his back, so that it was rendered worthless. This man fortunately escaped worthless. This man fortunately escaped being bitten. The dog continued on and attacked a third man, biting him upon the legs, so as to cause serious wounds. The man also lost a good portion of his pantaloons and a part of his coat. Atter leaving these men the dog ran up Front et, at a rapid rate as far as the railread crossings, where a little son of Mr. Burroughs, the gate-tender, was playing and roughs, the gate tender, was playing upon the platform. The dog perceiving the lad attacked him and bit him several times upon the upper portion of the legs, mak-
