Dr. J. H. SCHENCK.

THROUGH THE SOLICITATION of numerous persons, the above name gentleman will be at the brug store of D GEORGE: H. KEYSER, 140 Wood streat, Pitte

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, November 4th, 5th and 6th, for the examinati of patients afflicted with any disease of the Pul-monary ergans, such as

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION,

or any chronic disease of a wasting or debilitating type, or decaying of the natural powers. Dr SOHENCK would advise all persons who have chronic aliments, and wish to consuit him, to cut this advertisement out, so as to enable them to remember the time of his wist.

For consultation and advice he makes no charge.

For consultation and advice he makes no charge.

Many persons, however, desire a thorough examination of the lungs, so as to know their exact condition. For such an examination his charge is three dollars. The examination being made with an instrument of his own invention, called "SCHENK'S KESPIROMETER," the examination is entirely freef om pain, and will point out the true condition of the lungs, whether in a healthy or morbid state.

Below will be found a recent certificate of cure in the city of New York, attested by several witnesses. Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, if Pittsburgh was present when the statement of Mrs. Batholomew was given, and can vouch for its penunness. Hundreds of cures of a like character are scattered all over the United States, so as to convince the mest incredulous of the value of Dr. Schenck's medicines.

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A RUN-

EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF A RUN NING TUMOR by Dr. SCHENCK' MEDI GINES. The healing powers of SCHENCK's PULMONIC SYRUP strikingly illustrated MRB. MARY BARTHOLOMEW, No 83 Wes Forty-fifth street, New York:

This is to certify that I have been laboring This is to certify that I have been laboring inder a disease supposed to be Liver Complaint for a great many years. There was a hard swelling in my side, which became quie large. Is dectors called it a tunor. After some time it brake and entitued running for fourteen years, somet mes discharging a thin watery matter, and other times green bile. I had the best medical attendance in New York, and my physicians all told me that the ulcrous hole in my side must not be healed or the discharges from itstopped, or I walld soon die. My physicians gave me calomelor meloury until my mouth became all told me that the ulcrous hole in my side must not be healed or the discharges from it stopped, or I wantl soon die. My physicians gave me calomel or mecary until my mouth became very sore, at deveral times I was sally a ed as badly as any one could be without d. log under the process. No one could be tortured more than I was and divethrough it. Within the last year my strength begin to fail more than ever; my blood seemed to stop flowing, my puse at times ceased to beat fer fifteen or twenty see nds at a time. My skin and the whites of my eyes were a sayellow messaffor. I were the service of the sayellow messaffor.

by the Providence of God, have been the means of the restora ion of my life, for which I shall ever be thankful.

Several of my friends, through my recommendation, have been using Dr. Schenck's medicines for consumption and other diseases of that kind. All of them have been greatly benefit ed. I make this public statement in order that the thousands who suffer from diseases similar to mine may be induced to try Dr. Schenck's invaluable medicines. Do not think as I did, that if your favorite doctor cannot help you no one can. I would advise every consumptive person to go and see Dr. Schenck, and tollow his preceiptions. Take his advice, at least, if you do not take his medicines. It is encouraging to hear the people conversing in his rooms and describing the benefit they receive from his treatment. Their looks show that they have no deception in them. They are all anxious for help, and are being all helped, I wish all who are afflicted as I was to call and see ma, for I feel that I can satisfy every one of them that this statement is not exaggerated. I relate all the particulars, because I know that many are like what I was—skeptical. I have requested a number of my friends to append their names to my statement, in order that no person can entertain any reasonable doubts on the subject.

The precedent which Mr. Lincoln has in this case set himself rests on reasons which are much wider in the application than the case heimmediately decides; and let us hope that the mature reflection of which his decision is the fruit has brought the full scope of these considerations under his view. He must at least have been led to feel that the stiffness and assurance only its rave on the paper, or let the form The precedent which Mr. Lincoln has der his view. He must at least bave been led to feel that the stiffness and assurance with which the radical politicians and journals push their favorite measures is no test of their soundness or expediency; for their whole press in every part of the country has pressed the removal of Gen.

Schofield in a strain of as downright version of the head form the shade. In the same way, with a candle or lamp, throw the light upon the paper, and do not let the glare of light go direct to your eyes. If the light be above as from a chandelier, so much the better. If in the habit of Schofield in a strain of as downright ve-hemence, and with as deep an apparent hemence, and with as deep an apparent conviction of resolute necessity, as they have ever exhibited in relation to any important step they have urged upon the President. He paid his stoutness of advocacy its grounds, an examination which resulted in his finding these grounds of no force in themselves and dangerous in their consequences. In the North the whole population supports the Union; in the greater part of the South the whole population equally supports the rebellion. It is only where there is a geographical intermixture of rebels and Unionists, or of men whose passions have been deeply stirred by the contest, that the relentless hatred engendered by the war finds its objects in the same neighborhood and in the bosom of the same family. When men cultivating adjoining farms thirst for each other's blood; when on lying down at night they feel no assurance that their throats may not be cut or their houses burned over their heads before morning, nere is presented a picture of the horrors and atrocities peculiar to civil war. This is a phrase through which Missouri has passed; and the embers are still burn ng.

Had the State been left to itself in the early stages of the war, the rebels would undoubtedly have got the upper hand and have carried it out of the Union. But the Federal arms prevailed. So large a pro-portion of the people have been consistent Union men that a steady, just and conciliatory policy will probably insure the main-tenance of order and tranquility, without much further disturbance. Every State out of which the rebel forces are driven.

alled to act in Missouri. By his action in reference to General Schofield, Mr. Lincoln has decided that the radicals are rash advisers, whose counsels tend only to exasperation and wanton bloodshed. One ground of this dissatis-faction with General Schofield is the interdict he put upon the Kabsas radicals under Jim Lane, when they were preparing to cross the border and retaliate the terrible massacre at Lawrence by wreaking indiscriminate vengeance on all whom they choose to suspect. Another, and the chief ground for their dissatisfaction, was that General Schofield did not co-operate with them in their efforts to induce slaves to desert their masters. At a time when what is most needed in Missouri is mode-rate and healing counsels, and sedative, tranquilizing measures, these radicals are trying to make the President their instru

The delegation has no reason to complain that their application was treated by the President with any want of courtesy, nor with their views have been condemned without a fair hearing and a full and attentive examination. Though their prejudices may not be subdued by his reasoning, they can at least take no exception to the temper and spirit of his letter.
