The Union as It Was, The Constitution as It Is.

THE COMMERCIAL PRINTING CO. In last Monday's issue of the Pittsburgh Commercial, an article appeared in relation to the Post, which contained the following:

We know that in the beginning of this war the Fost by pursuing a loyal course succeeded in wheedling from our business men several thousands of dollars We have the names of firms who contributed sums varying from fifty to five hun dred dollars, to enable it to pay its debts and continue its existence, &c."

The heat of the late political campaign being over, when this article appeared, we were unable to divine a cause for so shameful an attack upon our business and credit. We accordingly addressed a private note to the person who, in the streets proclaims himself the head of the paper in question, asking him for the names of those contributors to wnom his company alluded.

We, on Wednesday, published our note but up to the present moment we have not received any answer to it, either private out of their money by the proprietor of this paper. The charge of the Commercial is an explicit one; there is no qualifleation about it; the company know, they say, what they have stated, and we are de termined to prove they lie. The Commercial Printing Co. having made the outrageous charge in question, and refusing to even attempt to prove it. will serve to indicate the character of that iustitution. As we have before etated, it is controlled by a few damaged adventurers whose political and personal morality may be judged by the brazen performance to which we have alluded.

GEV. ROSECRANS The principal reason given out by the War Department for the sudden and unexpected removal of Gen. Rosechans, i that he was "too slow" in marching against Bragg. This was Halleck's complaint of Gen. McCLELLAN; he too was too slow in reaching Richmond, al though none of his successors have been able to get far away from Washington. But Gen. ROSECRANS, in his speech at the Merchants' Exchange in Cincinnati vice. He was not allowed to move when he could have annihilated the army; but was held back until BRAGG was reinforced from Virginia, and then he received a peremptory order to advance. In order to dodge the responsibility of this monty. This is the strategy of those in power in Washington. Gen. ROSECRANS 13 another victim to the stupidity enthroned in the War Office, which appropriates to itself the glory of every petty achievement, and fastens upon subalterns the guilt of all its crimes. From this time forth the effort will be to crush Rosecrans; nothing can save him from utter destruction by the War Department, except acknowledging the truth of its slanders. This course upon the part of Bunn. SIDE, in relation to the massacre at Fredericksburg, saved his head, and a similar performance by Rosecrans may secure him his. This, together with a few Abolition speeches, will, doubtless, go far to keep him in the service, or put him upon the retired list, on half pay.
