

The Emperor Napoleon's Letter. The Paris Monitor of the 11th inst. publishes the letter of the Emperor of the French to the Sovereigns of Europe proposing a Congress. The Monitor proposes the document with the remark that the French Government had not intended such an early publication in that journal, but as the copy addressed to the German Confederation had appeared in a Frankfurt journal, the motive for any further postponement of it no longer existed.

"If we consider attentively the situation of different countries, it is impossible to recognize that of France as the most peaceful, the most moderate, the most disinterested, or the most just. Hence duties and pretensions without number, and the more to be dreaded, inasmuch as the which has not been produced by civilization, but by the reciprocal interests of nations, and which will make war still more destructive. Let us not wait, in order to come to a resolution, till sudden and irresistible events of ourselves, into the hands of a despotic power, to regulate the present, and to secure the future, in a Congress."

"I call to the throne by Providence and the will of the French people, it is perhaps, less allured of adversity, it is another to give the rights of sovereignty and the legitimate aspirations of peoples, to carry into an international Congress the spirit of moderation and justice which the portion of those who have endured so many years of trial and sorrow, and who are entitled to the sympathy of the world, should have."

"The reported Resignation of Judge T. S. Solom. Reflections. The Duquesne (Lows) Herald, in noticing the reported resignation of Chief Justice T. S. Solom, says: When for is all that is left of Republican Government, the best service Chief Justice Solom can do is to resign of the office, and give color to no longer to the fiction that the Government is one of law and justice. At the present time the post of honor is the private station."

"A Free Country. The Freedom of Speech and Press. Freedom of the Press. The following passage is from a familiar work: 'The right of the citizen to speak and write as he pleases is a right which is essential to the preservation of the Republic. It is a right which is essential to the preservation of the Republic. It is a right which is essential to the preservation of the Republic.'"

"The New York Tribune ridicules the white men's strike for higher wages. The Tribune says: 'The white men's strike for higher wages is a ridiculous and unwarrantable demand. It is a demand that is based on a false premise, and it is a demand that is based on a false premise.'"
