WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—The Star in ishes the following in advance of its publication: Telegrams were received here last evening from Knoxville, up to yester day morning. General Foster had assumed command of the troops late under Burnside. The latter had departed from Knoxville for Cincinnati; all was then with the right of the control of th quiet in the vicinity of Knoxville. It was stated there on the authority of scouts and messengers that much of Longstreet's arillery and trains had fallen into the hands of our pursuing forces, but this lacked confirmation. The region in which the pursuit is now being made is so far distant from the telegraph as to make it difficult to verify such statements.

General Butler and a number of the
