${f DAILY\ POST}$ A Terrible Mean Man. We have known some very mean men in our time. There was Deacon Over Philad'phia Advertisements reach; now he was so mean, he always carried a hen in his gig-box when he J. RODMAN BICKS traveled to pick up the oats his hors wasted in the manger, and lay an egg for his breakfast in the morning. And then there was Hugo Himmellanf who made his wife dig potatoes to pay for the mar-riage license. We must tell that story of Hugo, for it is not a bad one, and good Hugo, for it is not a bad one, and good stories, like potatoes, are not so plenty now as they used to be when we were a boy. When he was going to get married to Gretchen Golp, he goes down to Parson Rogers, at Digby, to get a license. 'Porson,' says he, 'what's the price of a license?' 'Six dollars,' says he. 'Six dollars,' says he. 'Six dollars,' said Hugo, 'that's a dreadful sight of money. Couldn't you take no less?' 'No says he, 'that's what they cost me at the Secretary's office at Halifax.' 'Well, how much do you ax for publishing in church then?' 'Nothing,' says the parson. Well, says Hugo, 'that's so cheap, I can't expect you to give no chang' back. I think I'll be published. How long does it take?' 'Three Sundays!' says the parson. 'Well, that's a long time. But three Sundays only make a fortnight, after all; two for the covers and one for the inside like; and covers and one for the inside like; and poor man to throw away. I must wait.'-So off he went, jogging towards home, an looking about as mean as a new sheared sheep, when all at once a bright thought came into his head, ann back he went as hard as his horse would carry him. 'Par'son,' says he, 'I have changed my mind —here's the six dollars. I'll tie the knot to-night with my tongue that I can't und with my teeth.' 'Why, what in nature is the meaning of all this?' says the parson 'Why,' says Hugo, 'I've been cyphering it out in my head, and its cheaper than COAL OIL BURNERS. publishing banns, after all. You see, sir, its potato-digging time; if I wait to be called in church, her father will have her work for nothing; and as hands are scarce and wages high, if I marry her to night she can begin to dig our own to morrow and that will pay for the license and jus seven shillings over, for there ain't a mar in all Clements that can dig and carry a many bushels a day as Gretchen can And, besides, fresh wives work like smoke at first, but they get saucy and lazy after while.' He married her and made he dig potatoes during the heneymoen. W call that mean. - Sam Slick A Great Waterfall. A detachment of troops recently scout ing in the valley of the Snake or Lewis fork of the Columbia, discovered a water. fall which, it is said, is entitled to the distinction of being called the greatest in the world. The entire volume of Snake river pours over a sheer precipice one hundred and ninety eight feet high, thirty-eight feet higher than Niagara. Snake river is full as large as the Niagara, and the Cascale is one solid sheet or body. The locality of this immense waterfall is near the point heretofore designated as the Great Shoshone or Salmon falls of that river, bu they have always been enveloped in mys tery. Almost a dozen years age the writer passed along the Snake river road. For two days we had heard the roaring of these falls, but learned no more respecting them than if they had been in the in the moon. It was said that there were a series of falls and rapids, making a descent of seven hundred feet in seven miles, and the sound gave color to the re-port. For hundreds of miles across the great plain Snake river flows through a canon, with vertical walls hundreds of feet high. It is only at long intervals that salient points are found by which the river can be reached. The road crosses from point to point of the bends, only approaching close to the river where there is a chance to descend for water. From these facts very few, if any, of the tens of thousands of adventurers that have crossed the plains ever looked apon the great falls. The late discovery The late discoverers report beside the main cataract many others of less height, varying from twenty to fifty feet each, near by. Some day they will be visited by the tourist and pleasure stacker, and looked upon as frequently and familiarly as Niagara is to day, and it will be admit ted that with the stupend ous grandeur of their surroundings, they are as far beyond Niagara as Niagara as Niagara as Niagara Niagara as Niagara ar w excels the bal-ance of the world.

A Jolly Thanksgiving. Chicago, poxt after Boston, must be considered the headquarters of the progressive reformers, and, as might be expected, some of the clergymen there had a novel way of observing Thanksgiving day. A few dispensed with texts of Scripture and went directly to their subjects, hampered by no such embarrassment. with the control of t

I am fully aware of the great anxiety in the public mind that something should be done, I am in receipt of many letters, some from persons in high positions, telling me I had better have my army destroyed, and the country filled up with the bodies of the soldiers, than remain in active. Whilst I do not suffer myself to be influenced by such communications, I am and have been most anxious to effect something, but am determined, at every hazard, not to attempt anything unless my library means object commensurate with the destriction of life necessarily involved.
