THE PITTSBURGH POST: THURSDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 31, 1863.

...ILY POST.

SOUTHERN NEWS.

Texas—Message of the Governor.

The Governor, "in view of the isolation of the States west of the Mississippi, whereby they are thrown upon their own resources," earnestly recommends an appropriation of at least one million dollars—to be issued on cotton bonds, or that cotton be purchased to be paid for in bonds—in order to purchase arms and munitions for the benefit of the State.

The Governor is distinct upon the question of peace. There is to be no peace in Texas until the independence of the Confederate States is acknowledged.

A Letter from Gen. Lee.

During his recent visit to Richmond, the Virginia House of Representatives invited him to a seat on the floor. The General replied thus:

RICHMOND, Dec. 16.

Hon. THOS. S. BOCOCK, Speaker of the House of Representatives:

SIR: I have received your communication of this date, informing me that the House of Representatives had invited me to a seat in their Hall. I am deeply grateful for this undeserved honor, and should be much gratified to be able to avail myself of the privilege, and to enjoy the opportunity of paying my respects to the Representatives of the people; but called to Richmond on public business, my whole attention is occupied in its execution.

With profound thanks for the honor extended to me by the House of Representatives, and sincerely grateful for the kind sentiments expressed by yourself, I am, most respectfully, your obedient servant,

R. E. LEE.

Scarcity of Printers.

In nearly every paper we pick up we see advertisements for printers, and yet there were before the war, more papers printed in the State of Georgia than are now published in the Confederate States. The reason of this is at least 75 per cent. of the fraternity have been, and are now, in the army. Many of them command brigades, regiments and companies, and are upon different Generals' staffs, while hundreds of them met death upon the field of glory. We venture that there is not an office in the South that has not a representative in the field and many offices were suspended at the commencement of the struggle, in order that the proprietor, editor, printers and all might enlist. They are generally men of education and always of superior intelligence, and therefore fully understand the principles they are fighting for, and the hardships, disease and death, incident to the life of a soldier.—Macon (Ga.) Confederate.

Affairs in Mobile.

The recent message of the Mayor of Mobile presents a very satisfactory review of affairs in that city for the past year. He says there has been no suffering or actual distress in the city. The citizens of Mobile contributed $130,000 for the support of the free market, where 4,000 poor and needy persons received good and substantial food, while 1,000 families have been clothed at a cost of $70,000, donated by the same liberal hands. The cash receipts in the city treasury over the expenditures for the past year, are upwards of $56,000, and the entire amount in the treasury is $186,800. This is a most satisfactory exhibit, and shows that the strictest economy has been exercised by the authorities of our sister city.—Richmond Enquirer.

Aliens in Mississippi.

Governor Clark, of Mississippi, has issued a proclamation, notifying all aliens in the State, between the ages of eighteen and forty-five, to volunteer in the military service of the Confederacy by the 1st of March next, or leave the State, except such as are, or may be exempted on any other ground than that of alienage. They are also notified that all under or above the conscript age are liable to do militia duty in the State as native born citizens are. Confederate officers, having power to do so, are requested by the Governor to grant passports to all aliens who desire to leave the State under the provisions of the law.

Gen. Pillow's Success at Conscription.

General Pillow has returned to the service, for the months of September and October, from Alabama and Mississippi, twenty-six thousand men in infantry and cavalry. If the whole of the Confederacy could be placed under an administration of conscription, distinguished by the vigilance, energy and intelligence which seem to govern the district of Alabama and Mississippi, we should have no occasion to fear for the strength of our armies in the field or the success of our cause.—Richmond Sentinel.

The Family of Dr. Wright.

Among all the afflictions brought upon families and individuals by the war, we have heard of no case which presents so many horrors as that of the family of the late Dr. David M. Wright, lately murdered by the Yankees in Norfolk. Since his cruel death by hanging, his widow has died of disease of the mind, and one of his daughters a most interesting young lady, has gone mad. The eldest son of Dr. Wright having been killed at the battle of Gettysburg his family are now left indigent circumstances, and without a Under these circumstances it ...ed to make an effort to by subscription, ...t to bring the ...se lines, and place ...ong those who sym... afflictions.

...ankee Prisoners—Attempted Escape.

Saturday night was fixed upon by the Yankee deserters confined in the building opposite Castle Thunder for the escape of the whole of them from the prison. Unperceived by the officials, they had cut a large hole in the wall on the west end, and by nicely replacing the bricks in the day time, kept their operations covered up. One of their own number turned traitor and informed the inspector of the plot. In order to get at the ringleaders, they were all called by name, singly, and the guilty were pointed out by the informer. Thirty-nine were separated and transferred to the Castle, where they were placed in more secure confinement.—Richmond Ex.
