It seems that Miss Hunter arrived in this city on the evening before Christ-mas, from Donegal, Ireland, and the rest day procured a situation in a hotel, where she remained till New Year's, and was taken sick. Mr. Miller, who knew her parents in Ireland, had her conveyed to his house, where she received medica treatment and kind attention during her liness. On Thursday she had so far re covered as to be able to join the family in their evening meal. Shortly after supper she went into the back-yard, and staying an unusual length of time, Mrs. Miller went in search of her, and found her lying on the ground with her throat cut, an in a dying condition. No cause can be assigned for the rash act other than melancholy superinduced by illness in a land of strangers, as she was heard to say on Thursday: 'If I was only at home with mother, I would never leave her again." day and the jury rendered a verciat of self destruction
