In order to give more efficiency to the mail service upon the elevated route, the Postmaster General has divided the route into four sections, and issued proposals for carrying the mails on each.

H. D. COOK and FAIRBANKS, esq., of the firm of JAY, COOK & Co., bankers, of Washington, have made the handsome donation of $2,000 to cover the expenses of constructing the building now in progress at a Newbury's Home in that city.

The cars on the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad are now running to Sharon, and will run to Middlesex in a few days. The track from the Lake Shore road to the harbor of Erie is being laid down as rapidly as possible, and in early spring trains will run from Erie harbor to Pittsburgh.

The estimate at the Bureau of Internal Revenue of the annual manufacture of whisky in the country is 100,000,000 gallons. It is calculated that Ohio alone produces 40 million, New York 25 million, Pennsylvania 10 million, Illinois 2 million, and all the other States 20 million. These estimates are largely in excess of census returns for 1860, but it is from the Treasury Department that their date from excise officers is reliable.

The Richmond Dispatch says that there is a feeling abroad in that city that the great crisis of the war—the turning point in our fate—is fast approaching. Whether a crisis be upon us or not, there can be in the mind of no man who looks at the map of Georgia, and considers her geographical relations to the rest of the Confederacy a single doubt that much of our future is involved in the result of the next spring campaign in Upper Georgia.

The following card appears in the New York papers: "Lieut. Gen. Scott a third time extracts the forbearance of Congress. He still receives three the number of letters he can read, and a multitude more than he can acknowledge. To open applications for autographs he finds oppressive, though it is long since he answered one. And he hopes to be pardoned for adding that his observations on mail and events are often misinterpreted by letter-writers who has not seen him."

It is said that a number of colored people of Philadelphia were recently before the War Department for contracts for Quartermaster's supplies. David Brown and Jacob C. White had an interview with Secretary Stanton on Friday, and offered to engage to deliver in thirty, sixty and ninety days, shirts, drawers, haversacks and blouses, to the extent of 300,000 of either. They received assurances that the colored people should be placed hereafter upon the same footing with whites, in the matter of contracts.

Correspondents at Hilton Head repeat the story that the Charlestonians are preparing their iron-clad vessels to assault the fleet blockading Charleston. One of the vessels now building is modelled upon the plan of the Ironsides, and is intended to carry on each broadside four heavy guns. The other two are like the Danmacks. They received assurances that the colored people should be placed hereafter upon the same footing with whites, in the matter of contracts.

Sen. STANTON, now in command of the Army of Artisan, is a letter to a member of Congress, after stating that a partial delegation of distinguished gentlemen are on their way to Washington, says he has not identified himself with politics in that State, holding it to be his duty to carry out the policy of the Government, whatever it may be. He has exerted himself to unite the Union sentiment in the State, and he thinks, with some success. That, although there are some who would like to preserve their slave property, yet it is apparent that slavery is a bygone institution, and it cannot be continued there.

In regard to French designs in Mexico, Mr. SEWARD instructs Mr. DAVTON that "the United States had neither the right nor the disposition to intervene by force in the internal affairs of Mexico, but that the Government believes that foreign intervention, or attempts to control American civilization, must and will fall before the ceaseless and ever increasing activity of material, moral and political forces which peculiarly belongs to the American continent. Nor do the United States deny that, in their opinion, their own safety and the obedient fidelity to which they aspire are intimately dependent on the continuance of free republican institutions throughout America." In regard to the acknowledgment of the status of Mexico by the United States, he says the "United States, consistently with their principles, cannot do otherwise than leave the destinies of Mexico in the keeping of her own people, and recognize their sovereignty and independence in whatever form they themselves shall choose that this sovereignty and independence shall be manifested."

FRIDAY, JANUARY 22, 1864. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

Meeting of Oil Brokers.

A meeting of the Oil Brokers of this city was held at the office of J. F. Duncan on the 19th inst., for the purpose of devising some plan to protect their interests, and adopt rules and regulations for their mutual benefit.

Resolved, That we, the Commission Merchants and Commercial Brokers, in a time-honored and respectable position, not only in this country but in all commercial cities in Europe, and that the Government is pleased to tax them as high as the most successful dealers in the United States.

Resolved, That we, the Commission Merchants and Commercial Brokers of this city, will, by all possible means, within our power, protect ourselves against illegal runners and parties coming into this city, with the intent to defraud us of our rights and the Government of its just revenues.

Resolved, That we consider it unjust and very unpatriotic to place in the hands of unscrupulous parties any samples of merchandise, with instructions to offer for commission or emolument, except the actual employees of licensed Brokers and Commission Merchants.

After some discussion the preamble and resolutions were adopted.

A letter was read from W. J. Troth, Assistant Assessor of the letters or cards dated Jan. 21, 1864, and asks the meeting to appoint a committee to co-operate with him in ascertaining who have been or may be hereafter be guilty of violating the law by selling oil at the river without having taken out a license, thereby not only defrauding the Government of its revenues, but also injuring the business of those who have paid a license. The letter was ordered to be read, and J. F. Duncan appointed W. F. Logan, Assistant Assessor, and J. F. Duncan, in accordance with his recommendations.

The committee was instructed to call upon the Assessor and procure the names of all licensed commissioned Oil Brokers engaged in the business in the city and vicinity.

A motion was made and carried for W. P. Logan, J. F. Duncan and H. Rosenberg, to be appointed to prepare rules and regulations for the government of a Board of Oil Brokers.

Mr. Rosenberg offered a resolution, which was laid over until the next meeting, taking strong grounds against the proposed tax on crude oil.

On motion the meeting adjourned to meet again, at the same place, on Saturday day afternoon, at three o'clock.

TRIAL FOR PERjury.—The case of A. McGreggor, indicted for perjury, was brought to a close in the District Court yesterday. The defendant, who is a resident of Somerset county, entered bail in the United States District Court, August, 1861, for the appearance of Joseph Shook, maker, who had been arrested at Johnstown on a charge of counterfeiting. The bail required was $3,000, and McGreggor swore that he was worth that amount, after all his liabilities were paid. Shook, maker subsequently left the State, when when was left against the bail bond, it was discovered that McGreggor was worth nothing. The trial, which was twice postponed, upon application made for a continuance, but it was taken up this morning.

For the prosecution, and Messrs. Ford and Dicken for the defendant. John H. Bailey, esq., Commissioner, testified to having sworn the defendant in usual manner. Other witnesses were called to prove that, when the bail was taken upon the bond, no property could be found. Verdict guilty in manner and form as indicted.

BATTLEFIELD OF GETTYSBURG.—Hon. Joseph B. Rogers, chairman of the Provisional Committee of the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association, has issued a circular to the people of Pennsylvania, stating the importance of preserving the sacred grounds where was fought the greatest battle of the present war, and calling upon them to contribute towards their purchase. The Memorial Association is to preserve the battle field, with its natural and artificial defences, in the form of a national park, during the battle-days of July. Mr. D. M. Conyngham, who is the author of the project, has secured the purchase of the most striking and interesting portions, including the heights of Cemetery Hill, the granite spur of Round Top, with the wonderful stone defences constructed by the Pennsylvania Reserves, the timber breastworks on the right, extending for five miles along Wolf Hill, and other important points. We presume a local committee of the association will be appointed for an incorporation similar to that of a Monument Association is contemplated.

Volunteers in the Twenty-fourth District.—The Board of Agents of the Twenty-fourth District is going on Wednesday last. "The volunteering in this beautiful field for where it furnishes a fine field of oratory. Bored, touchy people, fast men, ministers and gongolers all receive their dues, and their engagements will allow them to lecture twice here. We expect the hall will be crowded on both occasions. Go early if you wish good seats."

THE PANORAMA OF THE BATTLE OF BULL RUN.—The Panorama of the Battle of Bull Run, which is now on exhibition at the corner of Market and Second streets, is a beautiful and instructive picture. It will be open this evening and to-morrow afternoon and evening. It certainly deserves the patronage of all admirers of the beautiful either in art or nature. Do not see it this evening and you will not regret it.

ACCIDENT.—A little boy named George Rogers, enlisted here for company H. 156th Regiment on Saturday last, and forwarded to Camp Curtis, Harrisburg, on Monday, was accidentally shot with a musket ball in the abdomen, yesterday afternoon. He died but a short time. He was the son of a widow, and very intelligent.

REMY'S MINSTRELS.—Remember that this is the last night that Remy's Minstrels perform in this city owing to the fact that the Hall was pre-engaged. Let them have a bumper at parting. They richly deserve it.
