FEVER AND AGUE. The chills will not return if these Bitters are used. No person is ever cured of Ague without the use of these Bitters.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Evangelist. Although not disposed to favor or recommend any particular medicine, I have a high regard for the ingredients and effects of Hoofland's German Bitters...

Do this remedy in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by C. M. Jackson, they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am inclined to my friend's opinion, and would have the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and the building up of the system by the use of three bottles of these Bitters, at the beginning of the next year, and you will see the relief, and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I therefore thank God and you for directing me to the use of them.

ATTENTION SOLDIERS, AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS. We call the attention of all having relations of men in the army to the fact that Hoofland's German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposure and privation incident to camp life. In the lists published almost daily in the newspapers, the large proportion of those who die are young men, and it is not until they are in the arms of the angels that we are made aware of their death. We have seen many of our soldiers who were cured by Hoofland's German Bitters, and we would have all the friends of our soldiers, and of our country, to see that these Bitters were used by them.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS. See that the signature of C. M. JACKSON is on the WRAPPER of each bottle.

PRICES. Large size $1.00 per bottle, or Half Doz. $5.00 in advance. The Little size, on account, or Half Doz. $2.50 in advance. BOTTLES ARE MADE THE CHEAPER. Should your nearest druggist fail to supply you, do not be put off by any of the intoxicating preparations that may be offered in place, but send us, and we will forward, securely packed by express.

THE LAW OF CONFISCATION

Extracts from the Speech of Hon. S. S. Cox.

The debates in Congress now a days rarely amount to anything. We read them as a matter of duty, but it is the most non-compensating duty we ever had to perform.

Like a green spot in the desert, the speech of Mr. Cox of Ohio presented, appeared to us in the pages of the Globe. We regret that we have not space for the entire speech, which was able, direct to the point, and ought to have been conclusive to every honest mind.

Mr. Cox after declaring it to be his wish to punish traitors as severely and as summarily as was consistent with the constitution, discussed the general subject of confiscation, and from his argument we make the following extracts:

History, alas, is too full of examples of the ruthless savagery of confiscation. In proportion to the atrocities have been committed, the more has the confiscation of the lands which such savagery has been applied. It should wish to present a case all the horrors of abjectation, penury, devastation, and confusion have been felt, I would go to Ireland. Crushed by the cruelty of a tyrant, and by the rapacity of avarice, the people of Ireland have been reduced to a state of starvation and death.

Mr. Cox, I answer the gentleman by referring him to the President's message. [Laughter.] The President, in his message, to make the joint resolution to confiscate the property of traitors, to divert the title forever from treason and ingredients of treason, was unconstitutional. You passed the joint resolution to confiscate the property of traitors, to divert the title forever from treason and ingredients of treason, was unconstitutional.

Mr. Stevens, the Constitution provides that Congress shall have power to declare the punishment of treason, but no attainder of blood or forfeiture. Now has not Congress power to punish other than by death, and to declare the forfeiture of the estate, does it violate the first clause of the Constitution?

Mr. Cox. I answer the gentleman by referring him to the President's message.
