The Local Oil Trade.-The Oil than interested parties would like to have outsiders believe, for obvious reasons. We understand there is a considerable quantity stored at the Maple Shade, and also at the Philips well on the Tarr Farm, and at various other points along the Creek. We hear of a sale on last Saturday, of 200 barrels at $4,00 per barrel on the Story Farm, by Capt. Steiner, with a refusal to sell more at the same figures. There is lively demand for all kinds of machinery used in producing oil. Working claims and land interests freely change hands, and everything indicates the opening of a vigorous campaign in the spring on naturas great oil tanks in the bowels of the earth. We hear of parties who have contracted for boring to a lepth of 1500 feet, about three times the maximum depth. We can safely quote,
