STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION Mr. Dawson-Mr. Chairman, I deem STATEMENT OF THE CONDITION it proper to say that the pending amendment has received the sanction of the Democratic members of the House. It is urged in good faith, as a measure of simple justice to those for whose benefit it is intended. Its object is simply to secure to the sailor, as we propose to secure to the sallor,

The provided for the payment of the salaries due our representatives in foreign countries according to the gold standard.

The men who are fighting the battles of the country are, in a peculiar sense, entitled to a larger consideration and to and domestic endearments, they have accepted and are bearing the privations. sufferings and perils of a better sanguin-ary war. Their wives and children are still dependent for support upon their pay, who, deprived by their situation of the means of procuring that support from the ordinary pursuits of life, have relied with undoubting trust upon their engagements with the Government. So long as payment was rendered in coin or its equivalent, the soldier's pay being thirteen dollars per month for the private, and the seaman's about the same, which is not equal upon the average to the earnings from civil occupation, was yet such an approximation to that standard as could be contentedly borne. For some time back, however, owing to the excessive inflation of the paper isues of the Government, the departue from the gold standard has been constantly increasing, until at this time a dollar in greenbacks is worth only about sixty-four cents in gold.

This condition of things falls with especial severity upon that class of men two leaves leady made greaters serifices. who have already made greater sacrifices than any other in taking up arms in the common cause. Can the Government common cause. Can the Government common cause. COMMISSION MERCHANT, properly do less than preserve the faith of its solemn engagements by at once restoring the compensation to the value which it possessed when the war compart of the contract with noble fidelity and zeal. Antietam, Vicksburg, Gettysburg and Chattanooga, are monuments of their bravery and patriotism which will bear their fame to a distant and admiring future. If anything more were needed to commend the proposition to the acceptance of the House, I think it will be found in the effect the passage of such a measure would have upon enlistsuch a measure would have upon enlistments. So long as the soldier is paid as at present, enlistments are asked for with anill grade, and will he rendered witht irdiness which can hardly be surprising when we consider the change which hasbeen wrought in the terms of engaging the service, by the depreciation of the money substituted for the constitutional currency. It is true, Mr. Chairman, that many Democrats believe that this war could have been avoided, and now condemn the policy which govern it. Yet at the same time we condemn in unqualified terms the rebellion; are anxious to see it put down, and are determined to stand by any Administration or any policy that will bring the war to a speedy close, and establish in its place peace, an early peace, with the restoration of the Union and the legal and constitutional rights of all the States and all the people fully pro-tected and secured. We believe that when this great object is attained the war

But during its progress in the past as well as in the future we recognize the seaman and soldiers of the army as having gone forward to fight the battles of constitutional Government, and are at least entitled to our justice. Wherever any part of that great army has moved, upon the water or upon the land, its ranks have been filled with thousands of gallant Democrats, many of whom now sleep in soldiers' graves. I am aware, Mr. Chairman, that the Republican gen-

The Bellerophon, says the Times, "is to be to a fleet of iron clads what a fox-terrier is to a pack of hounds—a vessel of such strength and speed and tremendous weight of guns that, in the case of an enemy's iron flect running into port, she can follow them with impunity, and at long range fight them at their moorings, till she either drives them ashore or drives them out to sea." She will be three hundred feetlong, fifty-six feet wide, of forty-two hundred and forty-six tons, and of only twenty-six feet draft. Her lower port-sills are to be nine and a-half feet from the water, which would effable her to fight in almost any spa, no matter how heavy; her decks seven feethigh, and her quarters, or the distance between the guns, fifteen feet. Within this ninety feet is to be her battery, to and two six hundred-pounders, arranged in two six hundred-pounders, arranged in two broadsides, half on each side. For the rest of her length the ship carries a belt of the armor from five feet below the water line to six feet above it, so that the water line is shot-proof fore and aft. The two ends above this belt are built of tough light plates of steal and here of tough light plates of steel, and here the crew and officers will live in times of peace, and here there can be as many port-holes to the cabins and ventilating spaces as in an ordinary passenger steamer. In action, of course, all the officers and crew would be in the battery or below the line of the armor, six feet above

Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, —I became affleted with Piles about twenty years ago, and every year hey were growing worse, so as to trouble me very much, so much so at times as to unfit me for work. Sometimes I was so bad that I could not do anything on account of them, they came out on me as large as a linckory nut. I had tried a great deal of medicine for them. I used to buy and take whatever I could hear of or read of in cirrilars and pamphlets that fell in my way, but I could not get cured, sometimes they would do me some good for a little wide, but afterwards they would return again as bad as ever. I also applied to two Doctors who visited me at my house and gave me some medicine but it would not do, I could not get well. Over a year ago I got an advertisement of your Lindsay's Bloods.

COSTAR'S got an advertisement of your Lindsay's Blood-Searcher, made by yourself-when you sold it to me you told me one bottle would not cure me, and that my whole system would have to be renewed by the medicine before I got well. I newed by the medicine before I got well. I FOR RATS, MICE, ROACHES, ANTS, bought one bottle and took it home with me and was entirely well of the Piles, which had tortured me for twenty years. In other respects my health is improved, and I am as well as could be bo expected for one of my age, being sixty years past. I have been well now for six months, and
