He asserts that the revolt against Spain was unsuccessful for years, and would have remained unsuc- cessful had not the church thrown its weight into the scale; then, and not till then, was Spanish power driven out. For years every Government that under- took to administer the affairs of the na- tion in hostility to the church was over- thrown by a people, who, whether revo- lutionists or not, are all obedient chil- dren of the church in all matters of faith. The French intervention was nomi- nally in the interest of the church, but, having once obtained possession, French authority will be used to keep the church stripped of its property and divested of its ancient privileges. From these facts, we draw the conclusion that, should the French Government, or the Emperor Maximilian, refuse to restore to the church the property taken from it by Jua rez, then the church party, joining for that purpose with the faction of Juarez, and uniting the whole people against the foreign oppressor, will do, what it has done on all former occasions, turn the scale of power, and drive Maximilian from Mexico. The alternative is 'unavoidable. Un- less he undoes all that the Juarez gov- ernment did, and restores the church property, then he will find Mexico uni- ted as against him; and in that case it is safe to nerdict his refer will be above	while complexions and light flesh tints, it also, of course, improves the yellow hair of blondes. Blue, therefore, is the standard color for a blonde, or yellow for a brunette. But the brunette who has already too much orange in her face, must avoid setting it in blue. Orange suits nobody. It whitens a brunette, but that is scarcely a desirable effect, and it is ugly. Red, unless when it is of a dark hue, to increase the effect of whiteness by contrast of tone, is rare- ly suitable in any close neighborhood to a lady's skin. Rose-red destroys the freshness of a good complexion; it sug- gests green. For this reason it ought not to be chosen for the linings and hangings of the boxes of a theatre if la- dies who frequent it are to look well in their evening toilette. Rose-red, wine- red, and light crimson boxes give agreen int to the ladies in them; if they would rather have the best made of all natural rose in their faces, the hanging they should wish for ought to be light green. But they would suit best pale or fair complexions, just as the amber hangings in the opera-house in the Haymarker, used to be the best' suited, and, in fact, only suited for brunettes. The dark crimson of the draperies adopted at the rival house, were more impartial, as they tended by contrast to the whitening of all faces to which they served as back- ground.
