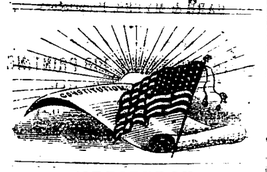
TRI-WEEKLY EDITION

The Daily Post.



PITTSBURGH:

SATURDAY MORNING, MARCH 26, 1864.

☞ Those of our patrons who move on the 1st of April will please leave notice at this office the No. and street of their new locations.

THE COMING DRAFT.

We trust that our citizens will do their duty in filling the coming draft; it must be done, and so we might as well do it with a good grace as not. Yet, when we reflect upon the infamous conduct of our National Administration and the duplicity of its supporters, it looks like a sacrifice of human life to entrust our brave soldiers to their blundering proceedings.

During our last Gubernatorial contest we were informed a thousand times that the re-election of Gov. CURTIN would put an end to drafting in this State. An Abolition victory at the polls would be worth a dozen triumphs in the field, for the reason, we were told, that the rebels would see that "Copperhead sympathy" was utterly powerless in Pennsylvania. The Pittsburgh Gazette dwelt upon this point most earnestly; it went so far as to say that in the event of CURTIN's success we would have no more drafts, and that the "copperhead" who asserted the contrary was a traitor, and ought to be arrested. Well, the election came off, and, through the aid of furloughed soldiers, it resulted in an Abolition triumph; and what has been the result? Why, not one draft only, but two have been ordered, and Heaven only knows how many more will be required, before the Administration accomplishes its schemes of negro emancipation and equality, besides securing its own continuance for another term.

We have been reminded of the promises of the Abolitionists, during our State canvass, by reading an article in yesterday's Gazette, urging volunteering, because the rebellion it says is about to explode and trouble us no more. It concludes in this encouraging manner:

"The coming summer will, in all human probability, witness the death of the Rebellion. Why not, then, volunteer and assist to close a glorious work?"

We join in this interrogatory, and inquire why not enlist and close this glorious work; but we address the inquiry to Abolitionists of the Gazette's stripe. That paper and its radical coadjutors have succeeded in perverting a war for the Union to one for the basest partizan purposes. Why not, then, volunteer and help the armies already in the field, and not permit the war to close without its producing at least one genuine Abolition hero, whose achievements will furnish availability in some future Presidential campaign? So far, renegade Democrats, like BEN. BUTLER and JOHN COCHRAN, are the only ones who have distinguished themselves in Abolition estimation; and one month before they were appointed to the army they were the faith ful followers of BRECKINRIDGE and his pro-slavery adherents. Now, that the rebellion is about to collapse, let the Abolitionists endeavor to give the country one hero at least; we mean one who was an original Abolitionist.

NO GRAND REVIEWS.

Gen. GRANT is said to be so expeditious in his movements that he has no time to spend in witnessing grand reviews. This announcement, of course, gives the enemies of Gen. MCCLELLAN an opportunity to give him a stab, and they are, accordingly, doing so. The Commercial, alluding to the new order of things, yesterday remarked that—

> This announcement may not of itself be of special importance, except that it shows that a new era has been inaugurated with the advent of Gen. GRANT in the East. It is no doubt within the recollection of the readers, that in the early days of the war, which Gen. MCCLELLAN was planning and waiting, and the country was hoping and expecting, how frequent were the accounts of grand parades and reviews in the army, and how like the raven's cry, the repeated announcement was, "All is quiet on the Potomac."
>
> "In the early days of the war," it was not expected that MCCLELLAN could move without organizing his army; but after he did move, what then? Who, since the army of the Potomac was organized, has done anything of importance with it except MCCLELLAN, unless MEADE's fight at Gettysburg be considered a victory? MCCLELLAN was removed more than eighteen months ago, immediately after gaining two magnificent victories and while in pursuit of the retreating enemy. His command was given to BURNSIDE, who slaughtered ten thousand men at Fredericksburg; afterwards it was given to HOOKER who lost a like number at Chancellorsville. Then MEADE was put in command, and with the exception of Gettysburg, which merely caused the rebel army to leave our State, there has been nothing done since MCCLELLAN was so shamefully dismissed the service. And if the Commercial will examine it will find that, for the last year and a half things on the Potomac have been far more quiet than they were at any time, after MCCLELLAN commenced his campaign.

GEN. GRANT.

This distinguished and successful soldier it is said, is already beginning to arouse the apprehensions of the peculiar friends of Mr. LINCOLN, who have their minds made up to prevent nothing to interfere with their determination to fasten him, and through him, themselves, for another four years upon the country. These patriots are fearful of losing their snug places, and Gen. GRANT, is just now the object of their aversion. A correspondent of the Herald alluding to these cormorants and GRANT remarks that—

> Already they are preparing to interfere with him, as they interfered with MCCLELLAN and with FREMONT, both of whom they unjustly removed from command in the face of the enemy and on the eve of victory. We warn them, however, that Gen. GRANT is not the man, nor is the country in the mood, to endure such a repetition of disastrous intermeddling. The moment it is seriously attempted General GRANT will either force these wretches to beg his pardon and retire from the Administration or he will throw up his commission and appeal to the people, who will support him against all conspirators. This is what Gen. MCCLELLAN should have done. This is what General FREMONT should have done. This is what General GRANT will do. So let the Kitchen Cabinet and the other Cabinet beware how they trifle with the hero of Vicksburg.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Probable Action of the House on the Monroe Doctrine.

The Nation Powerless to Assert that Doctrine at Present.

Shameful Disloyalty of the Administration in Permitting the Gradual Encroachments of France.

Probably Speedy Recognition of the South by Napoleon.

Special Correspondence of The Chicago Times.

WASHINGTON, March 20.

For very shame's sake, the House Committee on Foreign Affairs have at last come to the tardy resolution to take some action on the recent alarming encroachments of the French in Mexico. It is said that this action will take the form of a resolution in which the operations of the Emperor Napoleon will be denounced and condemned in the strongest terms, and in which, also, the government will reaffirm and maintain the principles of the Monroe doctrine, as regards Mexico, to their fullest extent, and even to the length of war with France, if it comes to that extremity. It is said that the resolution will insist upon it that our government shall demand of France the immediate and entire withdrawal of the French forces from Mexico, and an unconditional abandonment of the pretensions of Maximilian to the Mexican throne.

A resolution, worded in terms something like these, might be expected from a democratic House; but, be assured, no resolution can pass the present House of Representatives; still less could it pass the Senate. Such a resolution, if passed by both houses of Congress, would pledge the government to a course of action which would render the immediate abandonment of the present war against the South imperatively necessary. For, if even the initial steps should be taken to carry out the principles of such a resolution, we would have a French war on our hands in sixty days.

But a resolution like the above, even if passed by Congress, would be utterly void, simply from our inability to carry it out. Yes, to our shame be it said, we are at this moment utterly powerless to enforce the principles of the Monroe doctrine; and to pass such a resolution would only be to place us, as a nation, in even a more ridiculous position than that which we now occupy. It is too late, and too early, to pass such a resolution. You will remember that, early in 1862, I wrote you the facts in regard to Napoleon's designs in Mexico, which foreshadowed the subsequent military operations of the French there; and that I urged at the time the prompt announcement, on the part of our government, that the first act of encroachment on the part of the French in Mexico would be regarded by us as an act of hostility, which would be instantly resented in accordance with the principles of the Monroe doctrine. If Daniel Webster had been at the head of the State Department, or if a democratic administration had been in power, such would have been the course of our government, and the disgrace of seeing a French monarchy at our very doors would have been averted. But what else could have been expected of Abe Lincoln and Mr. Seward than has since taken place?

My letters will bear witness that I have kept the readers of the Times aware of the steady progress of the French encroachments in Mexico, and of the duplicity of Mr. Seward in deluding the people by the constant reiteration of the assertion that our relations with France were on a friendly and entirely satisfactory footing, when he knew that these relations were such that they must eventuate either in war before the end of Mr. Lincoln's term, or else in the shameful abandonment of the Monroe doctrine on our part, and the firm establishment of a French monarchy in Mexico.

Matters, therefore, have now reached to such a pass that it is too late under this administration, to effect any good by the passage of such a resolution; and, until a democratic administration comes into power, it is too early. The Monroe doctrine, however, will form a prominent plank in the platform of the democratic candidate for President; and, when that candidate shall be elected, then that doctrine will be enforced.

The present attitude of the French in Mexico is in exact accordance with the designs of the Emperor Napoleon, formed at the commencement of our unhappy war. Those designs contemplated a nominal neutrality on his part until both sedes were pretty well exhausted; and then, if (say at the end of three years) the South had been able to hold her own, in alliance with the South against the North. The time is now close at hand for the latter part of this programme to be carried out. It may be delayed yet a few months longer. But the latest intelligence received here from Paris is to the effect that the recognition of the South by Napoleon, long ago determined on, will not now be longer deferred. We may lock out, therefore, both for a French monarchy in Mexico and war with France, as the consequence of the hatred of the republican party towards the South.

X

The Pike's Peak Gold Region.—It is stated that the yield of gold from the mines in the territory of Colorado, since 1861, amounts to thirty five millions dollars. This, if the statement is true, is a great result for a region which is only just beginning to be explored by miners. Colorado, as a gold country, is a new field, and its resources have as yet been but partially developed. The yield increases with improved appliances and more workmen. The lowest estimate for 1864 is from twenty to twenty-five millions.

As a matter of course such golden promises as these stimulate enterprise in that direction. Notwithstanding the existence in our land of the most terrible and destructive war ever waged, and which is not only exhausting every source of the country's real wealth and rapidly drinking its life-blood, but killing off its able-bodied men as well, there is yet seen the singular spectacle of a general and wild speculation, greater in extent than was ever before witnessed in the history of stock mania; and among the other enterprises of the day Colorado gold mines find plenty of eager ones to invest, and, it would seem, plenty of workmen to develop their resources. Since last September from one to two millions of dollars have been invested in claims in Colorado by New York capitalists, and companies have been or are to be organized, upon them; and about twenty organizations are now in various degrees of progress in Boston and New York.

A Pill for Young Lovers.—A gentleman of Chicago, who is a devout Christian and the happy father of some half a dozen buxom daughters, has adopted a novel expedient for breaking up the practice certain young men have of coming "sparking Sunday night." He makes each of the young ladies in turn read a chapter in the Bible, and close the meeting with prayer! The attendance grows thinner each week.

☞ TO RESTORE THE SICK TO HEALTH.—The blood must be purified and all medicines are useless which do not possess the quality of Stimulating the blood to discharge its impurities into the bowels. HOLLOWAY'S PILLS possess this quality in a high degree, and should be in every family. They are equally useful for children and adults; adapted to both sexes, and are as innocent as bread, yet most effective as a medicine.

The Rev. Jacob Beyers of Springville, Ind., writes to Dr. Brandreth under date of May 11th, 1861:

I have used your invaluable Vegetable Universal Pills in my family since 1850; they have always cured, even when other medicines were of no avail. I have been the means of my neighbors using hundreds of dollars' worth and I am satisfied they have received a thousand per cent in blessed health through their use. They are used in this region for Bilious and Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, and in all rheumatic cases with the most perfect success. In fact they are the great reliance in sickness, and I trust your venerable life may be long spared to prepare so excellent a medicine for the use of man.

Please send me your lowest price by the gross.

Years of experience and a correspondence extending throughout all the nationalities of the habitable globe have turned their theories into facts and established a basis from which we need not err. We are not surprised at such facts as the following—although the persons who write them are. We know the persons and circumstances, hence feel at liberty to indorse their statements

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 24, 1863.

DEAR SIR:—I have been afflicted many years with severe prostrating cramps in my limbs, cold feet and hands, and a general disordered system. Physicians and medicines failed to relieve me. While visiting some friends New York who were using Plantation Bitters they prevailed upon me to try them. I commenced with a small wineglassful after dinner. Feeling better by degrees, in a few days I was astonished to find the coldness and cramps had entirely left me, and I could sleep the night through, which I had not done for years. I feel like another being. My appetite and strength have also greatly improved by the use of the Plantation Bitters.

Respectfully, JUDITH RUSSEL.

REEDSBURY, Wis., Sept. 16, 1863.

• • • I have been in the army hospital for fourteen months—speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they gave me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. • • • Three bottles restored my speech and cured me. • • • C. A. PLATTE.

The following is from the Manager of the Union Home School for the Children of Volunteers:

HAVEMEYER MANSION, 57TH ST., }
New York, Aug. 2, 1863. }

DR. DRAKE:—Your wonderful Plantation Bitters have been given to some of our little children suffering from weakness and debility, with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite, and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. We commenced with but a teaspoonful of Bitters a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased, and she is now well.

Respectfully, MRS. O. M. DEVOE.

• • • I owe much to you, for I verily believe the Plantation Bitters have saved my life.
REV. W. H. WAGGONER, Madrid, N.Y.

• • • The Plantation Bitters have cured me of a derangement of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs that has distressed me for years. It acts like a charm.
C. C. MOORE,
&c., &c., &c., &c., No 254 Broadway."

The Plantation Bitters make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya Bark, Wintergreen, Sassafras, Roots, Herbs, &c., all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix Rum.

S. T.—1860—X.

Persons of sedentary habits, troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and imposter. It is put up only in our log cabin bottle.
