

PITTSBURGH:

MONDAY MORNING, APRIL 18, 1864. THEY ARE BEGINNING TO FEEL IT. The rapidity with which the country is rushing to destruction, is beginning to alarm even those who are most responsible for our troubles. The New York Tribune of the 14th inst., alluding to speeches, speaks out in a style so plain, that had a Democrat spoken in a like in some bastile. Under the inquiry, same week and for the same purpose at "why do we speak of these things," the Tribune says: istence at too remote a period, if we go generacy of our national councils? When the Democratic and Whig parties, were gallantly and honorably contending for the mastery, the former under the lead of Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, BENTON and WRIGHT, and the second championed by WEBSTER, CLAY, CLAY-TON, CRITTENDEN, and others, there were no such charges made against them as The special agents, men of standing and Webster, and with them the Whig party, were the beginning of the causes of the troubles which have reduced us to our present condition. The death of the Whig party ushered Know-Nothingism into existence, and every corrupt political scoundrel in the country rushed into it; upon its downfall sprang up section its its its first propose, were still not contented unless thought of the dold Whig party to Know-Noth spring. The transition of the spring defenders. The bandages, the bolk of the old Whig party to Know-Noth spring and the food, the supplies of all the food, the supplies of all the food, the supplies of all the food in the food, the supplies of all the food in t the Tribune now puts forth against the The special agents, men of standing present Congress. The death of CLAY and Webster, and with them the Whig in no instance received any compensation in the South, and much less in the recratic party, who went with Knowing men in the Abolition party? why SIMON: CAMERON, -ALEXANDER CUM-MEMOS, WM. D. KELLY, J. K. MOORHEAD, and a dozen of others like them, who, while they were Democrats, were never trusted by the people. With a Congress made up of such material we need not look for anything from it but what proceeds from the rankest corruption.

At the last session of Congress Mr. Dawes' comittee reported, that more than forty members of the House were interested in Government contracts.

Corruption of this sort was so rife and in the managers of the House were statuary and the income of all the peo.

In writing these few lines we have a persons of authority. Others we have a gathered in conversation with American strength and it is one that commends itself to every friend of his country—to all who admire the heroic devotion of the brave men who are bearing arms in its defence. It is understood that the managers of the House were interested in Government contracts.

Corruption of this sort was so rife and common that it reached even some ple of the State for one day. Several whose public virtue was considered impregnable.
