Served Him Right. The Harrisburg Patriot and Union says: -The new market master, Mr. Hoffman, continues to be a terror to the extortionists and swindlers who frequent our market, and is doing himself oredit and the public a service by "putting them through." Fasterday morning he confiscated four. pounds of butter, several pounds of lard, and a quantify of old meat, all found to be short of the standard weight. In one of the rolls of but ter he subsequently discovered a piece of lead weighing about an half an ounce, supposed to have been superstitiously inserted by the own er before handing it over. The individual who performed this smart feat of legerdemain to pre vent the confiscation of his butter, will probably be arrested next Saturday, and the affair roughly investigated. It is hard enough for be charged exorbitant prices for all kinds of products, without being swindled in the weight, and we trust Mr. Hoffman will persevere in well doing until he inaugurates a thorough reform in this respect, and in lelibly impresses upon the minds of dealers the useful lessson that "honesty is the best of poli

Our market masters will have to adopt a simliar policy, or we will soon not be able to live. We do not know of any cases of light weight, but we heard, while in Allegheny city, on year terday, that a farmer came in with some butt for which he asked seventy-five cents perpound, when it was seiling in the market at fifty and even forty cents. His butter must either have been very good, or else his heart very hard. We trust butter, at least, will soon be down. The grass is springing up rapidly and the farmer will have no reasonable excuse for asking exorbitant prices for their marketing. During the winter feed was dear and, no doubt, the farmers suffered with others. But pasture will soon take the place of feed and then we will see who has a heart, and who has none. Farmer have but little cause of complaint these hard times. They are making well out in the sale of cattle and grain, and indeed all kinds of produce. It is the poor laborer, working for a trifling salary, that suffers now cotton market was quiry and limited supply, closing market was at 82@83c for middling, and 78@79c for low middling. Sugar and molasses were in very active demand. The speedulative feeling which has prevailed during the past two months has subsided, owing principally to the high prices reached. There has been very little augar offering, Sales of about 700 barrels molasses, at 90@95c for ordinary and good old and new.
