

The Daily Post.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 9, 1864.

GENERAL ABOLITION.

The course of the Abolition press towards Fremont, the very head and front of their party, until his nomination at Cleveland, is most shameful and humiliating. If any man in America is entitled to Abolition admiration and gratitude it is he.

One of these pseudo presses, in this city yesterday alluding to the remark of Fremont that slavery was no longer a question of party, has the shameless and brazen effrontery to comment as follows: It says:

What trust that Slavery will soon become extinct in this country, by the extension of already accomplished facts, and party divisions have been formed. The Republican Party has been formed. The Democratic Party has been formed. The Liberty Party has been formed. The Union Party has been formed. The National Union Party has been formed. The American Party has been formed. The National American Party has been formed. The Union American Party has been formed. The National Union American Party has been formed.

These facts go to show the effect which war has upon the destinies of the sexes. The French are proverbial for their politeness to and tenderness of women, but stern necessity has compelled them to train every available man and head to work.

It is for the good of the country, and for the good of the human race, that we should see to it that every man who is capable of doing any good should be allowed to do it.

General Grant has again advanced upon the Chickahominy. He has crossed the river at two places, and has been victorious at both.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

The census report shows that, at the commencement of the present war, there was a surplus of females in the population of the United States. This is now reversed under the compelling process which for three years has been so rapidly going on in camps and on bloody battle-fields. An immense number of men have fallen victims to the deadly missiles hurled by the hands of countrymen, maddened by hate, and yet more have dropped by the wayside, struck down by diseases incident to the avocation of war.

The consequences to follow from this state of things can only be determined by reference to those countries which have suffered in population through a long series of wars of much less ardor and destructiveness than our own. Take France, for instance, which has, for a considerable period, carried on petty and desultory warfare, and what do we find? The entire population amounts to 36,000,000. Of these 14,300,000 are engaged in agriculture, six millions and a half (6,500,000) of whom are females, acting as owners of land, or, in still larger numbers, laborers on the soil.

The following is a sketch of the military situation of the Army of the Potomac at the Philadelphia Age. It is understood that the information is derived from an officer who served with distinction in General Meade's peninsular campaign.

General Grant has again advanced upon the Chickahominy. He has crossed the river at two places, and has been victorious at both.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

THE MILITARY SITUATION.

The following is a sketch of the military situation of the Army of the Potomac at the Philadelphia Age. It is understood that the information is derived from an officer who served with distinction in General Meade's peninsular campaign.

General Grant has again advanced upon the Chickahominy. He has crossed the river at two places, and has been victorious at both.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN WOMEN.

The census report shows that, at the commencement of the present war, there was a surplus of females in the population of the United States. This is now reversed under the compelling process which for three years has been so rapidly going on in camps and on bloody battle-fields.

The consequences to follow from this state of things can only be determined by reference to those countries which have suffered in population through a long series of wars of much less ardor and destructiveness than our own.

The following is a sketch of the military situation of the Army of the Potomac at the Philadelphia Age. It is understood that the information is derived from an officer who served with distinction in General Meade's peninsular campaign.

General Grant has again advanced upon the Chickahominy. He has crossed the river at two places, and has been victorious at both.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

It is not too much to say that the Chickahominy campaign has been a success for the Union. It has shown that the Army of the Potomac is now capable of holding its own against the Confederate Army.

PITTSBURGH DRUG HOUSE.

APOTHECARIES. Corner Fourth and Market Streets, PITTSBURGH. Drugs, Drugs, Medicines, Medicines, Chemicals, Chemicals, Dyes, Dyes, Paints, Paints, Oils, Oils, Spices, Spices, Soda, Soda, Cream Tartar, English Mustard, &c.

THE CONFESSIO AND EXPOSITION OF THE WIFE OF A MAN WHO WAS A MEMBER OF THE CONFEDERATE ARMY. The wife of a man who was a member of the Confederate Army has written a book in which she confesses to the sins of her husband and to her own participation in them.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN WOMEN. The census report shows that, at the commencement of the present war, there was a surplus of females in the population of the United States. This is now reversed under the compelling process which for three years has been so rapidly going on in camps and on bloody battle-fields.

THE MILITARY SITUATION. The following is a sketch of the military situation of the Army of the Potomac at the Philadelphia Age. It is understood that the information is derived from an officer who served with distinction in General Meade's peninsular campaign.

THE FUTURE OF AMERICAN WOMEN. The census report shows that, at the commencement of the present war, there was a surplus of females in the population of the United States. This is now reversed under the compelling process which for three years has been so rapidly going on in camps and on bloody battle-fields.

THE MILITARY SITUATION. The following is a sketch of the military situation of the Army of the Potomac at the Philadelphia Age. It is understood that the information is derived from an officer who served with distinction in General Meade's peninsular campaign.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS. SANITARY FAIR. GRAND ORCHESTRAL CONCERT. BY THE CELEBRATED GERMANIA BAND. OF PHILADELPHIA, AT AUDIENCE HALL. Thursday Evening, June 9th, 1864. PROGRAMME: Part First. Overture: "Der Freischütz" Weber. Flute Solo: "Flore et Zéphyre" V. Ballo. Solo: "Polo and Corno." Hymne: "Hail to the Virgin." Lancer. Flute, No. 1: "Allegretto." Verdi. Part Second. Overture: "Der Freischütz" Weber. Flute Solo: "Flore et Zéphyre" V. Ballo. Solo: "Polo and Corno." Hymne: "Hail to the Virgin." Lancer. Flute, No. 1: "Allegretto." Verdi. Part Third. Overture: "Der Freischütz" Weber. Flute Solo: "Flore et Zéphyre" V. Ballo. Solo: "Polo and Corno." Hymne: "Hail to the Virgin." Lancer. Flute, No. 1: "Allegretto." Verdi.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS.

TO-DAY'S ADVERTISEMENTS. FROM GEN. GRANT. WE HAVE MOST GRATIFYING NEWS, and of such a nature that led to believe this will be the most DISASTEROUS CONFLAGRATION. NOW GOING ON. HAIR PREPARATION. LUBIN'S COCOANUT CREAM. BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR! COACH HARDWARES. 58 WOOD STREET. PHOTOGRAPHIC ARTIST. 46 AND 48 1/2 CLAIR STREET.