Railroad Improvements.

The different railroads converging in this place are still enlarging the boundaries of their possessions, improving their buildings, and increasing their facilities for trade. The Cleveland and Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago railroads have now a beautiful square plot of ground, which they are enclosing by a stone wall. The old Pennsylvania canal has been filled up, thus enlarging the area of their lot, and the piers and abutments of the old aqueduct are being taken down and the stone used to improve and fence in the lot owned by these roads, thus rendering the place secure from accidents, so frequent where the track is not enclosed. The Pennsylvania Railroad has also purchased extensive lots of ground on which they are erecting large and commodious buildings. Their property is in the immediate vicinity of the lots owned by the Western roads, and the Allegheny Valley Railroad. The Steubenville and the Connellsville Railroads will also terminate here as soon as completed, so that within the very small space of a few acres seven railroads will terminate and unite. The terminus of each road will be walled in or otherwise secured, so as to prevent access by boys and other mischieviously disposed persons, except through the ticket offices. Around this great centre of business, several enterprising firms are erecting immense warehouses and grain elevator establishments. In less than two years the head of Liberty street will be the great central business portion of the city and the connexion of the different roads will be so complete as to make a change of lines or of cars very convenient. We are pleased to witness this enterprise of the different railroads in securing property and putting up improvements, as all this will prove a benefit to the city, stimulate business and secure the future growth and development of the place.

Orphans.—We have seldom witnessed a more pleasing sight than that which we noticed yesterday, when the children in the Orphan Asylum, superintended by the Sisters of Mercy, passed this office in procession, to attend the Sanitary Fair. The children numbered some thirty or forty and were all dressed alike, with blue dresses, white aprons, and buff sunbonnets. They enjoyed the trip very much, and were taken all through the Fair. Their ages ranged from six to twelve years.

The singular style of dress as well as the smiling faces of the little girls, made us almost wish that we, too, were an orphan, and caused us to visit the happy home of these, once destitute, but now well cared for little ones. There we learned that these children are provided for by the St. Paul's Orphan Asylum, corner of Webster and Chatham streetes; that there are ninety orphans in all provided for in that Institution; and that among the number are seventeen very young children, almost babes. Their dormitories are provided with single cots of the best style and are amply furnished with covers. The rooms are well ventilated and are as comfortable as art can make them. There is a sick room also well furnished, where the feeble and indisposed are carefully nursed. In the building is a chapel for religious exercises and a school for educational training. In the same building there is a public school in which five hundred pupils are instructed. We noticed three very beautiful and appropriate pictures in the rooms. One picture represents a child weaving a wreath for its deceased mother's grave. Another represents an orphan dreaming of its parents. The third is the mother's grave. This Institution is a part of the St. Mary's Convent, and we feel assured that those in charge of it are blessing hundreds of children and doing the community a great good.

Sanitary Fair.—The following is the vote for the Firemens' Horn: Hope, 1454; Allegheny, 1342; Vigilant, 822; Neptune, 160; Eagle, 139; Duquesne, 48; Relief, 5; General Grant, 5.

For the Military Chair the vote stands: Hays, 114; Negley, 58; Herron, 14; Jackson, 9.

The Grover & Baker Sewing Machine stands: Passavant's Hospital, 117; German Orphan Asylum, 80; Home of the Friendless, 53; Church Home, 48; scattering, 19.

Silver mounted Pistols stand thus:—Negley, 77; Herron, 13; Hancock, 18; Meade, 2.

The vote on the Dressing Gowns presented to Generals McClellan and Grant, is as follows: For Grant's, 1,000; for McClellan's, 700.

Connellsville Railroad.—We took a trip up this road on Saturday and found it in good running order and under the control of gentlemanly managers from one end to the other, more especially the ticket agent at Port Perry. When at the latter place we heard that a fireman had been killed on that road at Layton's Station. This rumor was entirely false as nobody was killed. Nor did the passenger train run off the track. A freight train, by some accident ran off the rails near Layton's Station which may have given rise to an injurious rumor which we gladly correct.

A Soldier Shot.—A man named Sarber, attached to the Provost Marshal's police, shot a man named Stewart on Saturday out in Penn township, three miles from East Liberty. Stewart was drafted and did not want to go to the war, whereupon the officer wanted to make him go. A scuffle ensued during which Stewart was shot in the back and badly wounded. He is now lying at the house of a gentleman named Elk, near where he was shot.

The Fair.—We understand that arrangements have been made to keep the Fair open until Saturday. It was announced that it would close on Wednesday, but this was incorrect

Service of Plate.—We were shown yesterday, at Mr. Robert Hartley's store, an exceedingly chaste and valuable service of plate, to be presented to Col. J. Horman Sweitzer, on the part or a few of his personal friends and admirers. The Colonel deserves this testimonial for his devotion to the cause, and gallant conduct on many a battle-field. May he survive.

Court of Quarter Sessions.—This court met yesterday morning and disposed of the following cases namely:

Commonwealth vs. Edward Lewis—Larceny—committed.

Com. vs. T. J. Munroe—Assault and Battery—guilty.

Com. vs. John Louder—Fornication and Bastardy—On trial.

The St. Charles.—This splendidly appointed Hotel, so long under the able management of its proprietor, Mr. Harry Shiels, has been transferred by sale to Messrs. Leither & Rial. Leither has, for a considerable time, been the general Superintendent at the Hotel, and carries into it with him as joint proprietor, all the knowledge and experience which his long official connection has enabled him to acquire. We are not saying too much when we declare that his talents for securing the comfort and enjoyment of travelers and strangers is not surpassed more than once in an age and then twice on the same continent. His partner, Mr. Rial, is from Washington county, and brings with him a character for urbanity, suavity and parts that will enable the St. Charles to enter the list of Hotels under even more favorable auspices than heretofore, and to carry off the palm among good, stylish and comfortable Inns. We shall be pleased to know that the St. Charles has extended its list of patrons very largely. The new management and arrangements, besides the additions and improvements, will enable visitors to enjoy every home comfort and every luxury obtainable. Our distant readers are cordially requested to pay a visit while here to this model Hotel.

Day & Hayden.—Every coach, carriage or saddle manufacturer is interested more or less in the advertisement of Day & Hayden, who keep a very large furnishing store of everything of that line, consisting of enamel cloth, enamel leather, carriage carpet, fly nets, wood and iron work for coaches and carriages, which they will sell wholesale or retail. Persons wishing to visit their store will notice a golden stirrup above the door, at No. 55 Wood street, between Third and Fourth. We have no hesitation in saying that their stock is as large and well selected as can be found any place in this or any other Western city. They have made it a specialty to buy well seasoned and durable wood, believing that a good carriage cannot be built without good material. As to variety this Firm cannot be excelled. They keep everything in the line of carriage furnishing and trimmings. Farmers and teamsters can also purchase harness and traces at retail.

Hair Brushes, Nail Brushes, Infant Brushes, Cologne and Toilet waters, Extracts, Hair Dressings and Pomatums, together with every article usually kept in a first class Drug and Prescription store, are to be had at Rankin's Drug store, 63 Market st., below Fourth.

Lost—50 Dollars Reward.—On Saturday evening last, between Franklin and Ferry sts., a roll of money. The finder will receive the above reward by leaving it at this office.

Chase Urges Amendments to the Tax Bill.

Special to The Post.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—Mr Chase urges amendments to the tax bill, which will add largely to the revenue. He is known to favor a tax of two dollars a gallon on whisky and ten per cent. on incomes.

The Petersburg Expedition,

WHY IT FAILED.

NEW YORK, June 13. A Tribune correspondent with Butler says, of the expedition against Petersburg, that there were 1,400 picked horsemen, under Kautz, and between 2,000 and 4,000 in infantry, under Gilmore, all under command of Gen. Gilmore. At noon the infantry were within one and a half miles of Petersburg, and Gilmore sent a dispatch that he heard Kautz's guns away to his left, but had had no communication with him.

Gen. Gilmore has instructions to advance on Petersburg and engage the enemy. He returned to-night. It was immaterial whether he succeeded or not, the real object being to divert attention from Kautz, who was to dash into the city from the opposite side, burn the Appomattox bridge, destroy stores, supplies, &c, and do all he could to annoy and harrass the enemy.

A signal glass showed that Kautz was fulfilling his mission, as the cavalry were seen attacking upon the hatchet side and driving the enemy before them. This was inside the entrenchments and in the outskirts.

Awaiting himself of the second clause of his instructions, which was to return to-night, he sent back word that he (Gilmore) found the works quite formidable and more strongly garrisoned than he had anticipated, and that he and Generals Hinks did not deem it expedient to attack and had left their corps encamped for the night, where he had formed line of battle.

Meanwhile, Gen. Kautz had found the entrenchments with his cavalry, and was lighting in the city, expecting the infantry would assist him. The rebels soon, Gilmore's forces withdrawn, turned their attention to Kautz, pursuing him closely, and capturing a 32-inch gun. At this, the cavalry pounced upon a 12 pounder brass piece, which they seized and brought away.

Still no sign of diversion in their favor by infantry. To attempt to accomplish the work assigned him was madness, and General Kautz reluctantly ordered a withdrawal.

The Siege of Frankfort.

Withdrawal of the Enemy.

LOUISVILLE, June 13.—Dr Wheeler, U. S Mail Agent, who has been at Frankfort during the siege, left there at 1:30 this morning and reports that the fight commenced on Friday evening and lasted till dark, and all indications during the night. The enemy approached from Owenstown in two columns, aggregating 1,200 men, 700 of whom entered Frankfort, and 500 New Frankfort. They had no artillery. A small four pounder had been placed before the fort to protect our rifle pits, which was captured by the rebels, but was subsequently retaken on Saturday.

The firing continued from seven in the morning till three p. m., with short intervals of interruptions. The rebels made two demands during the day for the surrender of the fort, both of which were refused by Col. Monroe of 22d Ky, commanding the Fort.

The rebels abandoned the attack at four Saturday after noon, and by seven in the evening were moving eastward.

The federal loss was six wounded, one of them seriously. Rebel loss unknown. The fort was garrisoned by one hundred and fifty federals, only twelve of whom were soldiers. No injury was done to Frankfort, except the burning of the barracks on the edge of the city on Friday night, which was reported to be a bridge three miles north ward.

Capt. Dickson, of Burbridge's staff, telegraphs to Gen. Ewing, dated Lexington, 9:35 p. m., that Burbridge completely routed Morgan's command at Cynthiana this forenoon. Jack Allen's force, 300 strong, which has been attacking Frankfort, is said to be at Lawrenceburg. I have traced the flight of three hundred of Morgan's men, under Col. Gittner, to Versailles, many of whom have thrown away their arms, and will probably unite with Allen. Gen. Carrington has received from Heintzelman a dispatch confirming the disater to Hobson and the subsequent success of Burbridge.

Hon. Francis M. Bristow, member of the XXXVIth Congress, died at Elkton, New York, of Friday, of heart disease.

Rebel Assaults Repulsed.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A Tribune correspondent with General Sherman under date near Dallas, June 1st, says: The enemy in front of the 23d corps yesterday morning made a dash on our advanced line's works with the intention of occupying a better position. They were met by a heavy fire from our men, who remained immovable, and although the rebels came up within a few paces, they finally faltered and fell back in considerable confusion. This repulse of the enemy has been one of the most decided and destructive which he has yet suffered. During last night the enemy also assaulted Hooker, but were repulsed with loss.

The attack on M'Pherson, referred to in a former dispatch, proved very disastrous to the enemy. The rebels came on in two divisions with great resolution, but were met with a very destructive fire, both of artillery and musketry. The fight continued for nearly one hour, when the enemy retired, leaving the field covered with their dead and wounded, numbering nearly 2,500. Of the five days fighting principally on his own hook, McPherson has closed upon our right wing, enabling us to make our next important movement.

Cheering News from the Front—Reported Capture of Fort Darling.

NEW YORK, June 13.—A Tribune Washington correspondent has the following, saying no such intelligence has been received here from any source.

WHITE HOUSE, Saturday, June 11.—The news from the front this morning is of the most cheerful character. Two officers just arrived here bring the joyful news of the capture of Fort Darling. An order conveying this intelligence was read to the army last evening, and the cheers of our soldiers could be heard for miles around.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The Late General Wadsworth.

The Ohio 100 Day Troops.

They Offer their Services to go to the Front and Fight.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—A special to the Tribune says: It appears that it was General Wadsworth's intention at the close of the war to pay over a sum of money, an equal amount to that received from the Government, to some permanent institution formed for the life relief of disabled soldiers. This he said is the least invidious way in which I can refuse pay for fighting for my country in her hour of danger.

The 130th Ohio 100 day troops, having in its ranks lawyers, clergymen and others of the best men in the State, on Saturday voted unanimously to go to the front and fight. They then marched to the White House and had an interview with the President, who addressed them and thanking them for their patriotic resolution, and saying, wherever you go I know you will do your best.
