Another Soldier Gone.-We regret to learn that Corporal John H. Mackin, of the 155th Regiment Pa. Volunteers, has died of wounds received in the late battles of the Potomac. Mr. Mackin was formerly of this city, is a son of John Mackin, Esq., 454 Pena Street, went out to war in 1863 under Captain John Markle, Oo. F., and has been in the service ever since. He was wounded in the battle of Gettysburg, in the shoulder and breast, and was granted a furlough until he got well, after which he rejoined his Regiment. He was again wounded, the 5th day of May last, in the battle vicinity. The great peculiarity of the Wheeler a Wilson Machine is, that no one is ever disappointed in the way in which it operates. It sews, hems, tucks, gathers, binds, fells, and performs all the most delicate and artistic stitching with a degree of strangth, elasticity, and precision never attained by any other sewing machine. It is moreover, a benutiful ornament: is so simple in its moreover, a benutiful ornament: is so simple in its moreover, a benutiful ornament: is so simple in its moreover, a benutiful ornament: is so simple in its moreover, a benutiful ornament: in almost impossible for it to get out of repair. His remains were embalmed and sent home, arriving in this city on yesterday in the 12-30 train. Corporal Mackin was a young man, only a little over twenty one years of age, and was loved and esteemed by all who knew him, and his loss is deeply felt by his friends and relatives in this place. His funeral will take place rrom the residence of his father, at 454 Penn Street, on Friday the 17thinst., at two o'clock p. m. Friends and relatives are requested to attend the funeral on that day.

The Draft.

We attended the draft made yesterday for the Fifth Ward, and were pleased with the fairness and justness of the selections. The tickets are made of pasteboard, the name written thereon, and taken out by a blindfolded man. One with his eyes open could not belect the name he desired, for the ballots all lie in edgewise.

Accidental Breakup.—An accident, causing a heavy loss, occurred on the Penna. raiload, near Wilmore Station the other day. The freight train bound east ran into another going the same direction, throwing several cars from the track and breaking others to pieces. To add to the disaster, the rubbish caught fire and in a short time six car loads of Carbon oil and two or three truck loads of coal took fire and two locomotives with several cars and trucks were all burned to ashes. The track was destroyed for a considerable distance, the ties burned and the rails melted by the intensity of the heat. The loss is estimated at about one hundred thousand dollars. Oil freight is exceedingly dangerous, but in case of fire it is the most tionable freight that could be carried. The Penna. Railroad is generally a very safe road for fravel and we cannot see why it may not bethe same for freight. There must be negligence somewhere, or these accidents could not happen.

The Braft.—As will be seen in another parti of this paper, the draft-for the Fifth ward came are many men in easier circumstances, and many persons entirely idle or in occupations of little or no importance, who escape entirely. We do not reflect the least on the mode of drawing, but merely express a regret that men who so much needed at home should be compelled to go to war. The demand for laborers and mechanics is growing greater every day, and if many more be taken away, the country will cease to be a producing nation and the people will become not only non-producers, but burden-some consumers. The farm and the workshop will be in a measure vacated, and as a consequence, prices will go up to an alarming extent. What will become of a country thus drained of the producing classes remains yet to be seen.

A Singular Case.—A case was tried this week in the Oriminal Court of this city, which, in some respects, is singular. Some time ago, a soldier, or officer, who was about to leave in the cars, gave a negro a one hundred dollar bill to get changed for him. The negro failed to return, and the officer had him arrested. Alderman James E. Flannagan, of the Seventh ward arrested him, and the negro, whose name is Edward Lewis, we believe, was convicted of the offence. Afterwards, however, he was brought up as a witness and swore that the Alderman (Flannagan,) agreed to take and did take a por-tion of the money for which he was also conpetitions are in circulation for the negro's par-

Sale of Pictures.—On Thursday evening (to night) at 8% o'clock will commence the sale of the Pictures belonging to the Art Gallery of the Santary Fair. The Pictures are the contributions of artists and others, and will all be sold at auction to the highest bidder for the benefit of the Santary Fair. Many of these Pictures are very beautiful and valuable, and we have no doubt that the bidding on some of the most tasteful gems will be spirited enough. We have no idea who may be the purchaser of the caricature of the "Democratic Procession" but presume it will be bought up at a round sum to dignify the walls of the loyal league room, or to display the bad taste in the furnishing of some modern shoddy parlor. At any rate we hope it may bring such a sum as will lift the author from the future necessity of plying his vocation as a common daub. The heautiful landscapes and setches embracing all the elements of true art—being the creations of men of genius—so remarkably placed in juxtaposition with the above mentioned antipode of reputable art, will claim much attention and competition no doubt, and bring in a large accession of funds to the good caree. ing, on the James river the army at Powhatan Point. New York Cattle Market.

BULL'S HEAD, Tuesday, June 13.—Another round of the ladder has falled this week. The average price of beef cattle will be more than & a pound less than last week, and the estimate of weights is against the drover. It is true that some of the best stock in market has sold at 19@19%c w pound for the net weight, less the value of offal, but the number is much smaller than last week, and the great bulk of first-class cattle will sell at 18@18%c. W pound, and such as sold last week at 16@18c. are dull to-day at 14%@170, and some builteef is quoted at 120. Some of the satesmen report a decline of $5, and some $10 m head lower than the same class sold last week, and much harder to effect sales, though the number in market is not large, being less than $5,00 head, and a good many of the number are light steers, some of which will go graziers. The condition of the weather is a vorable to drovers, being almost cold enough for frost last night. This jours short the strawberries and early yagetables, which is also in their favor. Then the army agent, Geo. Starr, is in market for fig. head, and although that is not enough to affect the market, the mere fast which he is buying frends to stiffen it; but with all these helps. The decline is very strong; so much so that nebody disputes it. Some say it is greater than we quote. Drovers will do well to take notice in time that no market will be opening day will be Tuesday. The sheep market as decline of full one cent a pound. The best sheep are selling atta@cce, extras head. The Edwine market is just about as it was last week, that is $60%c w pound, for the best, with only 1,400 fresh stock in to-day.

Chicago Lumber Market. Lumber, Received yesterday 3,40,000 feet.
There is still an active demand for first class lumber, and prices rule firmer; with a strong upward tendency. Common lumber is in better demand, and prices are a little improved. There has been a fair number of cargoes arrived late yesterday and to-day, and sales have been freely and readily made at prices ranging from $1000 feet.
