Draft in the 23d District.-There seems to be a wonderful complication of affairs in the late draft in the 23d District, composed of Allcgheny, west of the river, Butler and Armstrong counties. An order has been received from the Provost Marshal General Fry, sto refund the amount of commutation paid by those who were drafted in the fifty per cent. excess, this being declared illegal. Several of those "fifty per cent excess" men, however, have already re-ported or furnished substitutes, and are now mustered into the service. It will not do to ex_ act service from these and refund the money to others. Such a discrimination would be unrighteous. No blame is attached to Capt. Kirker, Provost Marshal of this District, as he did not receive the necessary orders in time to correct the mistake. Killed .- Mr. B. F. Geary, brakeman on the Bald Eagle Vallery Rathroad was instantly killed, near Matilda Station, on Wednesday last. He was doing something, it is not exactly known what, about the couplings, between two cars, the train being in motion, but very slowly, when his head was caught between the bumpers and crushed in a shocking manner, killing him instantly. We understand Mr. Geary was a lawyer, and has had some practice in that profession. He has been in the militery service, and has taught common school in Altoons and Hollidaysburg. His remains were taken to Unionville, Centre county, on Thurs. day morning, where we understand two of his brothers reside. He was about 25 years of age. A Man Shot .- A man named Sullivan was shot and dangerously wounded at Chartier's Creek on Saturday morning, under the following circumstances: 'He was discovered early in the morning in the strawberry patch of Mr. Samuel Nichols, either eating or gathering berries with the intent to take them away. Mr. Nichols ordered him away and shot at him, we suppose to frighten him away. The contents of the gun, however, took effect in the neck and jaw of Sullivan and wounded him dangerously. Nichols and the wounded man were both brought to town and Nichols gave himself up to the officers of the law. Dr. McCook, we believe, dressed the wound of the unfortunate man and

Grand Musical Festival.—Mr. Wolfsohnthe leading pianist in the inner circles of Phila delphia, announces a concert for Friday evening, and a matinee for Saturday. His own series of classical matinees are among the most recherrhe and fashionable entertainments of the winter season, and are especially thronged by ladies, who, upon these occasions, may go unattended by male friends, thus being independent in their movement, which they seem to enjoy exceedingly. Mr. Wolfsohn is accompanied by M'lle Frederici, the beautiful and gifted prima dona of the German Opera Company, which closed such a brilliant season on Saturday night at the Academy of Music in Philadelphia.
The papers there are in ecstacles over her superior voice and its rareculty stion. Herr Himincomparably great in Gounod's opera "Fausi," which now seems the rage everywhere, and was the closing opera of the season. The arrangements for the concert and matinee seems excellently disposed, and we refer our readers to the advertising columns for the details. Our amateurs must rejoice at the prospect of hearing three such superb artists as Frederici, Himmer and Wolfsohn.

Corns and Bunions.—We take pleasure in announcing the fact that Dr. Randall, who performed so many cures equally of inveterate corns, diseased nails and bunions has returned to the city, and may be found at No. 20 Fifth street. Dr. R. has cured many cases where the patient had tried all systems before, and has certificates from Thomas M. Marshal, Esq., Wm Phillips, Eil Young, and many well known citizens who have suffered from these troublesome peats. On Saturday we were shown the following certificate trem Henry Briggs, of Beaver county: "Ur. Randall extracated a most painful corn for me last summer,—the same influenced my foot and rendered me pertectly lame, but in less than ten minutes I was reasy to leave his office, and have never felt a twinge since His cures are lavaluable, and I wish his skill choosing generity.
