Mr. Parkins has made me an offer of his hand, and I accept it, con-fident that he also bestows upon me a heart capable of love, capable of feeling and capable of kindness and generosity."

Air. Bevington was still trying to laugh, but it was a little on the wrong side of his mouth now. Mrs. Honiton' acting was too deep, too profound for him. She continued:

him. She continued:

'You must remember, Mr. Bevington, that I am a widow, and that I have been privileged, while very young, to acquire experience of your sex. That experience has not come too late for my happiness. Thave thought it possible, sir, that a person who had acted with such deliberate and wanton cruelty to-Wards the most kindhearted and inoffensive of men, might at some future time feel no scruple in practising that cruelty upon a defenceless woman; and I have thought it most probable that a man thought it most probable that a man who has invariably, and under many trying circumstances, shown himself to possess all the qualities which make up the character of a true gentleman, will prove himself to be a kind and devoted husband. Sir, I have made my choice," And Mrs. Heniton gave her hand to Perkins, led him into the ball-room, among the company, and there openly among the company, and there openly announced to her guests that she had made choice of a husband. And so Mr. Perkins, instead of being made an April fool, was made the happiest man alive. And the village won-dered, and refused to believe its eyes, until it saw Mr. and Mrs. Perkins roll

PITTSBURGH:

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 11, 1964. DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL The members of this Committee are request ed to convene at the Buehler House, in Harrisburg, on Tuesday, the 19th of July, inst., at three o'clock P. M. The gentlemen designated to run as Presidential electors at the ensuing election, by the late Democratic State Convention, are also respectfully invited to meet the Committee at the same time and place, with a view to a more complete and efficient organization of the party.

The New Conscription Law. We believe, moreover, that the Government has lost an opportunity not likely recur, to appropriate to itself and th cause the universal willingness to respond to a popular call for men. It has chosen a way the people does not like; one that does not work well. Members of Congress have misrepresented the people, and been coerced into going contrary to their judgment in giving the measure their support —a fact they will not fail to realize.—Ed-

PEACE.

The Commercial, repeats its question about securing peace; it says: "The Copperhead organ here, in comwith the species, has for some time been crying out for peace. We have repeatedly asked it to enlighten us add the public as to the manner it would bring about a condition so desirable but as yet it has not answered. We trust it will test does

Those who have plunged the country in bloody war, and who are in possession of the government are the ones who should bring about peace. Had we our way, we would begin our efforts to sesecure peace by revoking all of Lincoun's "bulls against the comet" and all of the Abolitionists acts of confiscation and emancipation, which were intended to unite the South and prolong the war. We would then call a national convention, and if we could we would have an agreement made that whenever a long nosed Abolitionists again began agitation against the local institutions o to do, we would hang them, like onions,

In Friday's Post we remarked: "When we talked being "true to liberty," we mean the liberty of the citizens as secured by the constitution; and as regards negro slavery we leave that, to take its chances just like anything else in rebellion against the Constitution.

Jinon this the Commercial remarks: "The South rebelled for slavery, and because the institution was its main-stay, the President issued his Proclamation of Freedom. As a war power, slavery has no more rights under the Constitution than a powder-mill, a gun-factory or a fort. Therefore, we declare frankly that we are not for permitting slavery to "take its chancea."

And why not? The Commercial is not willing to let slavery die out, as our armies advance into the enemy's country -the only way in which it can be reached. If the war does not kill slavery, how are proclamations and acts of Congress to accomplish it? And yet the Commercial drivels about the late attempts of Congress to kill slavery by Constitutional amendments!
