LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 28, 1864.

Monthly Meetings.—We noticed yesterday that a large number of meetings were advertised to be held throughout the county to make provision for raising money enough to hire substitutes for the coming draft of 500,000 men. Upon this question, the people seem to be determined, let it cost what it may. Today, we give a few of the proceedings held at different wards in this city and Allegheny.

In the Eighth Ward, the following resolution were passed: Resolved, That the Board of School Directors of the Eighth Ward, Pittsburgh, be and they be authorized to call for 50,000 men; and the Board are also authorized to call for 50,000 men; and to appoint a committee to solicit subscriptions in this ward in this regard.

The following gentlemen were then chosen: President, Wm. Phillips; Vice President, John Wilson; Treasurer, J. H. Baldwin. On motion, the President of the permanent organization was instructed to appoint a Finance Committee, and a committee on resolutions to meet this evening, in connection with the other committees, to report on the subject of the object of the meeting.

Pittsburgh Female College.—The Fall term of this college commences on Tuesday, the 21st day of August, under the superintendence of Rev. Isaac C. Perkins, a teacher of great popularity and ability, assisted by his lady as governess, and about twenty subordinate teachers. About one hundred boarders and two hundred day students attended last season. Since then the buildings have been enlarged, improved and furnished with everything necessary to study and comfort, and it is confidently expected that the college, which has capacity for four hundred students, will be filled during the approaching session. Every attention will be given to the attendance in regard to comfort that the most kind and indulgent parent could bestow. The discipline of the institution is strict, but kind, the rules reasonable, but inflexible. Parents can rely upon the morals of their children being carefully guarded.

Hamilton's Boat.—The champion of the American waters, Mr. Hamilton, who has been defeated by the government authorities, is likely to die.—Bradley, who shot Pagas at the moonlight picnic, is likely to die from injuries received during the disturbance. It is thought his skull is fractured. He is now lying very low.

Phillips, both of whom were deceased, and was wound up in the year 1863. The estate of Geo. Phillips is now being administered by the executor, Geo. W. Anderson, and the estate of Wm. J. Anderson is now being administered by the executor, Geo. W. Anderson.

Grading Penn Street.—Workmen are now engaged in grading Penn street at the old and new bridges. This is a stone arch bridge and will have to be first torn away and then replaced by a new one. It will be a difficult and troublesome matter to do this, as it is almost a stone arch bridge, and the street cars every few minutes. The work will be done by the Pennsylvania Railroad, and it is expected that the street will be graded by the end of the month.

The Late Rain.—From all accounts of the country, we conclude that the late rain was general from Maine to St. Louis, and down to Petersburg in the westerly direction. The rain began to fall in the early part of the week, and it continued during the day increased to a thick, heavy shower. The ground was being pretty well saturated. At this rate, the growing vegetation everywhere is being benefited. It is believed here that we have done better than that, and are keeping the crops in a very good state of health.

United States Marine Hospital.—There are at present over seven hundred sick and wounded soldiers at the United States Hospital in this city. The hospital is situated on the corner of St. Vincent and Penn streets, and is a large and commodious building. The patients are well cared for, and the medical staff is composed of some of the best surgeons in the country. The hospital is a very important institution, and it is a pleasure to see it so well supplied with patients.

City Receipts.—Mayor Lowry has turned over for the use of the city, the following amounts of money collected by him during the month of June: License Fees, $10,000; Tax on Real Estate, $10,000; Tax on Personal Property, $10,000; Total, $30,000.
