ern front, present the main entrance to the approaching visitor. This section will be 120 feet in length by 20 in width, and the entrance will be sheltered and adoraed by a portiso of dimensions proportioned to the fascade of which it eastern part will be the infirmaries, wardrobes, and further sleeping apartments for the pupils. The western portion of this section will constitute the chapel of the Institution, 50 feet by 66 in extent, to be finished in the Roman style of architecture. A suitable portico will embellish this part of the building, which fronts that point where the National road crosses the hill lying to the East of the city. The Southern traverse section is 92 feet by 40 and is connected with the centre by a longitudinal section 61 feet in length. This part will be appropriated to the use of the Sisters, and in it will be located the kitchen, store rooms, &c, of the establishment.

We understand that the building will be finished in season for the distribution of premiums, which will come off in July next. The adjacent grounds will be laid out and ornamented under the direction and superintendence of the artist who had charge of the Laurel Hill Cemetary, near Philadelphia.

Recruiting.-Since the recent call of the President for five hundred thousand men, re- have a good prospect of freeing themselves from cruits have never arrived in larger numbers than during the last two days. There are seve ral recruiting offices now extended throughout he city, and they are all attended by numerous crowds, who wish to enter the service, so that he recruiting officers have as much as they can do, to write down the names and muster them in. Large numbers have already been enrolled during that brief period, but still they are coming, coming as fast as ever. If it continue at this rate for any length of time, not a Ward in the city will be liable, and we can soon afford to breathe freely. The citizens should contribute on their part to promote the volunteer movement, and while this enlisting mania prevails, they should help on the officers in the performance of their duty. It is reported that quite a number of strangers have arrived here recently with the purpose of recruiting, no doubt in-duced by the larger bounties which we give. These will help on our quots, and together with the citizens who are volunteering in large numbers will render the prospect quite cheering Orders from the War Department direct that enrollment lists be closed and forwarded to the Provost Marshal General's Department on the tirst of September, with corrections to that Government Sale of Horses, Lumber Manure, this morning at 10 o'clock, at date, so that proper quotas may be assigned, but by that time we may confidently hope that ours will be completed.

Coroner's Investigation .--- On Sunday, a jury was empanelled by Coroner McClung, to investigate into the circumstances attending th death of young Barry, who was run over by a train on that day. Owing to the absence of important witnesses, the jury continued until 9 o'clock, yesterday forenoon. The deceased previous to his death, stated that he had been pushed off the car, by some person to him unknown, and yesterday two boys being put under examination confirmed the above statement. They stated that they were with Barry on Sunday, and as the train was leaving the depot, got upon a car. Barry likewise endeavored to get upon the steps, when he was kicked by a young man in the breast, and thrown on the track. After one wheel had run over him, he managed to extricate himself, and called loudly to his companions for assistance. They were unable to descend from the car, until the train arrived at the outer station, when one of them inform ed an attachee of the railroad of the accident but the young man could not be found. The Coroner returned a verdict in accordance with Saddlery & Carriage Hardware, - -----

Theatre.-The theatre this season is a complete success, and the new actors and actresses surpass any that have visited our city for som juö-l⊽d time. Noue of the actors of former seasons have been accepted, except those whose popularity has been so well established, that their absence would be regretted by the public. The danseuses surpass in skill, agility and easy grace all those whom we have hereit ofore witnessed, and the consequence is, that the house is crowded to overflowing every night. All those who wish to pass a pleasant evening had better repair to this fashionable place of amusement
