Mr. WEED says:

WEED says: "We have been involved for nearly four years in an aboiltion way. The influences that drove North Carolina and Tennessee from the Union extorted an emachicitation proclamation practical and effective in giving union, strength and deter-mination to rebellion-a proclamation to which the first slave has not owed his freedom, for it is only operative where our armisego, and without it the armies would have gone faster and farther. And let it be remembered that all the while these Aboiltion disagogues and fanatics. were slding both rebellion and slavery. The North united, and free of the inoubus of Aboiltionism, would have cristhed rebellion, and with it the cursed institution which struck at and sought to divide the Union. If the South avert the punishment due to the great national crime of rebellion they will owe their escape to the insanity of Aboil-tionists. It is thus that atagonisms work to-gether. "And here, to guard against those who lay in wait to pervert all, I say to let me exempt Gua-nrr Surrs, with others, who have nobly given themedyes to the duty of sustaining the Gov-ernment in its war against rebellion. Had the same degree of patriotism and sense governed Mr. Orass, leading meers of Congress, and influ-ential journals, we should this day rejoice in a triumph of the Government over the vanquished armies of the Conference to consigning rebellion and slavsey to a common grave. "I did not, three years ago mistake or magnify the eyil of Abolition influences, nor, though flarcely denounced, did I shrink from the duty of warning the people. What then was only prophetic is now history. Abolition incircles in Congress and in the Cabinet have doubled the millions of dollars and degened the rivers of blood spent and shot in a war which, so long as mant, promised nothing but an intermined to long first or an influences and counsels sway the Govern-mint, promised nothing but an intermised on the duty of warning the people.
