PILES OF

TWENTY YEARS STANDING

CURED.

Below will be found a certificate from the one of most respectable citizens of Wilkins township in regard to Dr. Keyser's Lindsay' Blood Searcher. The Doctor's testimonials are within reach, and no one need be deceived in regard to his preparations.

DR. GEO. H. KEYSER:—I became afflicted with Piles about twenty years ago, and every year they were growing worse, so as to trouble me very much, so much so at times as to unfit me for work. Sometimes I was so bad that I could do nothing account of them, they came on out on the anus large as a hickory nut. I had tried a great deal of medicine for them. I used to buy and take whatever I could hear of or read of in the diary and pamphlets that fell in my way, but I could not get cured, sometimes they would do me some good for a little while, but afterwards they would return again as bad as ever. I also applied to two Doctors who visited me at my house and gave me some medicine but it would not do. About two years ago I was over a year as not to be out of the house. I got your advertisement of your Lindsay's Blood-Searcher, made by yourself, when you sold it to me. You told me one bottle would not cure me, but that my whole system would have to be renovated by the medicine before I got well. I bought one bottle and took it home with me and used it according to your directions. I then called to see you again, when you said I could not expect much benefit from one bottle. I bought it on, one bottle at a time, until I had seven bottles. After this quantity had been used, I was entirely well of the Piles, which had tortured me for twenty years. In other respects my health is improved, and I am as well as could be expected for one of my age, being sixty years past. I have been well now for six months, and there is no appearance of a return of the disease. I can do any kind of farming work now without the Piles coming down and hurting me. I can pitch hay, chop wood; lift, or do any kind of work, which before used to hurt me. When I found out your Blood-Searcher I kept on taking it until I got entirely well. I consider it my duty to make my case known to the country for the benefit of others who may be suffering as I was and do not know the value of your medicine. You may publish this if you like—I live in Wilkins Township, and will be pleased to satisfy any one of the truth of this certificate if they wish to call on me.

December 24th, 1862.

Look and see the name of DR. GEORGE H. KEYSER on the cover of the bottle and pasted over the cork; also for his stamp on the United States revenue on the top of the bottle to prevent being imposed upon by a spurious article which is in the market.

DR. BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS, and other treatment necessary in some cases, and which never fails to cure, and can be relied on. They do not nauseate the stomach, or render the breath offensive, and they can be USED WITHOUT DETECTION.

They do not interfere with business pursuits, and are speedy in action. No change of diet is necessary. They are warranted in all cases to be effectual in removing and curing the disease. Upwards of two thousand cases are on record that have been cured by using BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS, and certificates can be shown from many that have used them.

No Case of Failure ever Occurs.

Upwards of a Hundred Physicians use them extensively in their practice, and they cannot effect cures without them.

who will take all risk if properly directed, and will send the Pills, secured from observation, by return mail, post Paid.

SOLD BY DRUGGISTS GENERALLY.

NOTICE TO ALL CONCERNED.

Among a certain class of self-important people there is a peculiar feeling of contempt attached to all physicians that advertise and treat the diseases named in this card, (PRIVATE DISEASES,) why this should be, they nor no one else can tell. Are they not aware that all physicians treat diseases of every denomination, in fact solicit just the very diseases that are so obnoxious to these very refined parties. I suppose they would not let one of their family go to a party that has devoted years for their benefit, because he advertises the fact, and their family physician says he is a humbug, so he can get the case. Often he has almost deprived the party of health. He argues at least to the physician that advertises how clever are they to know! Are they not aware that Sir Astley Cooper, Sir Benjamin Brodie, Sir Charles Bell and M. Paul Ricord devoted years in the treatment of these diseases! These men are held up as shining lights in the medical world. I don't assert that all men are worthy that publish, still there are a great number of them that are. I have devoted myself to the study and treatment of PRIVATE DISEASES upwards of 40 years, and without egotism can say I have saved hundreds from years of misery and untimely death. My treatment is confined to the vegetable altogether, as I think it is the best and most certain. It is in my power to bring hundreds of certificates if I thought it necessary to certify to my general success: but my long residence in this city is sufficient proof without adding more. Spermatorrhea and all diseases arising from it are cured in a much shorter time than heretofore. It behooves every young man and woman to be careful in selecting a physician. The different advertisements that are seen in our papers are of no worth, and no benefit will arise from answers, than only loss of health and money. Hundreds are cured annually by my new remedies. PEACE MISSION TO RICHMOND.

The Rebel Side of the Story—Circular from "Secretary" Benjamin.

The following circular from the rebel Secretary of State, referring to the "peace" mission of Colonel Jaquess and Mr. Gilmore, appears in the Richmond papers:

Circular.

DEPARTMENT OF STATE,
RICHMOND, August 25, 1864.

SIR: Numerous publications which have recently appeared in the journals of the United States on the subject of informal overtures for peace between the two federations of States now at war on this continent, render it desirable that you should be fully advised of the views and policy of this Government on a matter of such paramount importance. It is likewise proper that you should be accurately informed of what has occurred on the several occasions mentioned in the published statements.

You have heretofore been furnished with copies of the manifesto issued by the Congress of the Confederate States, with the approval of the President, on the 14th of June last, and have doubtless acted in conformity with the resolution which requested that copies of this manifesto should be laid before foreign Governments. The principal sentiments and purposes by which these States have been and are still actuated, are set forth in that paper with all the authority due to the solemn declaration of the legislative and executive departments of this Government, and with a clearness which leaves no room for comment or explanation. In a few sentences it is pointed out that all we ask is immunity from interference with our internal peace and prosperity, "and to be left to the undisturbed enjoyment of these inalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness which our common ancestors declared to be the equal heritage of all parties to the social compact. Let them forbear aggressions upon us and the war is at an end. If there be questions which require adjustment by negotiation, we have ever been willing and are still willing to enter into communication with our adversaries in a spirit of peace, of equity and manly frankness." The manifesto closed with the declaration that "we commit our cause to the enlightened judgement of the world, to the sober reflections of our adversaries themselves, and to the solemn and righteous arbitrament of heaven."

Within a very few weeks after the publication of this manifesto, it seemed to have met with a response from President Lincoln. In the early part of last month a letter was received by General Lee from Lieutenant General Grant, in the following words:

"HEADQUARTERS OF THE U. S.
CITY POINT, Va., July 8, 1864.

General R. E. Lee, Commanding Confederate forces near Petersburg, Virginia.

"General: I would request that Colonel James F. Jaquess, Seventy-third Illinois volunteer infantry, and J. R. Gilmore, Esq., be allowed to meet Colonel Robert Ould, Commissioner for the Exchange of Prisoners, at such place between the lines of the two armies as you may designate. The object of the meeting is legitimate with the duties of Colonel Ould, as Commissioner.

"If not consistent for you to grant the request here asked, I would beg that this be referred to President Davis for his action.

"Requesting as early an answer to this communication as you may find it convenient to make, I subscribe myself, very respectfully, your obedient servant.

"U. S. GRANT, Lieut.-Gen. U. S. A."

On the reference of this letter to the President he authorized Colonel Ould to meet the persons named in General Grant's letter, and Colonel Ould, after seeing them, returned to Richmond and reported to the President, in the presence of the Secretary of War and myself, that Messrs. Jaquess and Gilmore had not said anything to him about his duties as commissioner for exchange of prisoners, but that they asked permission to come to Richmond for the purpose of seeing the President; that they came with the knowledge and approval of President Lincoln, and under the pass that they were informal messengers sent with a view of paving the way for a meeting of formal commissioners authorized to negotiate for peace, and desired to communicate to President Davis the views of Mr. Lincoln, and to obtain the President's views in return, and to arrange for a meeting of commissioners. Colonel Ould stated that he had told them repeatedly that it was useless to come to Richmond to talk of peace on any other terms than the recognition of the Independence of the Confederacy, to which they said they were aware of that, and that they were nevertheless confident that their interview would result in peace. The President, on this report of Colonel Ould, determined to permit them to come to Richmond under his charge.

On the evening of the 16th July, Colonel Ould conducted these gentlemen to a hotel in Richmond where a room was provided for them, in which they were to remain under surveillance during their stay here, and she next morning I received the following letter:

"EXECUTIVE MANSION,
RICHMOND, Va., July 16, 1864.

"HON. J. P. Benjamin, Secretary of the State Confederate States of America.

"Dear Sir: The undersigned James R. Jaquess, of Illinois, and James R. Gilmore, of Massachusetts, have respectfully solicited an interview with the President. They visit Richmond as private citizens, and have no official character or authority, but they are fully possessed of the views of the United States Government relative to an adjustment of the differences now distracting between the North and South, and have little doubt that a free interchange of views between President Davis and themselves would open the way to such official negotiations as would ultimate in restoring peace to the two sections of our distracted country.

"They therefore ask an interview with the President, and awaiting your reply, are most truly and respectfully your obedient servants.

"JAS. R. GILMORE,
"JAS. R. JAQUESS."

The word official is underscored and the word "peace" doubly underscored, in the original.

After forming the letter I invited Colonel Ould to conduct the writers to my office and on their arrival stated to them that they must be conscious they could not be admitted to an interview with the President, without informing me more fully of the object of their mission, and asking me that they would by request of Mr. Lincoln. Mr. Gilmore replied that they came unofficially, but with the knowledge and at the desire of Mr. Lincoln, that they thought the war has gone far enough, that it could never end except by some sort of agreement, that the agreement might as well be made now as after still further bloodshed, that they knew by the recent address of the Confederate Congress that we were willing to make peace, that they assumed that proposals ought to come from the North, and that they were prepared to make those proposals by Mr. Lincoln's authority, that it was necessary to have a sort of informal understanding in advance of regular negotiations, for if commissioners were appointed without some such understanding they would meet, quarrel and separate, leaving the parties more bitter against each other than before that they knew Mr. Lincoln's views and would state them, if pressed by the President to do so, and desired to learn his in return.

I insisted on some evidence that they came from Mr. Lincoln, and in order to satisfy me, Mr. Gilmore referred to the fact that permission for their coming through the lines had been asked officially by General Grant in a letter to General Lee, and that General Grant in that letter has asked that this request should be referred to President Davis. Mr. Gilmore then gave me a card, written and signed by Mr. Lincoln, requesting General Grant to aid Mr. Gilmore and friend in passing through his lines into the Confederacy.

Colonel Jaquess then said that the same was not put on the card for the reason that it was earnestly desired that their visit should be kept secret, that he had come into the Confederacy a year ago, and had visited Petersburg on a similar errand and at that time leaves at his name should become known, that some of those who had formerly met him in Petersburg would receive it as the purpose for which he now came. He said that the terms of peace which they would offer to the President would be honorable to the Confederacy, that they did not desire that the Confederacy should accept any other terms, but would be glad to have my opinion as they gave me a card that their visit should be kept a profound secret if it failed to result in peace, that it would not be just that either party should seek any advantage by divulging the fact of their overture for peace, if unsuccessful. I consented to this request, and then, I think, said: "Do I understand you to state distinctly that you came as messengers from Mr. Lincoln for the purpose of agreeing with the President upon the proper mode of making a formal negotiation for peace, changed by Mr. Lincoln with authority for stating his views and receiving those of President Davis?" Both answered in the affirmative, and I then said that the President would see them at my office the same evening at nine p. m., but, at least, I reminded he would, but if he objected, after hearing more fully they should go to Richmond. They were then recommitted to the charge of Colonel Ould, with the understanding that they were to be reconducted to my office at the appointed hour, unless otherwise directed by Mr. Lincoln.

This interview, connected with the report previously made by Colonel Ould, left on my mind the decided impression that Mr. Lincoln was ready to sending forthwith commissioners to negotiate terms for the independence of the Confederacy, and that he would be anxious to learn whether the authority which alone he would be willing to take such a step would be yielded to the Confederacy, that with this view he had placed his messengers in a condition to satisfy us that they really came from him without committing himself in anything in the event of a disagreement as to such conditions as he considered to be indispensable. On informing the President of my conclusion, he determined that no question of form or etiquette should be an obstacle to his receiving any overtures that promised, however remotely, a result in putting an end to the carnage which marked the continuance of hostilities.

The President came to my office at nine o'clock in the evening, and Colonel Ould came a few minutes later, with Messrs. Jaquess and Gilmore. The President said to them that he had heard from me that they came as messengers of peace from Mr. Lincoln; that as such they were welcomed, that the Confederacy had never conceived a desire for peace, and that he was ready to hear whatever they had to offer on that subject. I have and at this Mr. Gilmore then addressed the President, and in a few minutes had conveyed the information that those two gentlemen had come to Richmond impressed with the idea that this government would accept a proclamation of the reconstruction of the Union, the abolition of slavery, and the grant of an amnesty to the people of the states in rebellion criminals excepted, to accomplish the abolition of slavery. It was proposed that there should be a general vote of all the people of both confederations, and the majority of the vote there taken was to determine that act as well as all other disputed questions. These were stated to be Mr. Lincoln's views while the President answered that as these proposals had been prefaced by the remark that the people of the Northwestern States, and that a majority ought to govern, the offer was in effect a proposal that the Confederate States should surrender at discretion, admit that they had been wrong from the beginning of the contest, submit to the mercy of their enemies, and accept themselves to be treated of pardon for their crimes; that even this alternative was preferable to such dishonor.
