... LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY MOBNING, SEPT. 6, 1864. Row on Fifth Street. Yesterday a row occurred on Ffth street, posite the Commercial Office. It appears that some professional gentlemen whose name we refrain from publishing, unable to representeir seal commenced speechifying at the above named place, and immediately a large crowd flocked and them, anxious to know what was going on. Quite a number of others were attracted neighboring bar-rooms, and commen ed to act in a very disorderly manner. So she principal thoroughfare of the city was en strely blockaded carts and wagons were stoped in the street, and such peaceable citizens as were passing by there on, business were arrested in their progress by the dense crowd. Subsection of their progress by the dense crowd. quently the speeches became so bitter and; fac tions that they were little less than incentive to riot, but fortunately things did not assume such a serious feature. A few individuals commenced a fight, but the peaceable citizens who were it checked the excited passions of the most quarrelsome, and the rest escaped with bloody wars fortunate occurrence, or else it would be difficult to determine what might have been the result. As it was, only a few were injured, and the others were peaceably dispersed, but a serious disturbance was menaced. Such proceed ings as these should be suppressed immediately and, if they are allowed to continue, this parti zan spirit will know no bounds, nor will it be deterred from committing serious outrages. No man has a right to collect a crowd in the public streets during business hours and obstruct the public thoroughfares in order to vent his feelings in insults and reproaches against those who might happen to differ from him in political We hope that such occurrences as these will not be renued in our city again, and if they will that the authors thereof will be punished according to law, no matter who they be. It would be a disgrace to the city to pe mit them, whatever may be said of those whose sense of propriety will not deter them from causing such disturbances among the people.

Yolunteering Yesterday volunteering walkinger brisk than during the past week, probably on account of the proximity of the draft, together with the fact that no one knows the moment it will be enforced. The announcment that it would have commenced yesterday in the First Ward, although a little premature, caused not a little uneasiness, especially in those Wartis, which had not as yet filled their quotas. These latter no doubt, felt very much relieved on hearing that a little time yet remained for them to raise the necessary. ment that it would have commenced yesterday elleved on hearing that a little time yet remained for them to raise the necessary number of men, and accordingly they set themselves to the work pesterday with a thorough good will and ess, such as did not characterize their efforts from the beginning. Volunteers were numerous, and yesterday all the recruiting offices were crowded with such as desired to enroll their names in the service. The average bounty is still five hundred dellars, but substitutes demand a very large pile It is much easier fo fill he quotas with volunteers, than to be obliged to procure substitutes at the present prices ter the draft. If a further postponement of a few days can be obtained, we feel confident that there will ba no need of any draft whatever. Men are to be found in plenty, and the rathe appleasant situation at present of those who have not performed their share in the work of filling the quotas, will have the effect of arousing them up to a sense of their duty. There is a good opportunity yet remaining for those who ard paragraph in their intention to do something.

Coal.-It is now an object of serious consideration whether it would be better to lay up a stock of coal for the winter under existing circlinguables, or waits while longer in expects tion of the coal diggers and mining companies ing to terms. Coal is dear at present, but if this state of affairs continue much longer, it will be far more so. The mining companies do not incurr muchloss by the strike, on the contrary, if we believe some gentlemen who are This may seem strange to some, but if they consider that the companies can raise the 'price of coal in proportion to the demant, and that the ment paper. money which shall accrue from the rise will be Convertible into a Six per cent. 5-20 all clear profit, they will have no reason to be istonfahed. None but the people suffer from the miners' strike, and if these latter consider it in this light, no doubt they will find it far easier to settle difficulties and re-commence their work. If the miners will not do this the value of coal will be every day on the increase.

State Fair.—The Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society will hold its next fair at seen that the actual profit on this loan, at the Easton, Penna., Sept. 27th, 23th, 29th and 30th, informed, are being made. The grounds and buildings of the Farmers and Mechanics Institute, where the fair will be held, are among the largest and finest in the State. In additi the buildings and sheds already erected, several very large tents have been secured; one for the foral and fruit department, and the other for the Fruit Growers Society of Eastern Pennsylvania, Fruit Growers Society of Eastern Pennsylvania, who-will hold their quarterly meeting upon the grounds at the same time. Their object is to discuss all questions appertaining to fruit growing, as well as to fruits of their own production. Their discussions are beneficial, and will add much to the general interest of the fair. From ions the fair will be one of the largest ever held in the State.

L. it. Dabbs' establishment, on St. Clair street. The season of the spear has a great deal to do in the embellishment of a photograph, but in our opinious a good arrier has more. You may confidently rely on the skill and experience of this gentleman, who is so extensively patronized by the results of the 5th Corps line, and was especially obnoxious to the Johnnies.

Early to day they determined to break it up, and sent a considerable force for that purpose. Our videttes were driven back to their posts, which also fell back to Davis' House, where the enemy made a charge. This charge mot being successful, they were in turn driven back, in some disorder. Recommendations and Orders from President Lincoln.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—11 A. M.—To Maj. Gen. Dix:-The President has issued the following recommendations and orders in relation to the recent successes of the U. S. forces at Mobile and Atlanta. (Signed,) E. M. STANTON. Executive Mansion, Washington, Sept 3 The signal success that Divine Providence has recently vouchsafed to the operations of the United States fleet and my in the harbor of Mobile, and the reduction of Fort Powell, Fort Gaines and Fort Morgan, and the glorious achievements of our army under General Sherman, in the State of Georgia, resulting in the capture of the city of At. lanta, calls for devout acknowledgments to the Supreme Being in whose hands are the destinies of nations. It is therefore requested that on next Sunday, in all places of worship in the United States, thanksgiving be offered to him for His mercy in preserving our national existence against insurgent rebels, who have been waging a cruel war against the Government of the United States, for its overthrow, and also, that prayers be made for Divine protection to our brave soldiers and their leadurs in the field, who have so often and so gallantly perilled their lives in battles with the enemy, and for blessings and comforts from the Father of Mercy to the sick, wounded and prisoners, and to the orphans and widows of those who have fallen in the service of their country, and that He will continue to uphold the Government of the United States against all efforts of public enemies and secret
