Mass Meeting of the Coal Miners.-The oal miners held a mass meeting yesterday, on the Allegheny Commons. The meeting was not so largely attended as was expected, probably on account of the inclemency of the weather, but still they managed to raise a considerable erowd. Mayor Alexander, of that city, was elected distribut of the meeting; Mr. Lutton Vice-President, and Mr. Colston Scoretary, The chairman stated, in a few brief remarks, the object of the meeting, and requested that the miners would explain the difficulties existing between them and the coal mining companies, and give the reason of the present high price of coal. This the miners proposed to do through their speakers, and as this is a serious question of controversy at present, we will give a summary of what was said, for the information of m They stated that the public were greatly misinformed in regard to the existing state of affairs, and that their purpose was to , crass the predjudice from the public mind in reference to he coalminers. They admitted that they had formed a union, not of that sort which is represented by the mining companies, but one that zed simply for their protection and . defense against the encroachments of the proprietors, such as all other tradesmen had thought not only useful but necessary to have.

coal was not rightfully attributed to the miners. No man could possibly form a correct judgment of these things unless he was thorough conversant with the circumstances in which the digger is placed. They laid great stress on the fact that the companies made enormous profits by the sale of coal, and argued that the miner should have their share.

Man Stabbed .- Wednesday night about 10 o'clock, serious stabling affair occurred on the Second street road near lock No. 1 on the Monongahels river. It appears that two brothers in-law named James Mooney and William Oarrigan, had a dispute recently about family mats, and that Carrigan went to Mooney's house on Wednesday night, while under the influence of liquor. Another disputs arose between the ARTICLES OF AGREEMENT parties, when Oarrigan drew a large butcher knife, and struck at Mooney injuring him badly in the face. The latter attempted to take the knife away, but in the attempt received a severe ARNOLD'S INK, ed inmediately of the occurrence, and on, their, arrival at Mooney's house they found him lying apparently in a oritival condition.
