We are already driven to the years of ruin. Every When the Democratic State Conven tion of Ohio, last, year, nominated Vallandigham for Governor, the reader will remember that it refused to endorse his views regarding the rebellion; he was nominated, simply and solely because of his arbitrary arrest and banishment by the Administration. While in Congress he did not act and vote with the great body of his party upon questions relating to the rebellion, not ever with the majority of his Democratic colleagues. The late State Convention in Ohio did not endorse Vallandigham's ideas regarding Secession, so the principal capital he has acquired is sympathy, created for him by his outrageous arrest by the Administration. These facts being incontrovertible the question arises who is Mr. Vallandigham that he should presume upon construing platforms for an entire pary, numbering millions of voters? Upon what meat has he fed "that he has grown so great?" The generality of partizans, who have he good of their country at heart-especially those who have received favors rom it and expect to secure more-are willing to give and take a little in order o effect the general good; but in Mr. their tion, in this hour of death and mourning nent to go with us humbly and reverently to tract.
