We Will turnish the DAILY Post, to agents LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 18, 1884. Work on Fourth Street Road.-Work has finally commenced on the Pennsylvania avenue seiver, and we are glad to inform our read ers that the work is progressing rapidly, though under the greatest difficulties. Men have con-stantly been at work there for the last lew days. but it was discovered that more damage. was sustained than at first came under the notice not only of a casual observer, but also of those whose task it was to perfect the state of the sewerage in that quarter. In the first place it was found necessary to give the water in the old canal a large and commodious outlet, so as not to have it collect in too large a quantity in case of a heavy fall of fain, and thereby endanger the neighboring houses, which have already been partly undermined.; For this purpose the embankment was cut through, though apparently with very little success, as yesterday the body of water contained within the old canal was large enough to undermine any house in the course of time. The cellars of the house in the vicinity are entirely filled with water, and were in the very same condition that they were found to be in after the first fall of rain. The rse and cart have not as yet been removed but this, we believe, is not as much the effect of any negligence as of the difficulties to besurted in the removal, before the water and the debris of the stable be taken out. On Satanday the progress of the work was very promnight, the sewer cavel in, and it is now in as bad a condition as ever. In consequence of the incapacity of the brick arch, which, we understand, is only eight inches in thickness, to bear the weight of the earth and stones which have been laid over it, the earth is erpetually caving in, so that, in our opinion, the arch will have to be entirely renewed in order to place it in a reliable condition for the future. "We'sre informed that the gas pipes are also being put out of order in conseque the defective state of the sewerage, so that the any will also be put to considerable expenditure on account of a little negligence on the part of some persons in not removing the obstructions which choked up the passage of make its way to general use in spite of it. the sewers from the first. Yesterday, Mr. Thomson, engineer of the gas works, made an investigation into the state of the pipes in that quarter of the city. It was discovered that part street falling in, and that the water had caused it to be in constant danger of setting. On the other hand, it was found that in a neighboring cellar the pipe had commenced to leak, and it sary to place a well underneath which is to be pumped out every evening, in order to give free passage to the gas. On the whole, the property in the vicinity is in a mison, and is not worth much at present, whatever it was valued at previous to the

: The Oil Bustness.—This business has been rried on of late on a larger scale than ever, and it, is still on the increase. The experience speculator perceives that few specular safe and reliable, and accordingly he invests his money with an unbounded hope of enriching himself. Others, tired of the old fashioned methabandoned their ordinary pursuits of life, in order to follow one more fucrative, or have in vested so much of their capital in the oil busi ness, that they cannot hope to realize any considerable amount of money from any other. The old fashioned method of "taking care of the pence" is entirely too slow for our modern speculators, every man is desirous of accumulating a fortune for himself, and he only wishes to know by what manner, or by what pursuit of life he can attain his end in the shortest apace of time. Off speculation offers itself to the view as the safest and most reliable to be found, while at the same time it is one of the most profitable to invest in Accordingly every man who wishes to make money devotes all his time and capital to the oil trade, so that at the pres ent day there is hardly a man in Pittsburgh o ent day there is nature a man in A trasuction of nating a few hundred dollars in his possession, but what has ever lost by the speculation, as a more lugrad. Men are now commencing to invest their capital in a manner almost approaching to recklessness. As long as the trade is carried on at the present rate, well and good, but we have heard experienced men express their opinion on the subject, and they are begining to fear a collapse. Too many wells have been discovered, all yielding enormous quantities of oil, and too many companies have been formed for the working of the wells, not to have a great decline in price. If this happen, and it is almost certain that it will, the oil trade will not be so profitable as heretofore, and a great many might lose a considerable sum of noney by the collapse. By this we do not wish to insinuate that the trade will not be carried on so extensively as at present, we simply mean to say that men will not realize such lorge fortunes in so short a space of time, as the people will be unwhiling to pay the prices now demanded for oil while the companies have so much on hand, and the quantity is on the increase. Those who are now gloating over their good prospects, had better be on their guard.

in the service, surrounded with all the dangers of the field. Whether it be that they delight in goalling to mind the scenes of past times, and the faces of old acquaintances, or that they desire to receive a proof of attachment from their friends at home, none but a soldier can determin, but certaine it is that they want letters. To those who have either friends or relatives in the army, and of these the number is not small, we will submit the following report from a soldier, addressed to a religious society: we will stomit the following seport from a soldier, addressed to a religious society:

"I wish to speak of one way in which you can do great good to your soldier friends in the away." Write to them many letters. I am a sergeant and so I have had much to do with the mails of our regiments. I know that when a mail arrives, every man looks for a letter. All are looking. They want to be remembered. And when the mails once in the pringing no letters from loved ones at home, I have seen men become exapperate under the bitter disappointment, and take to sambling and drinking, and anything to kill time. They will say our friends at home care nothing for us, and they must not hame us if we care nothing for them. And so they will attempt to drown their sorrow in the care from hothers, and they must not hame us if we care nothing for them. And so they will attempt to drown their sorrow in the indulgence of some kind of yies. It sow out out the from the product of the sow in the sorrow in omorring, real encouraging them. I think you would not be slow to write such letters to them. Only if you would sake them from ruin write many latters. Then they feel that your eyes is upon them, and they are restrained from Lilling into many sins."

Something New.—The scarcity of manual labor, prevalent throughout the entire country, has necessitated the citizens to sharpen their wits and find some means through which to replace the loss of those who have dedicated them selves to the military nervice during the war. ising, but owing to the heavy fall of rain on For this purpose inventions unsurpassed for in genuity and mechanical skill have come in vogue, and are now to be seen to whatever side you turn your eyes. A comparatively new branch of industry is making horse shoes by machinery. The shoes turned out are as much superior to the old hand made shoes as modern cotton fabric is to the product of the hand loom.
And so much has the introduction of machinery cheapened the process, that machine made those can be sold by the ton at about the same price as the raw material. Like every other means o reducing the necessity for hand work and cheap-ening the products of labor, the machine-made horse shoe has met with much opposition; but, like all really meritorious productions, it will

B. L. H. Dabbs.—Since the art of photography was first invented it has been daily improved, so that now it may be said to have reached a state of perfection of which nothing less than the modern genius of invention is capable of producing. Nevertheless, all artists are not gifted alize in this respect. Some photographs could be ranked, with those which were taken when the art war in its falancy, and without he sitention we say, that the former would not he benefited much higher comparison, or there may pass as moderately good even at the present day, while some few, and it is to these that we call the attention of our readers, have reached the height of perfection. With this last class we place those of Air. B. L. H. Dabbs, which, in the estimation of all, are the best to be found. My. Dubbs has spared no expenditure or labor in order to perfect himself in his art, and his present popularity is the best proof of his success. His likenesse are the finest that ever came under our notice, and we would advise all those who are desirous of obtaining a spichtid photograph of any kind or size to repair immediately to his retaining the present of the success. Hill's Corps in the centre, occupying the Weldon road to Petersburg, while Beauregard with his division garrisons the fortifications around the city. These men state that great despondency has been occasioned by the fall of Atlanta, especially among the Georgia troops, who begin to lose all heart in the cause, for the reason that they believe their State hopelessly conthey believe their State hopelessly con they believe their State nopelessly con-quered from the Confederacy.

It is a gratifying sight to witness the wonderful change effected in our army within a few weeks from the large and frequent reinforcements. Our skeleton regiments are filling out to the old proportions which they exhibited in the first stages of their campaigning. Brigades are beginning to show an unusual numerical force, while divisions are becoming something like appropriate commands for our general officers. With all this, there is a decided improvement in the spirits, health and morale generally of the troops.

Blockade Runners Captured.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Capt. M. S. Isson, of the U. S. steamer Santiago de Cuba, under date of Sept. 5th, informs blockade runner. She proved to be the English steamer Advance, late Lord Clyde, from Wilmington, N. C. She was an iron, side-wheel steamer, two years old, very fast, and had on board some 410 bales of cotton and some turpentine. Her full cargo cannot be known until it is taken out in Boston. Rear Admiral Lee, in a dispatch dated Beaufort, Sept. 7th, says: The Elsie ran out of Wilmington on the 4th inst., and was captured the next day by the Keystone State and Quaker City The Elsic was seen and fired upon when she can out by the Nephon and Brittania, and was chased off by the Santiago de Cuba until lost sight of in the darkness. At 1:30 next day she was seen and captured without papers or flag. A shell from the Quaker City exploded in the forehold of the Elsie and destroyed about 150 bales of cotton. Part of the cargo was thrown overboard in the chase, and there are now about 250 bales on board The prize will be sent to Boston. The Elsie is new and of light draft.
