PROPOSALS FOR LOAN.

$200 BONDS.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, October 1, 1864.

Sealed offers will be received at this Department, under the act of Congress, approved June 30, 1864, until the noon of Friday, the 14th instant, for bonds of the United States, to the amount of forty millions of dollars. The bonds offered will bear an interest of six per centum payable semi-annually in coin on the first days of May and November, and will be redeemable at the pleasure of the Government, after five years, and payable in twenty years from Nov. 1, 1864.

Each offer must be for fifty or some multiple of fifty dollars, and must state the sum including premium offered for each hundred dollars, or for fifty when the offer is for no more than fifty. Two per cent. of the principal (excluding premium) of the whole amount bid for by each bidder, must be deposited, as a guaranty for the payment of subscriptions if accepted, with the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, or with the Assistant Treasurer at New York, Boston, Philadelphia or St. Louis, or with the designated Depositary at Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Louisville, Chicago, Detroit or Buffalo, or with any National Deposit Bank which may consent to transact the business without charge, for which deposits duplicate certificates will be issued to the depositors by the officer or bank receiving them—the originals of which must be forwarded, with the offers, to this Department. All deposits should be made in time for the certificates with the offers to reach Washington not later than the morning of October 14, as aforesaid. No offer, not accompanied by its proper certificate of deposit, will be considered.

The Coupon and Registered Bonds, issued under this proposal, will be of the denominations of $50, $100, $500 and $1,000. Registered Bonds of $5,000 and $10,000 will be issued if required.

All offers received will be opened on Friday, October 14. The awards will be made by the Secretary to the highest offerers, and notice of acceptance or declination will be immediately given to the respective offerers. In cases of acceptance, bonds of the description and denomination preferred will be sent to the subscribers, at the cost of the Department, on final payment of installments. The deposit of two per cent. will be reckoned in the last installments paid by successful offerers, and will be immediately returned to those whose offers may not be accepted.

The amount of accepted offers must be deposited with the Treasurer, officer or bank authorized to act under this notice, on advice of the acceptance of offers, as follows: One-half on the 27th October, and the balance, (including the premium and original two per cent. deposit) on the 31st October.

The bonds will bear interest from November 1st. Interest on deposits from their date to November 1st, will be paid by the Government in coin.

One-half of the first installment, or twenty-five per cent. of accepted offers, may be paid, with accrued interest to Oct. 14 in United States "Certificates of Indebtedness," out such certificates will be received in part payment of the first installment only.

Offers under this notice should be endorsed "Offer for Loan," and addressed to the Secretary of the Treasury. The right to decline all offers not considered advantageous to the Government, is reserved by the Secretary.

W. P. FESSENDEN,
Secretary of the Treasury.

Names of Forts.—The various forts constructed during the summer of 1863 at the vicinity of this city will be named in memory of the general and field officers of this county who have heroically fallen in the defence of their country. The forts described in this order shall be known as follows, viz:

Fort Hill—Situated on the ridge at the junction of the Monongahela river and Saw Mill run, on the farm of Clarance Shaler. In memory of Lieut. Col. James C. Hull, who died of wounds received at the battle of Spottsylvania Court House, Va., May 13th, 1864.

Fort Moody—On a commanding eminence opposite the Point, and located on the property of Gen. A. K. Lewis, esq. In memory of Lieut. Col. Wm. H. Moody, 139th P. V., killed at the battle of Cold Harbor, Va., June 2d, 1864.

Fort Ripley—Located on Dilworth's Hill, Mt. Washington, immediately south of Cowansville. In memory of Col. Oliver H. Ripley, 61st P. V., killed at the battle of Fair Oaks, Va., May 31st, 1862.

Fort Poland—On the heights opposite Grant street and to the left of Washington place, Lower St. Clair township. In memory of Major John Poland, 102d P. V., killed at the battle of Malvern Hill, July 1st, 1862.

Fort McIlvaine—On the hill between Fort Poland and Fort Patterson, on the property of Wm. Bailey. In memory of Lieut. Col. Wm. McIlvaine, 102d P. V., who died June 6th, 1864, of wounds received at the battle of Cold Harbor, June 3d, 1864.

Fort Patterson—Located on the property of J. Allen, esq., to the southeast of Fort Poland, Lower St. Clair township. In memory of Col. John W. Patterson, 102d P. V., killed at the battle of the Wilderness, May 5th, 1864.

Fort Jackson—On the heights opposite Brown street, East Birmingham, on the property of Capt. Yard. In memory of Brig. Gen. Conrad F. Jackson, killed at the battle of Fredericksburg, Va., Dec. 12th, 1862.

Fort Black—On Squirrel Hill. In memory of Col. Samuel W. Black, 62d P. V., killed at the battle of Gaines' Mills, June 27th, 1862.

Fort Hays—On Herron's Hill. In memory of Brig. Gen. Alexander Hays, killed at the battle of the Wilderness, Va., May 5th, 1864.

Fort Childs—On the property of Wm. Darlington, esq., southwest corner of Reserve township. In memory of Col. James H. Childs, 4th Pa. cavalry, killed at the battle of Antietam, Sept. 17th, 1862.

Fort Kirkwood—On the hill opposite the U. S. Arsenal, on the property of Judge Lowry. In memory of Col. Wm. S. Kirkwood, 63d P. V., who died from wounds received at the battle of Chancellorsville, July 27th, 1863.

An Alleged Female Impostor.—A young woman of very respectable appearance and sprightly manners, giving her name as Mrs. Susan Wilson, has been of late seeking her fortune in this city and Cincinnati. Her adventures hitherto have not been peculiarly remarkable, but if we judge from the tact which she has already displayed, she will not remain long unknown to fame. It appears that she came to the latter city a few weeks ago, representing herself as the wife of a colonel in the army, and that she lived in St. Louis in very respectable circumstances, but was burned out, losing everything she had. The loss which she sustained of course brought about a great many other evils too numerous to mention, which impaired her health, so that she was in rather destitute circumstances when she presented herself to an eminent physician of that city to have her health restored. The latter very kindly took her into his family, where her lady-like manners and agreeable conversation won for her the confidence of all.

After a while the doctor found that he had been robbed of fifty dollar. Mrs. Wilson would never have been suspected, so well had she deported herself, were it not for a little trifle of her own. Soon after the robbery she applied to another lady in the house for fifteen dollars. After securing the money she yielded to a little female vanity, went out shopping and bought goods to the amount of forty or fifty dollars, which at once aroused suspicion against her. Before the purchase was known she managed to obtain twenty-five dollars more from her lady friend, and when she found that her surroundings were rather disagreeable she paid a visit to our city, probably to call some of our enterprising physicians in this quarter. But unfortunately for those who are admirers of the woodsiful, her career was soon cut short by the arrival of a sharp detective from the scene of her last adventures, who, unsalutarily and most likely against her own free will, conveyed her back to police court on a charge of grand larceny and of obtaining money under false pretences. She was held to bail for a further examination.

Williamsburg News.—On Thursday a beautiful McClellan flag was flung to the breeze in Williamsburg, on the Monongahela river, by the following night some thieves came along and stole it. This grieved a large portion of the citizens very much, but after all their efforts they could find no clue to the thief. We understand that the ladies in Williamsburg and vicinity are very much displeased with the conduct of some of our American ladies who direct their attention and energy to the instruction of juvenile "contrabands" in the art of attending to their domestic affairs. Whether it is through envy of the future fame of the rising generation, of which those of the female sex are sometimes capable, or through a wish to give a word of advice confirmed by long years of experience, it is not our duty to determine, but certain it is that this conduct is very much in opposition to the notions of female propriety. Besides, they say, if those young misses are so desirous of instructing somebody, why not look around them a little and they will find plenty of opportunities to indulge their teaching mania, moreover, in the opinion of these old ladies it is far preferable to teach white children than those of color. A great many children are left orphans, with no one to take care of them, and therefore they would think it would be far more charitable and commendable on the part of our young ladies to devote their selves to the instruction of the fatherless children of our departed heroes, and thereby secure to their country a number of worthy and hopeful citizens, and to themselves the thanks of every American patriot.

We leave this to the consideration of the young ladies themselves, and we shall abide by their decision in the matter, whatever it be, but we hope that they will not decide until they have considered it over carefully.

Photographs.—It is now a settled principle, founded on the teachings of experience, that it is more advantageous for a man to purchase at once a superior and durable article than to invest his money in things of an inferior quality, which have no greater recommendation than their cheapness. This maxim is now universally observed, even though the price of the better article be double that of the other. But with what more willingness will people buy a good, sound, substantial article if it be sold at the same price as that of one much inferior in style, beauty and durability. This is precisely that which our readers will find at Mr. F. L. Dabbs', No. 66 St. Clair street. Long and practical experience in the art of photography, together with an intimate, intrinsic knowledge of equaled in any part of the country, a large number of accomplished artists continually at work, and several other circumstances too numerous to mention, enable him to dispose of the most valuable articles in his line of business at prices not exceeding those of the most indifferent artists. Those who believe in the correctness of the above maxim will not fail to pay him a visit.

Fatal Accident.—On Thursday last an accident of a most distressing character occurred during the downward trip of the steamer Jim Bess, which was carrying the excursionists to the Republican demonstration at Beaver. It appears that a young man named Molly Ar, a resident of this city, and one of the excursionists, while standing on the guard of the boat, when unfortunately a gust of wind blew off his hat, and in his attempt to regain it lost his balance and fell overboard. Owing to the fact that there was no yawl on the boat it was impossible to make any efforts to rescue him, and the unfortunate young man was drowned. His body has not as yet been recovered. The deceased was a nephew of the Rev. L. A. Mellvar, formerly pastor of the Pennsylvania M. E. Church, and was a most estimable young man.

Fire on an Oil Barge.—On Thursday evening a fire broke out on a flatboat loaded with oil opposite Sharpsburg. The boat floated down the river for some distance and lodged immediately opposite the Standard Oil Work, creating the impression that the works were on fire. The flatboat, together with its contents, was totally destroyed, and the loss entailed is said to amount to the sum of $2,000. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

Those of our readers who are in want of any article in the stationery or paper line should not fail to read the advertisement of Myers, Schoyer & Co., No. 38 Fifth street. They have on hand a fine assortment of envelopes, note paper, blank books, pens, inks, pocket books, photograph albums, &c., &c. They have also an elegant assortment of gold pens, which they offer at prices correspondent with the present decline in gold.

The sale of lots at Braddock's field, advertised to come off on Monday, will be the last chance for those wishing to invest. See advertisement and remember the day. Excursion trains, as usual, will leave both depots at 1 o'clock. Seats free.

TELEGRAPHIC.

FROM OUR FIRST EDITION.

Secretary Stanton's War Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, October 6.—To Major General Dix.—In a recent dispatch it was mentioned that Sherman was taking measures to protect his communications from the rebels operating against them. Dispatches received last night show the fulfillment of this expectation. General Thomas was sent to Louisville to organize the troops in his district, and drive Forrest from our lines, while the attention of General Sherman was directed to the movements of the main rebel army in the vicinity of Atlanta.

On the 4th the rebels had captured Big Shanty, but were followed closely upby Sherman. On the 5th a severe engagement was fought by our forces under Gen. French, in which the rebels were driven from the field with heavy loss, leaving their dead and wounded in our hands. Details are given in the following, from Gen. Thomas:

NASHVILLE, October 6, 11:30 P. M.—E. M. Stanton, Secretary of War: The following telegram is just received from Chattanooga: Gen. Smith, who left here yesterday, the 5th, telegraphs that the enemy retreated last evening from Altoona, moving in the direction of Dallas, leaving his dead, and from four to six hundred wounded in our hands. Our loss was about one hundred killed and two hundred wounded. The Resaca bridge will be repaired by to-morrow, and the trains will be able to run as far as Altoona, going via Cleveland and Dalton.

Nothing further has been heard from Sherman since my dispatch of yesterday. The retreat of the enemy towards Dallas indicates that he was close on their rear near Altoona.

I have not heard from Generals Rousseau or Washburne to-day, but presume they are pushing Forrest as rapidly as the condition of the roads will admit. We have had heavy and continuous rains for the last five days, rendering the road and streams almost impassable.

I have just received the following from Gen. Granger, dated Huntsville, 6th, 10 p. m.: The courier who was reported drowned while crossing the Ela river, is in. He lost his dispatches while crossing the river. He reports that two rebels were captured, who report that Forrest, the night before, was crossing south. General Morgan's advance was skirmishing with the enemy this morning on Skive creek, he being unable to cross on account of high water. He hopes to be able to cross by to-morrow morning, when he will push them still further on. The Alabama Railroad will be repaired from here to Pulaski in one week.

(Signed)
GEO. H. THOMAS, Maj. Gen.

Disastrous Rebel Charge.

NEW YORK, October 7.—A Herald correspondent with the 10th corps writes on the 4th: There has been no change here since my last dispatch. In the vicinity of Harrison, on the right of the 18th corps, the enemy yet feel very sore, and continue skirmishing with our pickets. They seem, however, to have abandoned the idea of re-possessing this important work. The charge upon Fort Harrison, on Saturday, is acknowledged by the enemy to have been disastrous in the extreme. Two entire corps were engaged in the effort to recapture the work, but were repulsed with the loss, according to reliable reports, of over four hundred men.

This statement is grossly incorrect. We captured nearly three hundred prisoners and seven battle flags, while there are yet remaining on the ground over which the assault was made, several hundred dead bodies.

Major Mulford, United States Agent for the exchange of prisoners, arrived at Deep Bottom, this P. M., on the steamer New York, with a large load of rebel prisoners for exchange. He passed through our lines this evening to Richmond, under a flag of truce, to arrange the exchange with the rebel authorities. From twenty to thirty rebels come into our lines every day.

Supplies for Gen. Butler's Army.

NEW YORK, October 7.—A Herald's correspondent at Bermuda Hundred—the base of supplies for General Butler's army—says that the greatest and most encouraging activity prevails. The Chief Quartermaster of the Army of the James, Col. Dodge, and his assistants, are tireless in their efforts to forward the supplies for the troops, and their unparalleled success tends greatly to heighten the already elastic spirits of both officers and men.

Yesterday nothing was done in relation to the advance on Richmond, for purely military reasons, other than to perfect the details of the government, and consequently there is no news from the extreme front proper for the public to know. The weather, though rainy, and the roads muddy, cannot be said now to be unfavorable to the prosecution of hostilities. At all events, hostilities will go forward.

Affairs at Richmond.

NEW YORK, October 7.—A Herald correspondent with the cavalry on the left of our lines, writing on the 4th says: —There has been no fighting in this division since Gen. Davies gave Hampton such a whipping a few days since. We still hold the ground, and are ready at a moment's notice to renew the battle, but are waiting other movements before taking the offensive.

Richmond papers of the 4th acknowledge the loss of General Dunnavan. Our pickets are now only about fifty yards distant from the enemy, and the most kindly feelings exists all along the line. Interviews between officers are of frequent occurrence, and there is an understanding that the pickets should not fire on each other. They acknowledge a defeat on Saturday, and claim that the whole of Sheridan's corps was opposed to them.

The National Horse Fair.

PROVIDENCE R. I., October 6.—The National Horse Fair closed to-day with a trotting match for one hundred dollars premium, between the "Prince," of Hartford, and "Lady Emma," of New York. The "Prince" won in three straight heats. Time: 2:31¼, 2:30¼. The "Empress" did not start. The Fair has been very successful, and satisfactory to all parties. About ten thousand people were in attendance to-day.

Japanese War Steamer.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The Japanese war steamer "Fusilleana," of twelve guns, went to sea to-day on a trial trip. It is the first of a lot of war vessels constructed for the Tycoon.

General Averill arrived in the city to-day from the Shenandoah Valley.

Richmond Papers on Gen. Grant.

&c., &c., &c.

FORT MONROE, October, 6.—Orders have been issued to-day prohibiting civilians from passing up the James River from this point.

The Herald's Nashville dispatch of the 6th says: Deserters from Forrest and Wheeler are forming into guerilla bands.

The portion of Hood's army which crossed the Chattanooga, attacked our forces at Big Shanty on the 5th, and were routed, after tearing up a good portion of the track.

Richmond papers of the 3d and 4th claim that Early holds Sheridan in check, and Early in a dispatch to citizens of Lynchburg says if they will turn out and beat the raiders off, he would hold the main force of the enemy where they are.

The Richmond Examiner of the 4th says: A Union cavalry force was 14 miles from Gordonsville, marching on that place. General Lee on the 1st reports the repulse of our forces in East Tennessee, near Jonesboro.

Herald's Tenth Corps correspondent says: No hostilities whatever are going on in their front. Rebel dead in front of Fort Harrison still lie unburied. Rebels firing on our men when they went out to bury them. Rebel loss in assaults on Saturday admitted to be 4,000.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Ewell is said to be in command of the defences of Richmond, Lee having gone back to Petersburg.

Richmond papers acknowledge a steady advance of Union armies on both sides of the James river. They discuss Grant's movements with great anxiety.

Jeff Davis in his speech at Macon made a begging appeal to the Georgians to fill up the army, saying that two-thirds of the rebel army were absent without leave. He said he could not send troops from Virginia to Georgia, because they were as scarce in the former State as in the latter. He had been asked why Early was not sent to Georgia instead of the Shenandoah valley. He said it was because Lynchburg was threatened. What would prevent the Union troops, if Early was removed, from taking Lynchburg and putting a complete cordon around Richmond?

The Herald's Martinsburg correspondent of th 6th inst., says it is reported there that Hampton's legion had destroyed the bridge over Stony creek at Edenburg.

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The Richmond Examiner of the 4th, in a long review of the recent advance upon that city by Grant, on the north side of the James, evinces the greatest anxiety concerning the situation, and bewails the loss of battery at Harrison's works, captured by our forces and held afterwards against several desperate assaults by the rebels, in which their losses were heavy. It concludes as follows:

Let troops be brought to Virginia without delay, from any where, for Virginia is the pillar of the Confederacy. At present the lines are secure, but their safety cannot be fairly left to Lee's present army which has too great a load on it already.

The Richmond Examiner of the 4th, says, the steamer Candor was run on on Saturday and boached off Wilmington to escape capture. Mrs. Rose Greenhow, a passenger, is said to have been drowned. Hon. J. P. Holcomb was also a passenger and escaped.

WASHINGTON, October 7.—The intelligence from the Army of the Potomac to-day is that unusual quiet prevailed during Wednesday night. Yesterday morning, our forces on the south side were within sound and sight of the railroad, and in a strong position, capable it is said of resisting any rebel assault. It appears that the rebels are not using that railroad to any extent.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The Post's Atlanta has the following as this version of Georgia peace proposals. The armed foot has pressed heavily upon the people. They feel the iron hand of Sherman grasping and holding their very life, and I am sure with envied consciousness of the horrors of the past and dread forebodings of the future, that they are ready for peace on almost any terms.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The Steamer Evening Star, from New Orleans of the 1st has just arrived. The Era from Baton Rouge correspondent details operations of the expedition on the Atchafalaya already referred to, confirming the reported success of Union arms.
