MEDICAL.

THE GREAT INDIAN MEDICINE,

ROOTS, BARKS, & LEAVES.

CHEROKEE CURE!

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all diseases caused by self-pollution; such as Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficulty of Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the Direful complaints, caused by departing from the path of nature.

This medicine is a simple vegetable extract; and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

To those who have trifled with their constitution, until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed.

Price, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5, and forwarded by Express to all parts of the world.

GLAD NEWS FOR THE UNFORTUNATES!
THE LONG SOUGHT FOR DISCOVERED AT LAST!
Cures in from one to three days.

CHEROKEE REMEDY,
AND
CHEROKEE INJECTION

Compounded from Roots, Barks and Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times a day.

It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

By the use of the Cherokee Remedy and Cherokee Injection—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

Price Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Price Cherokee Injection, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Sent by Express to any address on receipt of price.

The Cherokee Remedy, Cherokee Injection, and Cherokee Cure, are sold by all enterprising Druggists in the civilized world. Some unprincipled dealers, however, try to sell worthless compounds in place of these; those which they can purchase at a cheap price, and make more money by selling, than they can on these medicines. As you value your health, aye, the health of your future offspring, do not be deceived by such unprincipled Druggists, ask for these medicines, and take no others. If the Druggists will not buy them for you, enclose the money in a letter, and we will send them to you by Express, securely sealed and packed free from observation.

Ladies or Gentlemen can address us in perfect confidence, stating fully and plainly their diseases and symptoms, as we treat all diseases of a chronic nature in male or female. Patients need not hesitate because of their inability to visit us, as we have treated patients successfully in all portions of the civilized globe, by correspondence.

Patients addressing us will please state plainly all the symptoms of their complaints, and write Post Office, County, State, and name of writer, plain, and inclose postage stamp for reply.

We send our 32 page Pamphlet free to any address. Address all letters for Pamphlet or advice to the proprietors,

MANHOOD,
THIRD EDITION, FIFTY THOUSAND, 96 pages, cloth covers, by Robert E. Bell, M. D.,
Member of the royal College of Surgeons, London, addressed to youth, the married and those CONTEMPLATING MARRIAGE.

Sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of ten cents. A careful perusal of this small book has been a boon to the afflicted, and has saved thousands from a life of misery and an untimely grave. It treats on the evils of Youthful Indiscretion, Self-Abuse, Seminal weakness, Emissions, Sexual Diseases, Genital Debility, Loss of Power, Nervousness, Premature Decay, Impotence, &c., &c., which unfit the sufferer from fulfilling the OBLIGATIONS OF MARRIAGE, and illustrates the means of cure by the use of

and other treatment necessary in some cases, and which never fails to cure, and can be relied on. They do not nauseate the stomach, or render the breath offensive, and they can be USED WITHOUT DETECTION.

They do not interfere with business pursuits, and are speedy in action. No change of diet is necessary. They are warranted in all cases to be effectual in removing and curing the disease. Upwards of two thousand cases are on record that have been cured by using BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS, and certificates can be shown from many that have used them.

No Case of Failure Occurs.
Upwards of a Hundred Physicians use them extensively in their practice, and they cannot effect cures without them.

IMPORTANT NOTICE,
BELL'S SPECIFIC PILLS
Are the original and only genuine Specific Pills. There are a host of imitators—BEWARE OF THEM.

These are Warranted.
They are adapted for male or female, old or young, and are the only reliable remedy known for the cure of all diseases arising from
YOUTHFUL INDISCRETION.
In all Sexual Diseases, as Gonorrhea, Stricture, Gleet, and in all Urinary and Kidney complaints,

They Act Like a Charm!
Relief is experienced by taking a single box, and from four to six boxes generally effect a cure.

Sold by Druggists generally, in boxes containing six pills, price $1 or six boxes, $5; also in large boxes, containing four of the small, price $3.

If you need the Book, or the Pills, cut out this advertisement for reference; and if you cannot procure them of your druggist, do not be imposed upon by any other remedy, but enclose the money in a letter to the proprietor,
DR. J. BRYAN, BOX 5079,
76 Ceder Street, N. Y.
who will take all risk if properly directed, and will send the Pills, secured from observation, by return mail, post Paid.
SOLD BY DRUGGISTS GENERALLY.

NOTICE TO ALL CONCERNED.—Among a certain class of self-important people there is a peculiar feeling of contempt attached to all physicians that advertise and treat the diseases named in this card, (PRIVATE DISEASES,) why this should be, they nor no one else can tell. Are they not aware that all physicians treat diseases of every denomination, in fact solicit just the very diseases that are so obnoxious to these very refined parties. I suppose they would not let one of their family go to a party that has devoted years for their benefit, because he advertises the fact, and their family physician says he is a humbug so he can get the case. Often he has almost deprived the party of his life. He comes at last to the physician that advertises—how else are they to know? Are they not aware that Sir Astley Cooper, Sir Benjamin Brodie, Sir Charles Ball and M. Paul Ricord devoted years in the treatment of these diseases? These men are held up as shining lights in the medical world. I don't assert that all men are worthy that publish, still there are a great number of them that are. I have devoted myself to the study and treatment of PRIVATE DISEASES upwards of 10 years, and without egotism can say I have saved hundreds from years of misery and untimely death. My treatment is confined to the vegetable altogether, as I think it is the best and most certain. It is in my power to bring hundreds of certificates if I thought it necessary to certify to my general success: but my long residence in this city is sufficient proof without adding more. Spermatorrhea and all diseases arising from it are cured in a much shorter time than heretofore. It behooves every young man and woman to be careful in selecting a physician. The different advertisements that are seen in our papers are of no worth, and no benefit will arise from answers than only loss of health and money. Hundreds are cured annually by my new remedies. TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS
THE BRADBURY PIANO FORTE RECEIVED
SEVEN FIRST PREMIUMS

Two Gold Medals and one Silver Medal.
STRONG INDORSEMENT
Of the Most Eminent Pianists.

The most eminent of the musical profession of New York city, after frequent and thorough trials of my New Scale Piano Fortes, have given me the most emphatic and unqualified testimonials. The following is a specimen of the voluntary testimony I am constantly receiving from gentlemen entirely disinterested, and as all will acknowledge most thoroughly qualified to judge of the merits of a Piano Forte.

"We have examined with much care, Mr. WM B. BRADBURY'S NEW SCALE PIANO FORTES, and it is our opinion that, in power, purity, richness, quality of tone, and thorough workmanship Mr. Bradbury's instruments excel. We find great brilliancy and a beautiful singing quality of tone most happily blended. We have rarely seen a square Piano Forte combining so many of these qualities essential to a perfect instrument." Signed,

GEO. W. SMITH'S FARM FOR SALE.

I HAVE HAD MY WADDINGTON Estate surveyed and divided into seven parcels to suit purchasers, and will offer the same for sale at Public Auction on Monday, October the 24th, 1864.

All that portion lying west of the Bethany Pike, I will offer in five different tracts; the first containing 18 acres, with a good substantial dwelling, spring and milk house. The second tract contains about 17 acres, and the third about 15 acres, the remainder, bordering on Wood's Run, is divided into two tracts of 15 and 20 acres, with a good tenant house on each. All in grass and clover and well calculated for Dairy Farms.

That portion lying on the east side of the Pike I have divided into two parcels, one part of about 170 acres on which is a neat, substantial brick dwelling formerly occupied by Mr. John Marshall. Three good tenant houses, the rents of which will pay the taxes. Large barn, stable and sheep houses, and full grown thrifty bearing Apple and Virginia Crab trees. This part of the estate will make a magnificent farm.

I will also part with my Homestead, the large beautiful mansion, 50 by 75 feet, with all modern conveniences, surrounded with shrubbery and trees; also a large orchard of choice fruit, with about 130 acres of land.

An extensive barn with stone basement, divided into stabling for 15 horses, and stalls for 40 cattle, with cellars bins, mows and everything in the highest requisition of a farm. It stands in a brick yard of 175 feet square, surrounded by brick sheds for cattle and sheep; also, a blacksmith's shop and slaughter house. There is also on this Homestead tract a good tenant house.

The Farm is known to be best improved and most highly cultivated in this part of the country, being situated on the Bethany Pike, four miles from Wheeling, most beautiful and fertile rolling hill land, well watered with never failing springs; situated in a neighborhood of wealthy and highly respectable people.

For terms of purchase with a "plan" of the Farm, showing the divisions above mentioned, together with all particulars, apply on the premises or at my Brewery office, or to N. Richardson, esq., of Wheeling.

STOCK AND FARM IMPLEMENTS.—On the following day after the sale of the Farm, Tuesday, the 25th day of October, 1864, I will dispose of my Horses, Cattle, Sheep and Hogs, and farming implements.

Speech of Hon. C. R. Buckalew, At Bloomfield, September 30, 1864.

Fellow Citizens of my Native Country:

In the month of August, 1861, three years ago, and shortly after the outbreak of the war, I returned home from a foreign country. I had resided for some time in one of the Spanish American Republics, where from the frequent recurrence of revolutions, rights of property and person are insecure, and great social as well as political evils have a chronic existence. And it had been my pride, while absent, to contrast the condition of those countries with our own—the success of free institutions here with their failure there—and to draw a conclusion there from highly favorable to our countrymen.

I landed at the port of New York, the chief city of the State of which William H. Seward is a citizen, and the commercial metropolis of the United States. And I found my countrymen engaged in civil war; found that they had forgotten the instruction so impressively given them by Washington and Jackson against sectionalism and sectional parties, that they had followed the evil example of the turbulent and degraded countries within and beyond the tropics and had put in peril the existence of their freedom and prosperity by a resort to battle and to war for the solution of their internal disputes.

For my feelings on that occasion, I have no adequate language, nor would I recall them to mind except for an instructive purpose. Becoming acquainted with the condition of public affairs—casting an anxious glance over the entire country as it presented itself to my observation—I felt, as doubtless you felt at that time, deeply troubled and humiliated. The storm, long foretold as the result of sectional agitation, had come in all its fury and power, stoutest hearts quailed; and the statesman whose business it is to take a wide view of affairs and to relieve himself from the vexations of the moment by contemplating those general laws which control the consequences of particular events, was, equally with others, unable to comprehend the extent or duration of the great conflict.

The first battle of Bull Run had just been fought and lost, and the President had been obliged to call to his aid the patriot chieftain who had rescued West Virginia from the grasp of secession, and commit to him the defence of the Capital and the reorganization of the army. It was a time of much gloom and despondency, and well calculated to awaken anxious thoughts in one who came freshly to the scene, with personal interests as a citizen in the course and character of public events.

But among all the thoughts which then found lodgement in my mind, those awakened by accounts of arbitrary arrests in the Northern States were most painful. Ordered by public authority they were sustained by the party of the administration throughout the country, and most absurd, frivolous and impudent reasons were held sufficient for their vindication. That these arrests should take place in known violation of the laws and be sustained and even applauded by many, was fearful evidene of our unfitness for self government. It was also proof of a danger, quite new to us and so incredible that it has not even yet been received as real by many sincere men among the friends of power—the danger of a permanent loss of liberty by our people and a change, ultimately, in their form of government.

Yes! I was forced to admit the unwelcome fact that I, in common with my fellow citizens, held all my political rights and particularly the right of personal liberty, not under the established laws of the land, but—subject to a telegraphic dispatch from Simon Cameron.

This was the condition to which American freemen were degraded at that time, when I found Abraham Lincoln President, William H. Seward Secretary of State (with his convenient bell at hand,) and Simon Cameron Secretary of War—found these men filling places that had been filled by Washington, by Madison, by Monroe and by many worthies of whose names an honorable record will be held by history forever.

Nor could I avoid reflecting that a little way north, beyond the limits of the free United States and under the sovereignty of the British Queen, there obtained as there has long obtained through out the British empire, the absolute and unquestioned dominion of law. In fact Lord Palmerston then, as now, first Minister of the Crown, could not have issued an order for the arrest of the humblest subject in the British dominions, or directed resistance to a writ of habeas corpus issuing from any Court, colonial or imperial, without being forthwith hurled from power and having his proud name stamped with enduring infamy and disgrace.

Such was the contrast presented between the Administration of Government in this country and its administration under a monarchial power. In the one case a rule of law, and in the other case a rule of men. In the one, security of private rights and prompt punishment for their invasion; in the other, insecurity of those rights and to their invader impunity. The contrast was one of humiliation to an American, but that contrast yet exists. It has not disappeared. On the contrary its lines and shadows have steadily grown deeper and more strongly marked to this day.

Gentlemen: I made up my mind, at the time referred to, upon this whole business, and my conclusion was, that I would submit to a system of arbitrary government in this country. I would submit to hold my rights as a citizen of the United States subject to the mere pleasure of power, only so long as I could not prevent it, and that at the earliest possible moment I would unite with those of my fellow countrymen who should be like minded with myself to rescue our Government from the control of arbitrary principles and restore it to its former course of just administration.

That time has now come, and for this among other reasons, I stand before you to-night an earnest advocate of the election of General McClellan as President of the United States. But it will be most convenient to present this great question of the liberty of the citizen in connection with other questions involved in the election; thus obtaining completeness of view and certainty of conviction, upon the whole issue before us.

Now what do we desire? What are the capital or chief objects upon which our attention may be fixed at this time? Let us get a little outside the circle of passion about us, away from the petty debates which fill our ears as we pass to and fro in our daily walks and in our daily associations. Conceive, gentlemen, a man crossing a dangerous stream upon a narrow footway which oscillates beneath him. He is troubled of heart, for dangers encompass him, destruction yawns at his feet. He hesitates in bewilderment, unable to proceed and scarcely able to stand. He sways to either hand and is almost lost! But in that moment of extreme peril let him lift his eyes from the dangers which surround him, and place them upon some conspicuous, permanent, fixed object a little way off upon the shore, and what is the result? Why there comes firmness to his footsteps and courage to his heart, his nerves are braced again to manly exertion, and he passes on in safety over the tossed and turbulent waters. Firm land is soon reached and danger left behind him.

The terror of an earthquake—the greatest of physical commotions known to us, reaches its highest point when we come to observe the instability of all objects within the range of vision; not merely those upon the surface of the earth but the earth itself. For nothing escapes the power of the earth storm, which moves forward with universal effect and irresistibly in its course of destruction.

Now, gentlemen, in our present situation of great embarrassment and peril, when we are bewildered and alarmed by what is occurring around us, when it appears impossible to go back and unsafe to go forward, and our hearts are troubled and almost fail us, fortunately there are objects upon which we can look and gain composure and confidence from their contemplation. In considering them, and proceeding toward them, we may feel thoroughly assured that a safe and plain path will open before us in which we need but walk to insure our speedy deliverance from danger.

Let us withhold our eyes from objects on either hand which would divert our attention and hinder or prevent us from securing our national salvation at the earliest possible moment. Let us fix our eyes upon Union, Liberty and Peace, as our capital objects and the things to be attained to; not at the end of long wars, not by byroads of emancipation, not by plundering hostile populations, not by an iron rule of lawless power under plea of necessity, nor by the aid nor upon the policy of fanatics and selfish and brutal men; but directly, speedily, honestly, by the union of just men upon a policy at once sure, sensible and magnanimous.

Turn yourselves wholly away from these miserable disputes about "loyalty," about what your neighbor shall be called and what he shall call you, and look to those great objects which I have mentioned and to the appropriate means for securing them. They are the capital objects of desire for which the hearts of the people should yearn, and to attain them—not one, but all of them—every man's arm should be lifted and every man's mouth opened.

Now what is proposed in the election of Gen. George B. McClellan and in the elevation to power along with him of the organization or party with which he is identified? We desire to obtain the very objects just named, which combine everything of excellence and of blessing which the public heart at this time can desire.

In the first place, by Gen. McClellan's election we seek to restore the Union which was broken in consequence of the elevation of the existing Administration to power. That Administration has failed to restore the Union; its true character and incapacity have now become known to us, and the time to pronounce judgment of condemnation upon it has arrived. Observe no objection can now be made to those who criticise Mr. Lincoln and oppose him before the people, upon the ground urged two or three years since when we were told that power being actually lodged in his hands, he being the actual depositary of the public authority, he was fairly and reasonably entitled to the support of the people; that we ought to unite together, to some extent to ignore party at least so far as would enable the Administration to possess the necessary means and influence to execute its policy and to exhibit its merits before the country. But the requirements of that argument were fully met. Consider the course of the people of the United States, including most of the Opposition, toward Mr. Lincoln's administration. Did they not give to it all the aid, all the assistance that could be required for a fair trial of its policy? Were men withheld from the armies controlled by it? Was money withheld from the public treasury or appropriations of that money refused? Was there resistance even to taxation to raise moneys for public use beyond the enormous sums raised by the negotiation of loans? No Gentlemen, men were not withheld from the Administration, nor was money withheld. Nay, in the earlier periods of the war men went willingly to the conflict. They took their lives in their hands and shouting to the music of the Union they advanced to support a cause which had charms for them and which they believed would be prosecuted in good faith in accordance with the policy announced in the outset and upon which the war was begun—a policy adopted by Congress, endorsed by the Administration, and accepted by the American people and by foreign nations as the policy of this government in the great social struggle which had broken out among us. Mr. Lincoln and his party have had a fair trial. They have had, if ever any Administration had, a fair, full and complete trial before the Country with reference to the merits of their policy in restoring the Union, in bringing back to us the blessings of peace, and in securing to us and to those who may come after us that constitutional system
