PITTEBURGH TUESDAY MORNING NOV.

POR PRESIDENT GEORGE B. MCCLELLAN: OF NEW JESSEY. FOR VICE PRESIDENT: GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

OF OHIO. MORE OF LINCOLN'S HONESTY Instead of Mr. Lincoln using the lives and treasure of the people to suppress Southern treason, he has, for more than two rears, been using them to prolon hostilities; in order to secure for himself a continuance of power. For this pur pole his emancipation and confiscation proclamations were issued, knowing that they would more thoroughly unite and intensity the enemy. Next came the creation of West Vilginia, an act clearly and undeniably unconstitutional The lone-tenth! edict followed. which enth, this villany was, of course, intended at a means to control the electoral votes of the States in rebellion in favor which every one not disposed to vote for him and Lincoln, will be disfranchised: and when a portion of the loyal citizens of that State appealed to Lincoln to rescind or modify Johnston's action, the former answered them by saying he intended to "manage the election in his own way;" and, so the State of Tennesseet declared by Congress to be in rebellion and not in the Union is to be forced by military power and test oaths to cast her electoral vote for the psurper at Washington. What is true of Tennessee is also true of Maryland, Missouri, Kentucky, Louisians and Delaware; test oaths and bayonets are expected to carry them for the prolongation of the sway of Lincoln.

But by far the greatest infamy yet perpetrated by Lincoln and his hirelings, is that in relation to the New York soldiers' vote. A week or more ago it was announced that the soldiers from the Empire State were nearly unanimously for McClellan, and the publication of the vote of a few regiments went to confirm the report. For instance, the New York 69th, voted all but one for McClellan. The Second Corps voted 1,680 Democratic to 281 Abolition, while the Tenth Corps voted two-thirds, for that the soldiers votes from New York,

THE CRISIS AT HAND! On Tuesday next, the 8th of November, a criais in our National history will occur, greater, by inf than any our country has ever a perienced. An alection is to be held no that day so important in its results, that all former public events—all officontentions, all military achievements or reverses that this nation has yet known, must sink into blank insignificance when compared with the terrible ordeal which we are about to undergo. a faction which asks not only a new lease of dominion thus fortuitously, obthrow the written Constitution and organized laws of the Nation. On the other side is a party as old as the Union is, who are struggling to maintain that Union, and the laws made under its benign and magnificent sway. Such is the issue to be tried on the 8th of November, broadly stated. Let this city. us come down to naked: definite facts The Republicans came into nower four years ago their previous conduct and avowed purposes initiated war and disunion—and they soon obtained their un-holy desires. War was commenced against the Union, but they have ceased to wage war for the Union, and they places hine-tenths of the people of a demand that all the people shall join stake under the control of the other with them to carry on the war for purposes outside the Union and the Constitution, and ignoring both. And while written laws and solemn compacts are of its inventor. Next came the test to be set at using it, prejudices as old as daths of Johnston, of Tennessee, y the world and as atrong as Death, are the world, and as strong as Death, are to be overthrown at one crushing blow. We are required not only to free the Southern negro instantly, and in despite of law, but to recognize him as our social and political equal, before the war shall cease.

The Democrats decline to do these things. They are willing to continue the war to restore the Union and in behalf of the Constitution, but not for any new idea, nor for any purpose unwarranted by law. A leading Republican, Thaddeus Stevens, who has the full and repeated approval of his party, declares that he is "sick of the Constitution!" Another Republicans of equal standing, says, "when you hear a man whining about the Constitution and the Union as si was, SPOT HIM FOR A TRAITOR!" Starting out with these sentiments is s not wonderful that the Republicans should seek lawless ends by lawless means. Therefore is that they are striving to destroy the freedom of the Press, of Speech, and of Elections. therefore it is that armed soldiers are marched to the polls in peaceful precincts to overswe the voters—therefore it is that the soldiers themselves who will not shocking and unlawful oaths are tender. were bound to carry that great State for en to lawful voters therefore threats of
