We do not think those gentlemen have done their duty to the public, as these petty catch-pennies still fourish in defiance of deep mud, ruts and holes. These roads are and will be worse this winter than the last. The residents and travelers passing over the Brownsville road complain that it is all but impassable and worse than any township road; still they attempt to collect toll. How long will our courts and juries tolerate these pests to afflict the community? Any one who has traveled over these roads of late will easily be induced to concur with this gentleman in the opinion he entertains concerning them. They are in a miscrable condition in some places next to impassable. We hope that proper attention will be given to this mportant matter. Although it may not be of much interest to us who live in the city in what condition these roads may be found, or whether th e travelling public is compelled to pay toll or not, still it is a matter of great importance to "those who are obliged to submit to those grievances. Again, we say, we hope the matter will be properly sitended to.

The Western Pennsylvania Oil Com pany .-- We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this company which will be seen in another column. This company offers the greatest inducements to judicious capitalists, and its distinguishing features are most inviting to those who desire to make in-vestments, and its stock has already received a popularity which speaks well for its intrinsic worth. They have a capital stock of $450,000 and 150,000 shares at $3,00 each. They have two producing wells yielding nearly one hundred barrels per day, and the present receipts from these wells alone enables the company to pay a remunerative dividend on the whole cap tal stock from the very start; nevertheless a working capital of $20,000 will be reserved as a contingent fund. Gentlemen of thorough business experience and ability are now superintending the interests of the company, and it is expected that it will soon be one of the most popular petroleum companies in Western Pennsylvania. Dr. Geo. H. Keyser .- This gentleman, wc learn, has been in Philadelphia for several week s attending instructions on some special pranches of medicine connected with his business. The Doctor is one of those who believes that a man is never too old to learn, and is, even at his time of life, making use of the ieans necessary to acquire the knowledge to an effectual mastery over those diseases he has been in the constant habit of treating. The Docfor has, for more than a dozen of years, been one of the most successful in the application of frusses and other mechanical appliances used in that kind of maltonformations in which those appliances are indicated, and has more recently been taking special lectures on auscultation and percussion, with the view of applying them to such as may need his services. We he will be home on Monday next. In the mean-
