and the second THE POST---PITTSBURGH, FRIDAY MORNING. DECEMBER 16, 1864. Bred Atims' Melodeon.—The ropular and competito Fred Atims will take a: benefit at the Melodeon to-night. A splendid and inviting programme is offered for the occasion, and an unusually large attendance is anticipated. Be-sides the usual programme, several new perform-ances will be gotten up especially for this even-ing, and Mr. Aims' has made every necessary preparation to give his friends a grand treat. The accompliated comedian of the Theatre, Mr. J. O. Setton, has voluntered his services for the occasion, and will appear in a laughable farce. The colobrated star as 'cre, Misses Millie and Clara Fowler, a ill likewise he present, and perform some of their wonderful feats in the ballet. The great contortionist, Don Santiago Gibbonoise, will aiso perform some of his ter-rifie feats, in the execution of which he actually dialocates all his joints. Misses Julia Price and Ellen Collene, who are unequalled as taladists and danseuses, will greatly add to the entertain-ment. A large number of ther celebrated per-formers have been engaged, and a splendid en-tertainment is offered. TELEGRAPHIC. Federal Raid in Louisians, LATEST BY TELEGRAPH IMPORTANT INFORMATION.
