was the man who was willing to go back to live with him after this war. "I know a meaner one than either; it is the furious advocate of Secession, the min ute man who wore a cockade, who insulted others because they were not as ready to plunge the country into war as he was, who promised that he and those who thought with him would do all the fighting, and who yet keeps out of the way, or hides away in safe places, and leaves other and better men to bear the brunt of the conflict. The meanest Yankee on Cape Cod is a perfect hero com-

It is easily seen from this that Cobb doesn't relish the idea of the original se essionists—the men who insisted upon Southern independence-dodging the sacrifices which their teachings helped to bring upon their country. Gen. Cobb is like hundreds of thousands of others in the South, who are heartily sick of a Housand feeting. to bring upon their country. Gen. Cobb wasting conflict which they

The fire-eaters of the South have been to that section, what the leading Abolition fanatics have been to the North; by their joint efforts they olunged the country in war, but neither of them have stomach for the fight. We do not remember a single leading original Abolitionist who entered the service at the commencement of the war, except Senstor Wilson of Massachusetts. He raised a regiment, but it was more for display and ornament than anything else. Like many of his class, he was thoroughly convinced that "the South wouldn't fight," but by the time he got to Baltimore he changed his mind, and so resigned his commission. Prior to this, however, rejoicing in the conviction that the Southern ragamuffins were not game, Wilson was seemingly the very impersonation of that lofty gallantry, which braves all danger, and seeksthe "bubble, reputation even at the cannon's mouth." He strutted in more gold lace and buttons, and luxuriated in longer feathers and until the last armed rebel expired. But, several other witnesses who were presas w :- have said, he, like his class of Northern agitators, and their antipodes in exception exc agitation have brought upon the country. An Eye on the Main Chance. The Richmond Sentinel, alluding to the proceedings of the rebel House of Representatives, says: "The House on yesterday passed, in a sum mary madner, a bill increasing their salaries fifty per cent. In connection with this fact it is a little remarkable that the gentleman who particularly fathered this measure, moving the postponement of the currency bill in order to allow its introduction, and afterwards advocating its; passage in a speech of some length, should immediately; afterwards vote agains the introduction of a mere resolution of inquiry as to the expediency of increasing the President's salary, which still remains at the rates established before the war, while his own, which he so liberally proposed to augment, has, here tofore, been largely increased. A Coachman Charged with Bigamy and Grand Larceny. Robert Thompson, a coachman, was nested some days ago by Detective nett on a charge of grand larceny, in st aling a trunk containing a quantity of clothing, etc., valued at $150, from his employer, Mr. Philip Van Valkenburgh of Tubby Hook. To this charge the accused pleaded guilty, and he was committed to the Tombs for trial, refusing ball. Yesterday afternoon two very respectable appearing women appeared before Justice Hogan at the Tombs, and preferred a charge of bigamy against him. The affidavits sworn to by the complainants show that on the 26th of December, 1857, the accused was married to Miss Margaret Desmond, at top boots, than a vain Fourth of July militia General ever sported; and he talked too most valorous y of striking St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church, at Williamshurgh. Thompson pleaded guilty of the bigamy, and Justic Hogan committed him for trial, bail being refused. It is said that there are several other women whom Thompson has married illegally. -New York News

> The Triumph of the Republiban Party and its Defeat. It is in accordance with the philosophy of things that when a party is elevated to power for the accomplishment of great ends and fails, it will be swept out of existence. The Republican party torious triumph will assuredly prove its lefeat. The first four years of rule left the rebellion unsuppressed, and the peo-ple expect that the war will be closed within the first twelve months of its second term. If it is not—but if on the other hand, a weak and hesitating policy should insure four years more of internecine warfare—the party will be swept off the earth with a howl of general execration.
