PROSPECTUS For publishing a Daily Paper in the City of Pittsburg. DAILY MORNING POST.

The subscribers having made arrangements to merge the American Manufacturer and Pittsburg Mercantile into one journal, have concluded to publish a daily paper with the title of the Daily Morning Post.

The leading object of the "Post" will be the dissemination and defence of the political principles that have been maintained by the Editors, in their respective papers, and their best efforts will still be directed to the advancement and success of those doctrines.

Although, in politics, the paper will be thoroughly democratic, it will nevertheless give a honest, candid history of passing political events. Foreign and Domestic Intelligence, and brief notices of all matters and occurrences that come properly within the sphere of a Public Journal, to make their paper sufficiently interesting to enable it to the patronage of the public, it respects its political convictions.

In addition to the political and general news that will be furnished by the editorial staff, the Editor will take pains to furnish the business community with the latest and most interesting Commercial Intelligence, as well as all the news of the day.

Such accounts of the Markets for the East, and such other information, as will be deemed to be of service to the community, will be given in the most judicious manner, and in the most interesting form.

Advertisements will be inserted at the lowest rates charged by the other daily papers of the city.

THE LITERARY POST. Robespierre. At this time, Robespierre was a spectacle of absorbing and awful interest.

At this time, Robespierre was a spectacle of absorbing and awful interest. His constitution, always sickly, was sinking fast under his vigilance and his terror.

His face became livid, his eyes streaked with blood. Hour after hour anonymous letters threatened him with the hand of an assassin.

Men, insignificant, white Danton lived, took the strength of dragons from the blood of that awful head. He reigned by his hold over the club of the Jacobins.

He was subject for female enthusiasm; his every ally follows power and will. His every enemy is something, too, of mystery in this austere being; young in years, with the hoary cunning and hard heart of age.
